Party Raided, 2 Bank Robber Suspects Held

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—FBI agents invaded a lavish home Tuesday night, interrupted what they said was a marijuana party and arrested two men sought in connection with a $57,000 bank robbery in St. Paul, Minn.

Arrested at the home they had leased—complete with swimming pool—were James K. Cognetta and Richard L. Booton, both 22.

The FBI said Ronald B. Engel, 19, was arrested simultaneously in St. Paul.

A warrant issued in St. Paul alleges Cognetta, Booton and Engel entered the Cherokee State Bank last July dressed as painters. The FBI gave this account:

The trio moved into the bank along with the first-arriving employe at 7:30 a.m. They then held each succeeding employe captive until 8:10 a.m., at which time they cleared out the vault and night deposit chute of at least $57,000.

Flee in Stolen Truck

The participants made their getaway in a stolen panel truck, later found abandoned four blocks from the bank.

Agents said Cognetta and Booton had several guests, all of whom were booked at the Los Angeles County Jail on narcotics charges. Included was Kathleen Cunningham Smith, 2[illegible], who officers said accompanied Cognetta and Booton from St. Paul and is wanted there on bogus check charges.

Also arrested were Janet F. Bury, 19, North Hollywood; Rene Cameron Gloor, 21, Woodland Hills, Calif.; and Robert W. Coleman, 2[illegible]. The FBI said Coleman also made the trip West with Cognetta, Booton and Mrs. Smith.

Ethiopia Revolt Report in London

LONDON (AP) — An effort to take over the government in Ethiopia was reported today in a message picked up by British radio amateurs.

Emperor Haile Selassie is away from the country where he has ruled 30 years. He is now in Brazil after visits to Liberia and Togoland.

The British foreign office said the situation in Addis Ababa, the capital, seems confused. It had no reports of damage to Britons or their property.

The foreign office received one report that the Ethiopian crown prince, Asfa Wossen, had broadcast an appeal to the nation.

Q. J. Hills, a radio amateur in Kent, reported he picked up a voice broadcast "from the general direction of Ethiopia" saying the crown prince was a captive in the hands of a police bodyguard. The broadcaster did not identify himself.

Moslems Jeer at French Troops in New Algiers Riots

Promise Fight to End; Cheer Arrival of American Newsmen

ALGIERS (AP) — A mob of some 5,000 roared through the lower reaches of the casbah, Moslem quarter today shouting Nationalist rebel slogans and taunting French troops guarding entrances to the native city.

Swarms of Moslems went through the twisted streets shouting "Abbas to Power"—Rebel Premier Ferhat Abbas—and "Algerie Muselmane" (Moslem Algeria).

Riot police and troops stood tensely, guns and grenade mortars ready to fire.

Detachments of soldiers ringed the ancient quarter.

A crowd of Moslems greeted Associated Press staff members Andrew Borowiec and David Mason, when the two entered the casbah. They raised Mason's arms over his head and cheered him when told he was an American newsman.

"This is the insurrection," Moslems shouted. "We are fighting to the end."

Arab women shrilled their wild "you-you-you" cry from rooftops and balconies, urging their men on in the ancient and traditional war cry of the Moslem world.

Other Moslems told Borowiec and Mason that troops "killed and wounded many" during disturbances during the night. French officials said shots were fired but that there were no deaths.

Stores Looted

It was one of the widest demonstrations ever to rock the casbah. It centered around the Jewish synagogue which was looted Monday. Some Moslems began looting stores and the crowds swayed back and forth in emotional abandon.

2 Records Broken

10,000-Mile Nonstop Flight by Jet Bomber

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A U.S. Air Force B52G jet bomber landed today after a 10,000-mile nonstop flight without refueling, breaking two world long distance flight records, the air force announced.

The 8-engine jet Boeing bomber was aloft 19 hours 45 minutes after taking off at 7:07 a.m. yesterday from the runway on which it landed.

It was flown by a crew from the 5th Bombardment Wing at Travis AFB, Calif., on a closed circuit course to El Paso, Tex.; Andrews AFB, Md.; Harmon Air Base, Newfoundland; Eielson AFB, Fairbanks, Alaska; Philip, S. C., and back here.

Lt. Col. Thomas R. Grissom, 3[illegible], Rapid City, S. D., commanded the plane and a seven-man crew on the historic flight, a mission of the strategic air command's combat ready alert forces.

Earlier Records

The air force said previous closed circuit distance records were 8,854 miles, set by a B29 [illegible] bomber from McDill AFB, Tampa, Fla., in August 1947 and 6,233 miles flown by a [illegible] B52D from Ellsworth AFB, Rapid City, S. D., in September 1958.

The swept wing B52G [illegible] accomplishment weighed 488,000 pounds gross at takeoff. It is 156 feet [illegible] the 2nd Bomb Squadron at Travis, a component of the 15th air force commanded by Lt. Gen. Archie J. Old Jr., whose headquarters is at March AFB, Riverside, Calif.

Gen. Old said the flight is further evidence of the strategic air command's global capability.

28 Missing in Tanker Collision

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Two tankers collided and exploded into flames with a [illegible] roar today in the Bosporus. Twenty-eight crewmen were unaccounted for.

[illegible] saved their lives by jumping from the flaming [illegible] and swimming ashore. [illegible] men, some badly burned, were rescued. Captains of both ships were missing.

The ships were a Greek tanker, the [illegible]-ton World Harmony, and a Yugoslav tanker, the [illegible]-ton Peter Zoranich.

A Peter Zoranich crewman said she carried 13,000 tons of oil and 10,000 tons of kerosene.

An empty passenger ship [illegible] nearby, the [illegible] Tarsus, was set afire by the explosion. [illegible] two miles [illegible] with the ships [illegible] flames. Houses on the nearby shore were evacuated.

Mississippi Man Freed From Sand In Cistern After Nearly 24 Hours

Long Ordeal Ended

HOLLY SPRINGS, Miss. (AP)— Rescue workers looped two ropes around a trapped man today and pulled him free from the red, wet sand of a cistern in which he had been trapped for almost 24 hours.

Weak but calm throughout his ordeal, Harry Miller, 44-year-old Negro, was hauled out of the 20-foot cistern by crews of workers who had worked since noon yesterday to free him.

Miller, who helped direct his own rescue, was conscious and in good spirits when he emerged from the cistern. He was put in an ambulance and taken to a hospital.

Work in Crews of 10

The rescue workers, both whites and Negroes, took turns in crews of 10 descending into the treacherous sand and digging furiously to free the trapped man.

Only frail makeshift shoring which they had been able to rig during the night protected them from the crumbling walls of the cistern.

The treacherous sand at one time buried Miller up to his chin. By dawn today diggers had uncovered the upper part of his body. Then the two ropes were looped about his shoulders and buttocks and Miller was pulled free.

Holly Springs is about 45 miles southeast of Memphis, Tenn.

The Negro, 44, father of five children, was caught apparently in a kneeling position with one leg twisted in a ladder. That was at noon Tuesday.

A tube in his mouth provided oxygen.

Hundreds of persons stood silently in the field in a remote area five miles south of here. Highway 7, which runs nearby, was lined with automobiles. A Negro woman in the crowd was heard to say: "It's the Lord's will he ought to live the way these white folks are helping."

Rescue workers were almost helpless. They, too, risked their lives in the countless sand falls that thwarted rescue efforts by men and machines.

"[illegible] I have ever seen," [illegible] Sheriff [illegible] Cox.

Miller assisted workers with his [illegible]. Sometimes he directed them. Only a few times did he complain.

"[illegible] apparently in reference to the wet earth in which he was trapped, Miller [illegible] complained of the cold.

His ordeal worsened at night-fall Tuesday. Temperatures dropped into the 20s as three [illegible] at the [illegible]. A spotlight illuminated the hole.

Machinery Useless

Earth moving equipment at the scene wasn't any more effective. Attempts to dig a side trench to the trapped man ended in more collapses.

At other times the crowd pushed too close and the banks of excavated earth crumbled. Sheriff Cox had to shout them back warning: "We've got a man's life at stake."

Gradually, however, the workers shored the hole with beams.

Byrd to Oppose Any Proposal For Tax Slash

Against Reduction As Shot-in-the-Arm To Help Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy is going to find Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va) standing uncompromisingly against any shot-in-the-arm tax cut to counter the economic downturn.

Byrd, who heads the Senate Finance Committee, which would have to pass on any such reduction, said he believes any action to cut taxes which would result in a budget deficit "would be the worst thing we could do."

The Virginia senator said in an interview he bases this opinion on his study in Europe this fall of the drain on the American gold supply. This problem has perplexed the retiring Eisenhower administration and promises to become one of Kennedy's major headaches when he takes office in January.

Would Hurt Dollar

"If we go into any deficit financing, it is going to undermine further the already weakened confidence abroad in the dollar," Byrd said. "It would be almost certain to result in a further flight of gold.

"Piling up deficits is no longer merely a matter of adding to our national debt. If we don't protect the position of the dollar in world

Williams Signs Sales Tax Boost

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—A bill boosting Michigan's sales tax from three to four per cent was signed into law Tuesday by Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who wrote beneath his signature the Latin phrase "Vox Populi, Vox Dei."

The phrase means "the voice of the people is the voice of God," and Williams apparently wrote it on the bill to show that he personally was against the bill although he would approve it because the people wanted it.

The governor, who is [illegible] after serving an unprecedented six terms, had favored a state income tax to help Michigan out of its financial crisis.

However, the sales tax increase was approved by the voters in the Nov. 8 election. The new sales tax rate becomes effective January 1 and is expected to increase state general fund revenue by $47 million in the fiscal year ending next June 30. Annual revenue will be an estimated $12[illegible] million.

Kennedy May Announce Another Cabinet Member Late Today or Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy has reached the halfway point in filling his Cabinet — five down and five to go —and the odds seem fairly good that he plans to add another either today or Thursday.

His fifth selection, announced late Tuesday, was that of Robert S. McNamara to be the secretary of Defense. McNamara, 44, is president of the Ford Motor Co.

Kennedy is announcing [illegible]. All he would tell reporters camping outside his Georgetown doorstep in bitter cold Tuesday night was that he expects to complete his Cabinet within the next few days.

Nor was there any clue in the schedule he announced for today as to which post he will fill next. His first appointment was with Gov. Luther H. Hodges of North Carolina, already named to be secretary of Commerce.

Most of his other appointments were with congressmen with a wide variety of interests.

Scheduled Visitors

Among those expected to see Kennedy are Reps. James W. Trimble of Arkansas, Frank M. Clark of Pennsylvania, Lester R. Johnson of Wisconsin, Albert Thomas of Texas, Victor L. Anfuso of New York, Edith Green of Oregon, Michael J. Kirwan of Ohio and Francis E. Walter of Pennsylvania.

But Kennedy doesn't disclose all his callers in advance. Reporters noticed he left a big two-hour gap in his schedule just after noon, a fine spot for an announcement if he has one ready.

Kennedy still must pick secretaries of Agriculture, Treasury and Labor, plus a postmaster general and an attorney general.

7 Perish in Rural Blaze

Zero Temperature Hampers Firefighting In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Fire swept through a rural home at nearby Wertzville early today killing a mother and six of her nine children.

The father and two other children were injured and taken to Harrisburg Hospital. Another child was staying with neighbors.

Firefighters were hindered by the near-zero temperatures. Fire Chief Charles J. Stark Jr. said the family was that of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Walker, both 35.

In addition to Mrs. Walker the children killed by the blaze were a son, Jimmy, 9, and five daughters, Mary, 13; Helen, 10; Dianne, 5; Louise, 3, and Irene, 1.

With Walker in Harrisburg hospital were his sons Robert, 8, and Dwayne, 6. The younger child was reported in unsatisfactory condition with burns. Walker and Robert were in satisfactory condition, suffering smoke inhalation and minor burns.

The ninth child, Martha, 12, and a family boarder, Harld Cramer, 17, were with neighbors.

Stark theorized that a stove on the first floor of the two-story frame house may have exploded, causing the fire. The home burned to the ground.

Phone Calls Gave Democrats Negro Vote, Ike States

NEW YORK (AP) — The Times says President Eisenhower expressed the view yesterday that "a couple of phone calls" had put the Negro vote in the Democratic column in the presidential election.

"This came about," he indicated, "despite [illegible]-year effort to protect Negro voting rights and to promote racial integration in public schools," the Times said in a Washington dispatch.

It said he made the remark without elaboration while conferring with a group of industrial leaders.

The [illegible] took the remarks as a reference to telephone calls made by Sen. John F. Kennedy, [illegible] the Democratic presidential nominee and now president-elect, and by Kennedy's brother, Robert.

Sen. Kennedy telephoned the wife of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in Georgia to express sympathy that the Negro leader had been sent to jail for four months in the aftermath of a sit-in demonstration in Atlanta.

Dr. King had been arrested in [illegible] and [illegible] Judge [illegible] of DeKalb County [illegible] the suspended sentence [illegible].

Political Situation Eyed in Tax Plan

Combination Sales, Income Levies May Ease Hostility of Governor, Solons on Both

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — The proposal of the chairman of the "blue ribbon" tax study commission for Wisconsin tax revision as published here Tuesday might have been conceived with an eye upon the stalemated partisan situation in [illegible] [illegible].

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] was [illegible] about the political [illegible] between the executive branch of the government and the new legislature.

Gov. Nelson is the titular leader of the Wisconsin Democratic party which has been consistently hostile to the idea of sales taxation.

Strong Plank

While the state Republican party as an organization has not explicitly expressed itself on a sales tax, there are many Republicans in the legislature who publicly or privately believe the state must move in that direction. The Republican candidate for governor last month made a strong run on a campaign platform which had the sales tax as a means of property tax stabilization.

Postpone Try To Orbit Craft Around Moon

Technical Trouble Crops Up During Rocket Countdown

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Technical trouble today forced at least a one-day postponement of an attempt to launch an American space craft toward an intended orbit about the moon.

The [illegible] space craft is intended to become the first lunar satellite. Its load of electronic equipment is designed to make the most extensive study yet attempted of the moon's environment.

The countdown on the 98-foot Atlas-Able booster rocket progressed to within seven minutes of the scheduled lift-off time today when the attempt was called off.

Technical Trouble

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported only that technical difficulties had prevented the launch. It did not reveal the nature of the trouble.

Scientists had only a 21-minute span—from 2:58 a. m. to 3:19 a. m. EST—in which to fire the rocket to put it on the proper course to the moon, 240,000 miles away. When it became apparent the trouble could not be corrected in time, the shot was postponed.

Today was the second day of a five-day period in which the moon is in a favorable position for the launching. If the trouble is minor, another launch effort may be made Thursday. If the Atlas-Able does not get off the ground by Saturday, the shot will be put off until the next ideal period, 28 days from now.

The space craft carries instruments to measure such space phenomena as radiation, magnetic fields and micrometeorites. This data could help prepare for manned flight to the moon.

Worker Falls Down Shaft For 110 Feet

CLEVELAND (AP) — As a swimmer—and he's a good one—the highest dive James H. Williams ever made was 10 feet. But an involuntary backward dive he took yesterday down a salt-mine shaft measured 110 feet.

Williams, 39, lost his balance and fell from a platform on which he was working with two other men. The platform was 1,215 feet underground in a cylindrical shaft being dug to reach rock salt deposits under Lake Erie. It was another 110 feet downward to a 40-foot-deep pool of briny water at the shaft's end.

"I was afraid I was going to drown," Williams said in describing what raced through his mind as he fell.

The weight of his boots and raincoat pulled him down, and he tried to remove them. The salty water burned his eyes, and he cried in pain as he felt the sides of the shaft for a handhold. He found a valve and held on until other workmen lowered the platform to haul him up.

At Lutheran Hospital where he was treated and released, Williams said:

McNamara Puts Nation Ahead of Own Interests

Ford President Liquidating Holdings To Become Kennedy's Secretary of Defense

DETROIT (AP) —Why would a man be willing to toss some $3 million in exchange for $25,000 a year and the title of secretary of defense?

Because, says Robert Strange McNamara, "Personal considerations must be subordinated to the responsibility to serve the president of the United States and the public on request."

McNamara announced Tuesday that he was going to leave his job as president of the Ford Motor Co.—a post he has held for slightly more than a month—to join President-elect John F. Kennedy's Cabinet as defense secretary.

Get Rid of Stock

McNamara, 44, said he planned to get rid of his 24,795 shares of Ford stock and the options he holds on [illegible] other shares.

"I will forego profit of about $3 million over the next three to four years," he said.

All this for $25,000 a year and the tremendous responsibilities of a job offered by a Democratic president-elect to a man who describes himself as a Republican who votes as a political independent and who refuses to say whether he voted for Kennedy because "my vote is my own affair."

Called 'Whiz Kids'

McNamara, an Air Force veteran, appeared on the automotive scene in 1946 with the postwar reorganization of Ford. He and nine other experts who pioneered the complex job of setting up statistical controls for the Air Force took themselves to Ford as a package and asked for a chance to put their talents to work for the giant auto company.

Henry Ford II, company president then, took the 10 on, and in a short time they had undertaken such a sweeping shake-up in company policy that they became known as "the whiz kids."

McNamara, a native of San Francisco, studied at the University of California. He looks and dresses like the school teacher he once was—rimless glasses, hair parted in the middle, conservative suits.

He, his wife, Margaret, a son, Robert Craig, 10, and a daughter, Kathleen, 16, live at nearby Ann Arbor. Another daughter, Margaret Elizabeth, 19, attends Stanford University.

Death Silences Deep Baritone of John C. Thomas

APPLE VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — Death caused by cancer has silenced the deep, rich voice of baritone John Charles Thomas, one of America's most beloved singers.

Thomas

The barrel-chested star of opera, concert stage and radio died at his home yesterday. Ill for months with intestinal cancer, the 68-year-old singer had spent his last days in a coma.

Although still widely sought for concert appearances, Thomas retired from the circuit in 1953. Since 1954 he and his wife, Dorothy, had lived in this desert community northeast of Los Angeles.

His big, booming voice became familiar to millions between 1942 and 1947 when he sang regularly over the National Broadcasting Co. radio network. He [illegible] signed off his program with the words, "good night, mother"—a reference to his singer mother, Anna Dorothea Schnaebel Thomas.

It was a [illegible] that [illegible] him on a musical career. The son of a Welsh Methodist minister, the Rev. Milson Thomas, Thomas sang as a boy at camp meetings. While studying for medicine in Baltimore, he won a musical scholarship in 1913 and tossed a coin to decide which field he would follow. Music won.

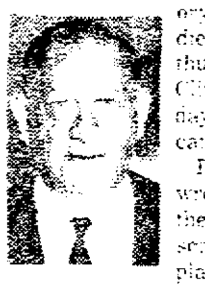
Thomas made his [illegible] [illegible] appearance with a Henry W. Savage road company in London, Ont., in late 1912.

The funeral will be Friday at 10:30 a.m. at St. Timothy Episcopal Church here with the Rev. Emerson Metzner officiating.

Film Director Dies of Cancer

Gregory Ratoff Produced Hit 'All About Eve'

SOLOTHURN, Switzerland (AP) —American actor-director Gregory Ratoff, 63, died in the Solothurn Citizens' Clinic early today of blood cancer.



Ratoff

Ratoff, who wrote many of the original scripts of stage plays and films he directed, was born on April 20, 1897, in Petrograd, now Leningrad, in Russia, where he began his stage career after finishing commercial college. He went to New York in 1922 to appear on Broadway.

In more recent years he produced and directed the stage hit "All About Eve" and several films, among them "Black Magic" "The Heat's On," and "Operation X." Before the war he acted in many Broadway plays including "Blossom Time," "Tenth Avenue," and "Castles in the Air."

Lived in Milan

Ratoff had been living in Milan, Italy, with his wife Maria Kostes, a well known singer. He was stricken last fall and came to Switzerland for treatment by Prof. Sven Moeschlin, one of Switzerland's leading blood disease specialists, who diagnosed his illness as leukemia.

His wife was at his bedside at his death. His body will be cremated here and his ashes will be flown to the United States.

Ratoff knew he was suffering from a serious blood disease, he first entered the Solothurn hospital Sept. 27. His health improved after treatment and he left a few weeks later for the United States.

He re-entered the clinic several weeks ago in serious condition and began his final battle. Only a week ago he was quoted as saying he was hoping to return to work—"But you never know."

Youth Takes Cyanide, Dies

Asks Judge for Permission to Have Daily Pill

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Leonard Norman Hensley Jr. stood up in the court where he faced rape charges and said, "Judge, I want to take my 5 o'clock pill."

Hensley

He died a few minutes later, gasping to his foster uncle and family doctor, "Help me, please, help me, I took . . ."

Doctors at Baptist Memorial Hospital said Hensley, 20, poisoned himself late yesterday, apparently by swallowing cyanide.

His death followed a brief struggle with a bailiff and other officers who sought to handcuff him after Dist. Judge Archie Brown raised the youth's bond from $5,000 to $50,000.

Brown acted on testimony from the uncle, the boy's foster father and a psychiatrist that Hensley was dangerous, mentally ill and incapable of telling right from wrong.

Hensley's trial on charges of repeated criminal assaults on a teenage housewife and mother of two children had halted until the court determined whether the youth was sane enough to stand trial.

Federal Aid to Education

One of the big objections to federal aid to education is the fear that such aid will bring a loss of control over local schools by local people. Everyone knows that "he who pays the fiddler calls the tune" and certainly if the federal government provides the money it soon will say what local schools are to be or are to do.

However, the obvious advantage of federal aid to education is that the federal tax raisers are farther away from the taxpayers than are the local officials and therefore find it much easier to raise the needed money. Taxpayers who silently, although perhaps grudgingly, pay out millions of dollars to the federal government, would scream "robbery" if they were required to pay even a fourth of that amount to local tax collectors.

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) who recently became a newspaper columnist has suggested a means of getting this easy money for schools while at the same time eliminating the danger of federal controls. His proposal is to give the individual taxpayer full credit on his income tax report for the total amount paid by the taxpayer during the year to his local school district for construction and interest charges on new school buildings. He suggests that the tax on $10 000 might be about $175. Of this amount, perhaps 20 per cent or $35, would be chargeable to school building, either directly or in the payment of principal and interest on bond issues. Thus the homeowner would be credited with paying $35 towards school construction costs. This amount, according to Goldwater's plan, would be deducted from the amount of income tax due to the federal government.

Quite obviously the plan has the great advantage of providing "easy money" for school construction just as though it were federal aid. It also leaves the matter of control of such expenditures and use of the buildings in the hands of local authorities.

It has the great disadvantage of all "easy money" in that it tends to promote extravagance. It has one other great disadvantage. It requires an act of congress to put it into effect and many schemes like this have been advocated before without success. The fact of the matter is that aid to local communities is a great political tool which the present congressmen know very well how to use to promote votes. Therefore they see no advantage in surrendering their control over such aids by granting the local taxpayer an exemption. For that reason it is unlikely to be adopted in the immediate future.

A Foul Deed Anyway

It's getting so that nobody can harbor real villains any more, even in memory.

Richard III, the crippled fifteenth century English king, has come down in the appalled memories of thousands of school children as the evil genius who had the little princes murdered in the tower so they wouldn't threaten his throne. But there is a fracas about the circumstances which has lasted a good deal longer than the War of Roses which ended with Richard's death at the Battle of Bosworth.

According to Historian Francis Leary, the Markhamist school insists that Richard really was a good king given to jollity and hearty laughter. It was his successor to the throne, Henry Tudor, dour, grim and dank, who really had the boys strangled and their bodies thrown into the kitchen disposal. Then there are the Warbecks who claim the boys were spirited away like the little Lost Dauphin and one survived to be Pretender Perkin Warbeck in Burgundy. And another faction says this group just wanted something to scare the later reigning Tudors into concessions here and there.

Much has been made of a little heap of bones found in the late seventeenth century in the foundation of a staircase in the Tower. The pro-Richards claim they are from an ancient building sacrifice. Others point out that burying the boys in such massive surroundings was not the work of a hasty hour as tradition has it. When the bones were re-examined in 1933, about all that could be assured was that they were from youngsters of about 10 and 13 and one had poor teeth.

Mr. Leary thinks that Henry Tudor had the boys murdered by a man who was working both for him and for his rival, Richard. As soon as Richard was dead and Henry had the crown he had this individual done in. But Mr. Leary also concedes that, if Richard didn't give the orders, he probably knew the boys were slated to die. And he kept their mother dangling in hope for months while he even seriously considered marrying a sister of the princes.

Defenders of Richard today have even bought newspaper advertisements to commemorate the king's death on the field of battle. But legend has a way of hanging on despite all the evidence, bones and motives logically displayed. Richard III has played the villain too long for the romanticists to believe that he is a Wenceslaus type.

A Good Man Needed

The Chief of Staff of the Indian Army, Gen. K. S. Thimayya, will retire after the first of the year. His going will be a loss to India unless he is given a diplomatic position of importance. It appears that a basic reason for his retirement is that he differs sharply with Krishna Menon, Indian Defense Minister and delegate to the United Nations.

Gen. Thimayya became known to Americans back in 1953 when he headed the neutral nations repatriation committee in Korea seeking to make sense and justice of the return of prisoners of war to their homelands. Gen. Thimayya discovered then, if he didn't suspect it before, that the Communists would go to any lengths to force the return of the North Korean and Chinese prisoners whether or not they wanted to go home. As the numbers who didn't want to live under the benefits of the Red regime grew, the Chinese became more hysterical and hostile. But Gen. Thimayya firmly refused to be pressured. And he didn't hesitate to give his views about the Communists.

"Administrative differences" are given as the reasons why Gen. Thimayya and Mr. Menon don't get along. But the whole matter goes deeper than that. Gen. Thimayya is an idealistic man of action who saw for himself what the Communists do and are and he understood. Krishna Menon has somewhere acquired a point of view on world affairs to which everything he sees and hears must conform whether or not black must be changed to white — or to red.

Gen. Thimayya would do his nation and the world considerable service as a delegate to the United Nations.

Smut Publications Hit by Walther League

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Walther Leaguers at the fall rally of zone three of Shawano County recently had as their discussion topic, Immorality in Print and on the Screen. A panel of league [illegible] presented the problem to the assembly and then opened the topic for discussion. Because of the stimulated interest and importance of this topic, it was later decided that [illegible] these young people be [illegible] to the public.

Nearly all of us are aware of the obscene literature and movies which are [illegible] our society. [illegible] material abounds in [illegible] cruelty and [illegible]. [illegible] seem to be drawn by [illegible] of material, and it is a [illegible] revealing fact that [illegible] time have the [illegible] in the United States reached [illegible] a low. Not only do lewd magazines, books, [illegible] films poison the minds of our people, especially our youth, but they also have an [illegible] effect on the crime trends of our nation. They lower our moral standards and certainly gain no respect for America.

There are many avenues of individual action which may be taken, but the first and most important step toward a solution is the realization of the seriousness of the problem — and it is serious. It was recently reported that in Detroit there was not a single sex murder on record in which the killer wasn't an avid reader of lewd magazines and books. Can't something be done to curb this trend? Through the media of television, the privacy of our homes has even been invaded. Local drugstores and newsstands boldly display a wide assortment of these magazines, and theaters advertise their [illegible] in a manner [illegible] obscene. What are we as [illegible] going to do?

First, we [illegible] personally refrain from [illegible] these products. [illegible] be no market for [illegible] commercial [illegible] cease. Second, [illegible] group [illegible] to legislators [illegible] the [illegible] of the problem. Talk to people [illegible] this matter and deal with [illegible] which are on sale locally. However, here too, we must [illegible] caution and discretion so that we stimulate interest in curbing the problem, not in advertising the sale of these products.

There should also be action at a community level. Individual action alone is not enough. At this level we can use existing laws to punish offenders. These laws would be adequate enough if they would be used intelligently. Also, by cooperating with and stimulating action through government officials, we could deal a decisive blow against obscenity. An emphasis on positive action is also necessary. By providing wholesome alternatives, instead of merely voicing our objections, we could certainly overcome this problem.

The church and its organizations should be the first groups to take action against this obscene material. These groups can bring it to the public attention and encourage the previously mentioned methods of attack. Family action as a community organization will also [illegible] an important influence. [illegible] people that the use of [illegible] materials is against God's will, and then use education and [illegible] against the [illegible].

[illegible] we realize how serious the problem of pornographic material is and the effect it [illegible] upon our nation, [illegible] be given to its [illegible]. People [illegible] that America has freedom of speech, but does this give us the freedom to poison our minds with what we know is wrong? There are laws to stop this. Let's use them! We quickly prosecute or boycott a store which sells bad and spoiled food. Yet we do nothing about the bad, rotten material which is poisoning our society. What you think and do about this problem does make a difference.

Republicans, Not Democrats, Keep State Milk Out of East

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Your editorial of Dec. 5 on "The Marketing of Milk" gives welcome support to the national "Milk Sanitation bill" which is of major importance to Wisconsin's dairy industry.

However, it appears that your writer is not fully familiar with the history of this legislation when he charges that Democrats have been "equivocal" in their support of it. The bill under consideration this year was introduced by Wisconsin Congressman Lester Johnson, Democrat of Black River Falls, and Sen. Hubert Humphrey, Democrat of Minnesota, and co-sponsored by every other congressman and senator of both parties from the two states.

The Humphrey-Johnson "Milk Sanitation bill" advanced much further in the recent session than ever before, and support for it is still rising. On the same day as your editorial appeared, the Dairy Industry Newsletter, published by Federal-States Reports in Washington, D. C., stated:

"Milk Sanitation Bill: Congressman Lester Johnson (D-Wis.) plans to reintroduce his bill to provide that fluid milk and fluid milk products meeting USPHS standards may not be kept out of interstate commerce. The Congressman will put his bill in the hopper as soon as the 87th Congress convenes.

Proponents of this measure were encouraged last session by an apparently increasing favorable interest in this legislation and are optimistic about its prospects for 1961. The avowed position of the new president on this issue is one of the brighter rays of light for supporters of the Johnson bill. While campaigning in Iowa, the then Democratic candidate Kennedy answered a specific question as to whether he favored legislation "to enable midwestern milk to get into the big eastern markets" by saying: 'Our constitutional convention was formed in order to originally promote interstate commerce and provide for its free flow. I don't believe that any unnecessary or artificial standard should be used any place in any area in any part of American life to block the flow of commerce.'"

Gov. Nelson gave strong support to the Milk Sanitation bill. He backed it at hearings of the house interstate and foreign commerce committee April 27, 1960 and of the senate labor and public welfare committee May 17, 1960. Moreover, Gov. Nelson asked heads of Wisconsin civic, women's, labor, and business groups to help get consumer support throughout the country through their contacts in their national affiliates. Increasing support from consumer groups is what accounts primarily for the growing strength of this legislation in Congress.

The fate of this bill of course, depends upon its support in congress. The Eisenhower administration has never supported it, and no national government can put it into effect without congressional approval. Congressmen of both parties from the favored marketing areas oppose it.

Sen. Kennedy was attacked by eastern-state Republicans for this statement, quoted above. In Des Moines, New York Gov. Rockefeller told a group of dairy leaders, according to the New York Times, that Vice President Nixon, if elected, would not establish federal milk sanitation standards "which would allow the sale in New York of milk which does not meet our state health standard."

Similarly, in a speech headlined "Sen. Scott Warns of Midwest Milk Invasion Under Kennedy Plan," Republican Sen. Scott of Pennsylvania charged, on Oct. 27, that "the plan Sen. Kennedy has endorsed to the Midwesterners will hurt Pennsylvania . . ." Scott said "Dairy producers in Iowa, Minnesota, and Wisconsin have tried to ram this scheme through congress for many years. They call it the 'national milk sanitation' bill. It should be called the 'dump midwestern milk' bill."

For his part, Vice President Nixon refused to make any specific commitment on this issue.

In view of the full record I believe in fairness your editorial should have charged that the Republicans, instead of the Democrats, "were equivocal" on this important issue.

Looking Backward

100 YEARS AGO

From the Message of President James Buchanan

The Fugitive Slave Law has been the law of the land from the days of Washington to the present moment. Here, then, is a clear case presented in which it will be the duty of the next President (Lincoln), as it has been my own, to act with vigor in executing this supreme law against the conflicting enactments of State Legislatures.

Should he fail in the performance of his high duty, he then will have manifested a disregard for the Constitution and laws to the great injury of the people of nearly one-half of the States in the Union.

The Fugitive Slave Law has been carried into execution in every contested case since the commencement of the present administration, though often, it is to be regretted, with great loss and inconvenience and with considerable expense to the Government.

Let us trust State Legislatures will repeal their unconstitutional and obnoxious enactments; unless this be done without unnecessary delay, it is impossible for any human power to save the Union. The Southern States, standing on the basis of the Constitution, have a right to demand this act of justice from the States of the North.

Should it be refused them, the Constitution to which all the States are parties, will have been willfully violated. In that event, the injured States, after having first used all peaceful and constitutional means to obtain redress, would be justified in revolutionary resistance to the Government of the Union.

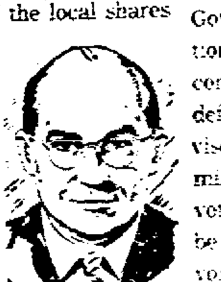
Tax Redistribution Plan to Have Troubles

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The Doyle committee report asking for a total redistribution of the local shares of state-collected taxes has had a good press. Headlines have proclaimed that here is a formula that will provide some tax relief for local property holders in many of the high tax districts. That is attractive bait.



Wyngaard

But it is not so clear that the means by which this great boon is to be achieved are understood. The formula calling for new factors controlling the return of income taxes, utility taxes and the rest won't do it. In fact, the results would not be noticeable by the average home or farmstead holder.

The big weapon here is about [illegible] in additional money that is counted in the formula but which the state does not now have, and this sponsoring committee has not yet figured out a way to get. It is alluring bait, surely, but highly uncertain.

OBSTACLES

Even if the policymakers of the state are inclined to consider this admittedly drastic formula seriously, there are two great obstacles:

1. The choice between the income tax on the one hand and the sales tax on the other.

2. The impossibility of the [illegible] that any legislature or any governor would levy new taxes [illegible] alternative of a rate seven [illegible] to raise that [illegible] and the unknown [illegible] But [illegible] many [illegible] the state [illegible] formula [illegible].

To raise [illegible] money that is here taken [illegible] would require an approximate doubling of the personal income tax. Nature seems to [illegible] the ideal time [illegible] income taxes. [illegible] action would make any [illegible] blame. [illegible] the whole [illegible] the income tax [illegible] they would [illegible] with [illegible]. But the Republicans are in no mood to install employer liability for employee tax payments, whatever the provocation.

A sales tax [illegible] is preferred by a majority of Republicans who have thought about the alternatives and who are familiar with the fiscal situation. But even a [illegible] per cent sales tax —which would be severe for a [illegible] — would yield [illegible] than the tax [illegible] now proposed, plus the [illegible] needs of the state [illegible] its own impending bills. Is a sales tax likely to be enacted? There is nothing sure about it. Gov. Nelson has dodged the question, and apparently intends to continue to do so until he gets a definite report from his tax advisory commission. But that commission has not yet had a test vote, and when it comes, it will be closely divided even if it favors a sales tax.

A strong minority with a formal dissenting report would erase much of the political effect of a sales tax recommendation.

BUILT-IN FOES

There are yet other obstacles in the path of this brave tax redistribution plan that are formidable to anyone who has a respect for the history of the case. The municipal beneficiaries of the present utility distribution method are strategically distributed. They have fought off all attacks by the experts in the past and they are not likely to lie down this time.

The distribution of income taxes according to the residence of the taxpayer has strong historical support and involves principles of home rule and local government rights. Those who like the present system will fight for it as they have defended it under powerful attack in the past.

These are some of the reasons why it will be difficult to enact a scheme that has been so generally publicized as one that would reduce local property taxes at a simple stroke.

Birth Rate Rises in September

The nation's farmers, sitting atop their surpluses and wondering how to find a market for their [illegible] increased yields, naturally don't have [illegible] with this theory. Feeding its burgeoning population is not likely to be this country's problem. The trick will be to provide schools and later [illegible] for today's infants.

Politics Eyed In Proposed Taxation Plan

new revenue that will be raised by the state in the future must come from the first few thousands of dollars of income of the average individual taxpayer.

Little Difference

On that assumption, he reminded, there isn't much distinction between the sales tax and the income tax.

Meanwhile, he said, to raise all of the revenue requirements from the income tax would make the rates prohibitive in the competitive sense, and to raise all of it with a sales tax would require a rate of at least three per cent which would be too high as an initial impact."

The latter evidently was a reference to the probable political difficulties that would face any proposal for a sales tax rate as steep as three per cent — which is about the average around the country, but which typically has been attained in successive enactments, as in Illinois and Michigan.

Dr. Upton evidently took the extraordinary step of publishing his own views in advance of the commission's meeting as a public education effort.

Asks For Combination

"It is important for the public to recognize fully the exact nature of the state's fiscal position at the present time," his statement said.

The kind of income tax law that would be required, he went on, would be indistinguishable for the majority of taxpayers from the kind of levy that would result from the imposition of the sales tax.

Then he asked for the combination of the two, and with an evident nod to the political difficulties in the path of such an enactment, said it might take several legislative sessions to achieve it.

But Dr. Upton invited some political reactions from the Republican legislature of 1961 when he also endorsed the idea of a payroll deduction or employer withholding law for the collection of the income tax. Such a proposal was twice defeated in 1959 by the Republican senators who maintained their veto control in the elections this year.

Require Device

Upton said, in citing earlier conclusions of his commission, that higher income tax rates would "require" the withholding device "in order to prevent evasion and to realize the maximum potential of the rate structure."

More significant in the overall controversy about the revision of the state's basic tax policy was the Upton effort to anticipate and refute political objections to the income tax-sales tax combination as a compromise.

In his suggested report for the commission, he wrote:

"The commission does not consider that a choice between these two alternatives raises an ideological or philosophical issue. The incidence of the two approaches upon various economic groups is similar; their yield is similar; their stability is similar."

Draw Revenue

"Both conform to the commission's basic agreement that the first few thousands of dollars of everyone's income, after basic exemptions, is the source from which the bulk of the additional revenue must be drawn. Neither approach would be in fact or appearance out of line with the practice of other states."

What the commission will do at its weekend session is now the hottest topic for statehouse speculation. It had been assumed that it would favor a sales tax by a narrow majority. But it may also recognize Gov. Nelson's political dilemma by offering the combination suggested by Chairman Upton, who in private life is president of Beloit College.

McNamara Appointed Secretary of Defense

Persuasion Needed

Apparently it took considerable persuading on Kennedy's part to get McNamara to give up his $400,000-a-year job as Ford president, a post he was named to only a month ago, and take the $25,000-a-year Cabinet spot.

Kennedy cut in here to say that he expects the Cabinet officers he is now choosing to stay with him.

"I will say," Kennedy said, "when Mr. McNamara and I talked last week, we both agreed that anyone who accepts any position of responsibility in the administration should be willing to serve a long period of time because they become far more efficient and far more effective as time goes on."

And McNamara's view: "I will stay on as long as I fulfill the position to the satisfaction of the president."

McNamara told reporters he's a registered Republican who votes independently. Asked if he had voted for Kennedy, he said: "I think my vote is my own affair."

California Native

McNamara, a native of California, attended Harvard at the same time Kennedy did. But the two never met until last Thursday.

And what brought this young industrialist to Kennedy's attention?

"We have been attempting to try to find the people that would be of service to the country, who bring the greatest dividends to the country," Kennedy said, "and Mr. McNamara's name came up on every lead and at every turn."

So McNamara now joins a Cabinet list that reads like this: Secretary of State—Dean Rusk, head of the Rockefeller Foundation but who was in the State Department under President Truman; Commerce — Hodges; Health, Education and Welfare—Gov. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut; Interior—Rep. Stewart L. Udall of Arizona.

Byrd to Oppose Any Proposal For Tax Slash

exchange, we will be courting disaster."

Byrd, who has denounced the platform on which Kennedy was elected and who did not support the Democratic nominee, indicated he believes the gold threat will act as a brake on any large spending increases the president-elect might be tempted to submit to Congress.

No Public Works Plan

If he accepts the weight of opinion among his advisers, Kennedy is not likely to propose any public works spending program to meet a recession. Most of these advisers think such programs operate too slowly to help in a temporary recession.

Kennedy said during the presidential campaign that a temporary reduction in some taxes would be considered if the business recession he contended was under way then should deepen this winter.

Subsequently several economists told a Senate-House committee designated by the president-elect to survey economic conditions that taxes ought to be cut if unemployment goes beyond six million. Unemployment hit [illegible] in November, or 6.3 per cent of the labor force.

Wants Byrd Out

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., who heads the Senate-House committee, forecast an increase in joblessness in the winter months. He said some sort of selective tax cut might have to be considered.

Douglas has joined Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., in suggesting that Byrd ought to step out of the way of the Kennedy legislative program because of his opposition to the party platform and his failure to support the presidential nominee.

Byrd made it clear he would welcome a Senate test on this issue. It could come shortly after the opening of the new Congress. Any member could challenge and get a showdown vote on Byrd's tenure as Finance Committee chairman in the usually routine election by the Senate of its committee heads.

The Senate hasn't taken away a chairmanship since 1924, and Byrd isn't enough disturbed to offer even a mild gesture toward the Kennedy administration.

He could, but won't, say he doesn't want 14 unpledged electoral votes from Mississippi and Alabama cast for him for president in the Electoral College. These electors, opposing Kennedy, have announced they will vote for Byrd.

At Oran, to the west, all was reported quiet. A general strike which paralyzed the city's economy was over. The rightwing front for French Algeria (FAF) which launched the strike rescinded it.

Moslem rioters and the determined resistance of French settlers have confronted France with one of the gravest situations in her attempts to end six years of the nationalist fight for independence.

No one any longer spoke of "fraternity" between Moslem and Frenchman after five days of bloody rioting which killed 123 persons and wounded more than 500.

The Moslems, who sustained most casualties, shouted that French bullets had destroyed all hopes of Algerian union with France.

French settlers, fired on by French troops yesterday for the first time since the riots began, vowed never to accept President Charles de Gaulle's plan for home rule in Algeria.

Perhaps for this reason, the correspondents asked the U. S. Embassy in Vientiane to transmit their combined dispatches. They were distributed in Washington to the news agencies represented by the correspondents through the Voice of America, an arm of the State Department.

The Associated Press correspondent in Vientiane is Roy Essoyan.

Light Fighting

Although control of the capital tipped back and forth from one side to the other in less than 24 hours, the dispatches said the fighting generally was light. Only a few buildings were damaged by shelling, and apparently no foreigners were killed or wounded.

The troubles in Laos began last Aug. 9 when Kong Le, a Communist-oriented paratroop commander, precipitated an overthrow of the pro-Western government.

Prince Souvanna Phouma set up a neutralist regime. At one point he authorized Soviet planes to fly in gasoline and food to Vientiane.

But Souvanna Phouma fled to neighboring Cambodia last Friday. Various factions tried to take charge. Kong Le's strength was beefed up by artillery and ammunition flown in by the Russians from Hanoi, the dispatches said. A pro-Communist group called the Pathet Lao was directed to join Kong Le's forces.

King Savang Vatthana issued a royal decree ordering the leftist government to dissolve. A government under Prince Boun Oum was announced by Gen. Phoumi Nosavan's forces from their stronghold in Savannakhet.

$1 Million Project Scheduled for Grain Elevator at Superior

ST. PAUL (AP)—E. J. Barry, director of grain marketing for the Farmers Union Grain Terminal Association, said Tuesday that a $1 million improvement program is planned for the 20-million bushel elevator at Superior, Wis.

Barry, speaking at the annual meeting of patrons and stockholders of GTA, said the Superior elevator improvement program comes because of a surging export trade in grain.

Deepening of the St. Lawrence Seaway to 27 feet to Duluth will bring even more export trade to the Duluth-Superior port within two years, Barry said. He added that the Superior elevator doubled its water shipments between 1958 and [illegible] from 11 million bushels to almost 27 million.

Russell Johnson, Superior elevator superintendent, said the improvement program includes dredging to a depth of 30 feet to take the largest ships and enlargement of loading facilities.

Crowded Classroom Leaves Professor Without Use of Desk

MADISON (AP)—A University of Wisconsin professor has positive proof of a crowded classroom on the campus.

William T. Purdy, professor of French, said Tuesday that there are [illegible] students in one of his classes.

Boulder Junction Man Heads Hotel Group

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Pat Wilde of Boulder Junction in Vilas County is the new president of the Wisconsin State Hotel Association.

Other officers elected at the annual convention of the association here Tuesday were Carl Wittenberg, Green Bay, first vice president; Don Fredrickson, Sturgeon Bay, second vice president, and John Weber III, Waukesha, treasurer.

Delegates to the convention adopted a resolution opposing extension of federal wage and hour laws to include hotel, resort and restaurant employes.

Soviets Threaten to Kill United Nations

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Business News Analyst

Soviet activities in Africa, coupled with Moscow's pressures and blandishments among African leaders, threaten the very existence of the United Nations in its present form.

It is all too easy to imagine some possible results over not too long a period. The U. N., still in its teens, could become a doddering old wreck, incapable of effective action. Worse than that, there is even a possibility of a sort of African Korea.

Some of the nations which supplied troops for an effort to restore peace and order in the Congo now are withdrawing them. What would happen if most withdrew the troops they had assigned to the U. N. mission? In all probability there would be attempts to fill the resulting void, and in such attempts could be the beginning of catastrophe for the heart of Africa.

Cynical Game

The Kremlin seems to be playing a cynical game with the African continent. And there are few signs that certain African leaders suspect they are being used for the aims of Soviet world policy.

Puzzled Westerners frequently express wonder why leaders of former colonial countries often seem willing to accept Soviet propaganda and seem deliberately to close their eyes to ultimate Communist designs.

The answer probably is that the Kremlin promises something for each of them. In return, the Kremlin makes sure there is something to be gained from each of them.

Luckily for the Russians, and unfortunately for the West, some African political leaders seem more preoccupied with their own ambitions than with attempting to dissipate the shadow of calamity over the continent.

Red Chinese

How do the Russians line up African leaders' support?

Take Gamal Abdel Nasser, for example. His Pan-Arab and Pan-Islamic ambitions involve a huge area of the continent. Nasser is anxious also to exert a commanding interest in embattled Algeria. The Russians and Red Chinese loudly support the Algerian Nationalist revolution against France. This places the Communists and the most powerful of Arab leaders on the same side in that argument. By implication, it places the Western powers in an opposed camp. The arrangement is convenient both for the Russians and the Arab leaders.

Take the leaders of Ghana and Guinea in West Africa. They apparently are ambitious to be spokesmen for all emerging black Africa. The Russians have encouraged these ambitions and in return have won Guinean and Ghanaian support for Red maneuvers in the heart of the continent.

The Russians have done well in wooing these leaders, but they still are not satisfied. They are demanding more and more of what they call unity against "criminal plans of the imperialists in the Congo."

Should they succeed, the Russians will have reached the point where they can reduce the U. N. to a skeleton of what it is supposed to be, a tattered copy of its defunct predecessor, the League of Nations.

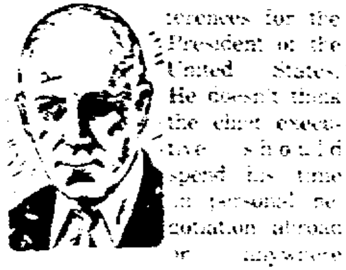
Dean Rusk Not In-Favor of Summit Talks

Secretary of State Says Danger Great When Top Men Meet

BY DAVID LAWRENCE



Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Dean Rusk, who has been selected to be secretary of state, doesn't believe in "summit" conferences for the President of the United States. He doesn't think the chief executive should spend his time in personal negotiation abroad or anywhere else. Mr. Rusk [illegible]

Kennedy Agreeable

[illegible]

A presidential system [illegible] adjust to [illegible] moving with such great mass and velocity needs [illegible] at the throttle."

The quotation was in reference to the need for a president to stay on the job instead of traveling constantly to foreign countries, but the advice applies equally to a system of government which gives a new secretary of state a little more than 30 days to learn the inside story of what's really been going on in the "cold war."

POST-CRESCENT News of the Twin Cities
Neenah - Menasha

Sewage Treatment Survey Undertaken In Town of Neenah

Board Receives Preliminary Report From Engineering Firm

NEENAH — A preliminary report on a sewage treatment survey being taken for the Town of Neenah was presented to the Neenah town board Tuesday night by A. W. Scholl of the McMahon Engineering Co. The survey had been ordered by the town board as part of a long range planning program.

Meeting with the board were members of the town planning commission. The town is not under any orders by the state to establish a sewage treatment system but wants to be prepared for any eventuality.

Scholl outlined a possible system for handling the sewage disposal and said he would like to meet with the state board of health to obtain its reactions to the possible systems before continuing on with the survey.

Several wells in the more urban parts of the town have been reported to be developing contamination problems.

95 Pct. Pure Effluent

Scholl pointed out the plans being considered call for a secondary treatment plant with a 95 per cent pure effluent. He suggested that possibly five lift stations could be established along the lakeshore area between the Neenah city limits and the Town of Vinland line with a central station to handle the treatment.

He proposed handling the sewage disposal for the area east of the railroad tracks as one unit and the western part of the town as a second unit. The problem seemed to be more critical in the eastern section, planning committee and town board members agreed.

Lake Winnebago and the slough were cited as places for disposal of the almost pure effluent but because of the water circulation flow in the lake it was thought that the slough might be the better place.

20,000 Population

Scholl believed that each district should be planned to handle a population of 20,000 persons as a possible future growth in the area. The lakeshore area now has about 1,200 persons.

Planning committee members sitting in the discussion were Martin Kuetner, chairman, Henry Malchow and Elmer Stevert. Also on this committee are C. G. R. Johnson and Town Chairman Louie Hearey.

Committee members stressed the idea was to have the groundwork laid and plans developed in case the need for some type of sewage treatment system should develop. There is no immediate plan to begin constructing such facilities.

Will Test Plan Soon

Neenah, Menasha Civil Defense Organizations Differ in Scope

BY DON CASTONIA
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEENAH — A sharp contrast in Civil Defense organizing is represented by Neenah and Menasha.

Neenah has completed an elaborate Civil Defense plan on paper while neighboring Menasha is still in the early stages of drawing up its operating proposal. However the situation in the two cities differs somewhat.

In time of emergency Neenah will have to mobilize the city's utilities while in Menasha the city owned power and water companies would automatically be brought into play.

In many instances services have been coordinated to eliminate duplication of organization in the Twin Cities. Such services include hospital and medical, public information, communications, gas utility and heavy construction equipment.

This is the third in a series of articles on the civil defense program in Winnebago County dealing with the county's report on the activities of the municipalities within the county.

Test Plan

Neenah's plan will soon be put to a test. A test alert is planned within the near future, probably in the next six weeks.

The purpose of the alert will be to see how fast the organization reacts and how well the key people do their jobs. An advance notice will be given but not to the exact day or time.

Disasters are classified either "civil" or "military" under the Neenah plan. Within this disasters are further broken down to "minor," "major" and "catastrophic."

Minor Disaster

In a minor disaster, the police and fire departments notify Mayor Chester S. Bell and Civil Defense Director Wayne Bryan and give a quick appraisal of the situation.

In a major disaster a state of emergency could be declared by either the mayor or Civil Defense director. A state of emergency for a catastrophe could be declared on either local, state or national level.

An 11 man Civil Defense committee has been set up consisting of all department heads in the organization. Members of the committee include Mayor Bell, Bryan, R. V. Hauser, city clerk and deputy Civil Defense director; John Zick, fire chief and head of fire services; Irv Stilp, police chief and head of police services.

4 Candidates Seek Menasha Treasurer Job

Ald. Fred Block 1st Candidate to File Nomination

MENASHA — One alderman has filed completed nomination papers and three citizens have secured papers for the city treasurer's post.

Second Ward Ald. Frederick J. Block, [illegible] Gen[illegible] Ave., became the first candidate to file papers. He seeks a second term on the Menasha common council.

Block

The three [illegible] treasurer candidates are Frank [illegible], [illegible] St., a police [illegible]; Everett Luebben, 743 [illegible] St., an automotive parts department [illegible]; and John R. LeMaire, [illegible] St., former manager of the Neenah-Menasha [illegible].

W. W. Edwards, [illegible] St., deputy treasurer, earlier secured papers for the treasurer's post.

Treas. Frank Beck announced he will retire from the treasurer's post which he has served since November 1942. His term expires April 30.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stommel Of Menasha Dies at 94

MENASHA — Mrs. Elizabeth Stommel, 94, 2[illegible]0 Second St., widow of the late John J. Stommel, died at 2:2[illegible] p.m. Tuesday at Oshkosh. She was born Feb. 12, 1866 in Milwaukee and came to Menasha at an early age, living on the same street for more than 90 years. She was a charter member of the St. Anne Society and a member of the Third Order of St. Francis and of the Women's Relief Corps. She and her husband had been married for 68 years when he died in 1956.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a.m. Friday at St. Mary's Catholic church with burial in the parish cemetery. Friends may call at the Laemmrich Funeral home after 3 p.m. Thursday and the rosary will be said there at 3 and 8 p.m. Thursday.

A son is the only immediate survivor.

Student Council Holds Tea for NHS Faculty Members

NEENAH — Faculty members of Neenah High School were entertained by the Student Council at a tea at 4 p.m. Monday in the home economics department.

Home economics students baked more than 1,000 cookies for the tea.

Windows Frosted, Car Strikes Utility Pole

MENASHA — An auto driven by Chester R. Olszewski, 23, [illegible] Sixth St., rammed a utility pole at the corner of Sixth and Manitowoc streets about 8:07 a.m. today, causing extensive front end damage to the vehicle.

Olszewski told police he was unable to see the pole because his car windows were frosted. His car was making a right turn. Police said he will be charged.

Mrs. Anthony Klenke and her husband look on helplessly as firemen attempt to put a hose through an upstairs window of their burning home on S. Lake Avenue in the town of Neenah. The fire, which broke out about 11 a.m. Tuesday, destroyed the interior of the house and all of the family's possessions.

Ziel Requests New Mental Condition Test

Ruled Incompetent In 1952 in Shotgun Slaying of Mother

OSHKOSH — Hearing on his mental condition has been asked of municipal court here by William F. Ziel, route 1, Neenah, who in 1952 had been declared incompetent to stand trial for the murder of his mother.

Ziel, who is now 35, has been confined to Central State Hospital at Waupun since Dec. 16, 1952, when the late Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger ordered him confined there for an indefinite term.

He was charged with the shotgun slaying of his mother, Mrs. Helen Ziel, as they scuffled for the gun in the living room of their small home across from the Tullar School just west of Neenah. The shooting occurred about 3 a.m. on Nov. 12, shortly after Ziel had arrived home from work.

A finding by Central State Hospital psychiatrists indicated Ziel showed schizophrenic reactions of the paranoid type and thus was not mentally competent to stand trial for the murder charge.

Ziel in his petition states that he has recovered and wants a new hearing on his mental condition.

Educational Research In Wisconsin Topic Of Oshkosh Meeting

OSHKOSH — A special Wisconsin Association for Student Teaching committee will meet with members of Oshkosh State College education department Wednesday to launch a plan to increase educational research in Wisconsin.

Dr. David L. Bowman, association president and director of teacher education at OSC, said the association committee was appointed to encourage an acceleration of educational research in Wisconsin colleges which offer a teacher education program.

"Not only will the committee encourage individual research but it will encourage broader studies which will involve the cooperation of several colleges," he said. Each participating college would be responsible for some phase of the research study.

The Oshkosh meeting will be the first to be conducted by the association committee headed by Dr. James MacDonald, director of school experimentation and research in the elementary school at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

An OSC committee has been preparing for the Wednesday meeting by surveying members of the campus school faculty and education department to determine possible areas for research studies.

Green Bay Man To Face Assault, Battery Charge

MENASHA — Accused on a citizen's complaint of assault and battery, Robert F. Schoen, 29, Green Bay, this morning pleaded innocent in Police Justice Arthur J. Ales' court.

Trial was set for 10 a.m. Dec. 28. Schoen remains free on $104 bond.

He was accused of assaulting and injuring Vincent Storch, 116 [illegible] St., Neenah, on the morning of Nov. 27 behind a Tayco street tavern. Storch, who brought the charge, said he received fractured cheekbones and other facial injuries.

Schoen told Ales today he did not remember anything about the alleged incident.

St. Mary High Honors Students for Work

David Sonnleitner Cited for Outstanding Scholarship; Attendance Awards Given

MENASHA — For outstanding scholarship achievements, David Sonnleitner, 335 Oak St., a senior, was honored today at St. Mary High School's annual awards day.

Sonnleitner, who qualified in the 99th percentile among all American high school students in the National Merit Scholarship qualifying tests last spring, will be a semifinalist and eligible to take further scholarship screening tests.

He also received first prize rating in the local mathematical tournament sponsored by the Future Engineers of America. Sonnleitner received a certificate of outstanding proficiency in mathematics from the Wisconsin section of the Mathematical Association of America.

Second and third place winners in the engineers mathematics contest were Mary Kober and David's brother, William Sonnleitner.

Certificates for the mathematics tournament also were given Tom Fuller, James Schaver, James Brizzee, Robert Larson, Robert Van Dyke, Adrian Martin, Darlene Tews, Geraldine Smarzinski, Ellen Vossem, Barbara Merks, Steve Schmidt.

Carol Bernhagen, John Kober, Mary Juneau, David Frank, Martha Crikelair, Constance Taves, Bill Sonnleitner, David Liebhauser, Mary Rogers, Bill Schoultz, John Letter, Lynn Foth, Dan Artz, Jim Kettenhoven, Roger Walbrun, Geoffrey Mueller and Michael Roemer.

Perfect attendance awards were 18 letters to sophomores, nine letters and seven bars to juniors and 16 letters and 11 bars to seniors.

Municipalities Receive Tax Payments From Area Utilities

OSHKOSH — A check for $91,316 was received today from the state as Winnebago County's share of utility tax payments, County Clerk Neil A. Hoffmann announced.

Payments making up the check were $62.30 from the Menasha Electrical and Water Utility, $747.59 from the Neenah-Menasha Water Power Co., $28,424 from the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co., $51,154 from Wisconsin Public Service Corp., $5,632 from Wisconsin Power and Light Co. and $5,205 from Michigan-Wisconsin Pipe Line Co.

Menasha City Clerk Harry Kind today received notification of $16,811.38 for utility taxes.

The figure is broken down as $221.27 from Michigan-Wisconsin Pipeline Co., $16,094.18 from Wiscon Michigan Power Co., and $495.93 from Neenah-Menasha Water Power Co.

Menasha's city-owned water and light utility previously contributed $60,000 to the city general fund in lieu of utility taxes. For 1961, it will contribute $67,932.

Neenah City Clerk R. V. Hauser announced Neenah received a check of $53,381.42 as its share of utility tax payments.

Charities to Share Estate Of Ida Watkins

Menasha Church, Oneida Group Get Large Bequests

OSHKOSH — Wills of two Twin City residents were admitted to probate Tuesday by County Judge Herbert J. Mueller with one of them leaving a considerable portion of her estate to various church and charity groups.

The late Mrs. Ida Van Buren Watkins of Menasha, who died Oct. 28, left 15 per cent of her estate to the Sisters of St. Anne of the Episcopal Church at Oneida, 10 per cent to St. Thomas Episcopal Church of Menasha and another 10 per cent for establishment of the E[illegible] M. [illegible] Memorial Fund at St. Thomas Church.

Health Groups

She also made bequests of 2 per cent to the Rev. A. A. Chambers of New York City, a former rector of St. Thomas Church at Menasha, and named the Rev. T. K. C[illegible] to a third interest in a 5 per cent share in the estate.

Sharing equal portions of 15 per cent of the estate will be the Wisconsin chapters of the American Heart Association, American Cancer Association, Cerebral Palsy and the Polio Foundation. A 5 per cent share was placed in trust for the upkeep of the Robertson plot at Oak Hill cemetery.

Three persons were given $500 bequests and nine others were named to share in certain percentages of the estate. The value of her estate has been listed as unknown.

The late Albert F. Schroeder, Neenah, who died Nov. 6, left the bulk of his estate in outright grants and in trust to his widow with the exception of a $5,000 bequest to his son, Robert, Whitehall, Mont., and a diamond ring to a grandson. His estate was estimated at more than $35,000.

County Principals Re-Elect Officers

OSHKOSH — Officers of the Winnebago County Elementary Principals' Association were re-elected at a meeting Monday at the courthouse lounge.

They are Thomas Kerrigan, Lakeside School, Town of Black Wolf, president; Miss Edna Palecek, Winneconne Community Schools, vice president; and Robert Fowler, Spring Road School, Town of Menasha, secretary.

Discussion centered around plans for the midwinter in service training program for county teachers.

Blindness No Handicap To Pretty Schoolmarm

JEFFERSON CITY, MO. — When Marcia Setzer learned she was going blind, there were no hysterics.

Instead, the attractive 32-year-old teacher made careful plans to meet her handicap.

By the time she had lost her sight three years later, she had a job as one of Missouri's first blind public school teachers.

Marcia's vision started to fail in 1957 when she was teaching at White Hall, Ill. She began using a magnifying glass to correct homework papers, but she gave no hint of the trouble to her pupils.

"I didn't think it good for the children to work under the problems of their teacher as well as their own," she explains.

Self-Confident

A specialist confirmed that a diabetic condition soon would leave the young woman with only 2 per cent vision.

Marcia went to live with her parents in Jefferson City, where her father, William J. Setzer is director of the Missouri Temperance League.

Blindness came slowly. So Marcia studied Braille — "At first I could see the raised dots and could have cheated. But I didn't — I knew it was important to me."

Her self confidence took a giant step when she capably filled a nine-day assignment as a substitute teacher in high school English and French.

"That gave me the idea I had something to give," she says.

To qualify for full-time teaching in Missouri, Marcia took courses in education and psychology at Lincoln University. Then she spent four months at a rehabilitation center for the blind in Minneapolis.

New Skills

"The chief thing I wanted was travel training — how to use the white cane," she says. She learned not to be afraid of moving around on her own. And she learned self-care — how to sew on buttons, do ironing, eat without spilling food.

Proud of her new skills, Marcia laid down a barrage of job applications through the Missouri Bureau of the Blind. Finally she landed a post as a teacher of Spanish and French in the Dexter, Mo., school system.

To set up class assignments she uses a Braille writer and a tape recorder. She obtains texts on tapes provided through the National Braille Press.

She wants sighted people to realize that "blind persons are, first of all, people — that there is much more in life than a handicap." Her own career is proof of that.

K of C Plans Clergy Night, Initiation

MENASHA — Nicolet Council, Knights of Columbus, will hold a "clergy night" with all local pastors and assistants as guests at its 7 p.m. Thursday meeting at Knights of Columbus clubhouse. Special invitations have been sent to local area council chaplains.

LWV Celebrates Publication Of New Booklet at Yule Tea

Post-Crescent Photos

The Publication of Its New and revised edition of the booklet, "The Cities and Towns of Neenah and Menasha," was celebrated by Neenah-Menasha League of Women Voters members at the annual Christmas tea held Friday at Mrs. C. B. Clark's home, 617 E. Wisconsin Ave., Neenah. At the tea, above, from left are Mrs. William Burger, Mrs. C. G. R. Johnson, Mrs. William Herziger and Mrs. William Daniel, pouring. Examining a copy of the new publication, at the left, in the same order are Roman Hauser, Neenah city clerk, Menasha Mayor John Klein and Mrs. Richard Willis.

2 Masonic Units Name New Officers

MENASHA — Mrs. Wallace Stenson was elected worthy matron and Dewey VanBuskirk, worthy patron, of Menasha Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, at a Tuesday meeting at Menasha Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Edward Moon, was named associate matron and Clifford Flom, associate patron. Elected to other posts were Mrs. Robert Mais, conductress; Mrs. Ray Hollands, associate conductress, Mrs. Joe Beisenstein, secretary, and Mrs. Everett Luebben, treasurer. Clarence Smith was elected to a 3-year trustee term.

Formal installation is scheduled for Jan. 10.

* * *

John A. Bryan Lodge held its annual officer election Monday evening at Menasha Masonic Temple. Emil H. Ristau was named worshipful master. Walter Bylewski is senior warden and Harvey Sackett, junior warden. Everett Luebben will serve as treasurer and J. W. Herrbold as secretary.

Clifford Flom was named trustee for a 3-year term.

Appointive officers include Harold Sitter, senior deacon; John Towns, junior deacon; William Palm, senior steward; Jack Wolfe, junior steward, and Thomas A. Calder, tiler.

An open installation ceremony will be held at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Job's Daughters To Hold Supper

NEENAH — A gift wrapping party will follow a 5 p.m. Thursday chili supper of Neenah Bethel, International Order of Job's Daughters, at Neenah Masonic Temple.

Gifts, which will be dedicated at the business meeting, will be wrapped for mental health and old age service projects. During the business session, a farewell meeting for outgoing officers, secret pals will be revealed.

Grange Annual Masked Dance Date Announced

GREENVILLE — The annual masquerade dance for the South Greenville Grange was set for Feb. 4 by the entertainment committee when the Grange met Saturday evening.

The community service committee announced a donation given to the Neillsville Indian Mission School.

For the lecturer's hour, under the direction of Mrs. Isaac Hart, Robert Last from the Winnebago hospital spoke on the needs of the patients in the hospital. Members of the Grange had a large assortment of wrapped gifts for Mr. Last for the patients.

The juveniles made gold and silver ornaments to put on the Grange Christmas tree and made and sold Christmas corsages.

The Grange Christmas party will be Saturday evening after a short meeting at 8 p.m. The matron of the juveniles, Mrs. Charles Ross, is in charge of the program.

Legion Unit Presents Flags

NEENAH — Hawley-Dieckhoff American Legion Auxiliary presented a 50-star flag to Brownie Troop 352 of Wilson School at a Thursday meeting at the home of Mrs. Imbert Huus, Jr., 215 E. Peckham St. Mrs. George Lansing, auxiliary president, and Mrs. Arthur Kessler, Americanism chairman, made the presentation. Troop leaders are Mrs. Huus and Mrs. Theodore Dupont.

The auxiliary also presented a flag recently to Clayton School for an outdoor flag pole. LeRoy Luebke, a seventh grade student, accepted the flag for the school.

Who's New Club Plans Luncheon

NEENAH — The annual Christmas luncheon of Who's New Club will be held at 1 p.m. Tuesday at the Valley Inn.

Chairman of the decorations and general arrangements committee is Mrs. Michael Hanley. She will be assisted by Mrs. Frank Hirst, Mrs. William Cerny and Mrs. Donald Lautenschlager.

A program of Christmas carols and the reading of the story of the first Christmas will be given by Mrs. Johannes Fogh, Mrs. Joseph McClellan, Mrs. Hanley, Mrs. Robert Nennert, Mrs. John Kalians and Mrs. John Manch.

The club also is participating in the Christmas Giving committee project by donating gifts of food and children's presents.

* * *

Arrangements for an "old fashioned family Christmas party" will be completed by Betty Rebekah Lodge at 8 p.m. Friday at the Odd Fellows Hall. The party will be held at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Committee members are the Mmes. Robert Booth, Wilson Barr, Leland Cayo, Otto Burster, Pat Curran, Leslie Pease and Mr. and Mrs. David Clark.

Judith Wright

Tell Troth of Judith Wright, Robert Adams

MENASHA — Mr. and Mrs. Roger Wright, 820 Lakecrest Drive, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Judith Anne, to Robert L. Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Adams, 241 Prospect St.

Both young people are graduates of Menasha High School.

Grange Hears Robert Last

NEENAH — Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Last were guests of South Greenville Grange at its meeting Saturday evening, which featured Christmas gifts for patients at Winnebago State Hospital. Last, volunteer coordinator at the hospital, talked on things outside groups can do to help patients back to normal community life.

It was voted to send money to the Indian Mission School, Neillsville.

Mrs. Mary Ross, the matron at the Indian Mission School, met with the Juvenile Grange members who made decorations for the tree and corsages to be sold after the meeting.

The next meeting, Dec. 17, will begin with a short business session at 8 p.m., after which the Christmas program will be given.

Hob Nobbers Plan Dance

NEENAH — Hob Nobbers Dance Club has planned a Christmas dinner dance for Saturday evening at the Conway Hotel, Appleton. The dinner is scheduled for 7 p.m. with dancing to 1 a.m.

In charge of arrangements are Mr. and Mrs. William Bayer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clarke and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sanotsky.

Athletes Get Letters at St. Mary High

Awards Presented For Football and 3 Spring Sports

MENASHA — St. Mary football lettermen received their awards, as did boys who participated in golf, tennis and baseball last spring, at an award program this morning in the Zephyr gymnasium.

The 27 football lettermen, who were announced earlier, included 17 seniors, three juniors, six sophomores and one freshman.

Baseball lettermen were Tom Hanson, Jim Ruecki, Gary Shriver and Dale DeKarske, who have graduated, Bob Jensen, Jim Koerner, Bill Becker, Paul Walbrun, Paul Meier, Paul Mix, Phil Keller, Pete Snyder and managers Gary Laeyendecker and Lynn Foth.

Awards for cheerleading went to Mary DuFrane, Mary Pepin, Nell Wilz, Kathy Rusch, Joan Schmitzer, Susan Shaw, Carmen Koerner and Kathy Vanderhyden.

Hewitt's Defeats Reedsville; Hits 30 in 3rd Period

REEDSVILLE — Triggered by a 30-point third quarter, Hewitt's Machines defeated Reedsville of the Eastern Wisconsin Amateur League 92-75 in a non-league game here Tuesday night.

The losers led 22-19 at the quarter and retained a 3-point halftime advantage as both clubs hit 16 points in the second frame. The Machinemen took a 65-55 lead with a 30-15 third quarter edge.

Ralph Kiesow's 22 points led the Hewitt scoring while four others hit 10 or more. Ron Akin dropped in 26 for Reedsville and Dick Eickert added 20.

Tonight, Hewitt's will meet the St. Norbert jayvees at 6:30 p.m. at De Pere in a preliminary to the Knights' varsity game.

Zephyrs Entertain Cadets; Seek 16th Consecutive Win

Bid for Fourth Triumph in Catholic Conference Play

MENASHA — St. Mary's many winning streaks will be put on the line Thursday night when the undefeated Menashans entertain Green Bay Premontre in a Fox Valley Catholic Conference fracas.

The game will be played at Neenah's St. Margaret Mary Gym, the first of several contests to be played by the Zephyrs on Twin City grade school courts.

The records show St. Mary with five straight wins this season, including three in FVCC play. The Zephyrs have a string of 15 successive wins, including a carry-over of 10 from their state championship season and they haven't lost to their last 25 conference opponents.

Premontre, coached for the second season by Clayton Maloney, has a 2-2 record but hasn't played anyone the calibre of St. Mary.

The Cadets downed Oshkosh Lourdes 61-49 in their opener and then lost an overtime thriller 50-48 to Marinette Catholic Central in their first league affair.

Win Two Straight

A Sturgeon Bay team, which had lost to Pennings by 30 points, defeated the Cadets 62-53. Since then, the Bays have won their last two outings.

After being held to 15 points in the first period, they downed East Green Bay 58-47 and in their last start and second conference outing stopped St. John 57-35. East has only won one game in the last two years while St. John is winless this fall.

Maloney opened the season with a nucleus of five lettermen. They were Mike McCary and Bill Ehlinger, both part-time regulars last year. Rick Jansing and Bill Wesley, who were brought up from the jayvees late in the season, and Mike O'Brien, a small but aggressive guard.

The squad also includes five boys from last year's jayvees, which had an unspectacular 1-7 league mark plus four sophomores from a good frosh squad which reached the finals of the Diocesan Freshman tourney here last March.

Tall Sophomores

Wesley is 6-4½ and the four sophomores all are 6-footers. None of the scorers have been real consistent but O'Brien, McCary, Ehlinger and Wesley all hit in the double figures at least once in the early games.

For St. Mary, the tussle will be its second last before the holidays closing play a week from Friday here against Fond du Lac Springs.

The Zephyrs trounced Marinette Catholic Central 87-66 in their last outing after nipping Pennings earlier in the week. Their initial league win was at St. John's expense.

Too Many Fouls

Although they are unbeaten, the Menashans haven't quite jelled as yet and one of their big problems is an abundance of fouls. They committed 37 in winning over Marinette and were saddled with 26 in the opener at De Pere. Violations cost points in the Pennings game, too.

In last year's meetings, the Cadets gave St. Mary trouble at Green Bay before succumbing by 12 points while in the Menasha encounter the hosts were in command all the way 85-52.

Twin City Frosh Clubs Clash; Both Own 2-1 Records

MENASHA — The Neenah and Menasha freshmen, both with 1-1 Valley Freshman League records and 2-1 overall marks, clash at 4:15 p.m. Thursday at the Butte des Morts Gym in their final game before the holidays.

The Bluejays won over Fox Valley Lutheran and Kaukauna and lost to Kimberly while the Rockets downed New London and Madison and bowed to Wilson.

Neenah easily won both of last year's games 49-21 and 42-11.

Shamrocks Tip Appleton Quint

MENASHA — St. Patrick defeated St. Therese of Appleton 37-27 Monday night in a Catholic Boy League encounter.

The score was tied 8-all after a quarter and St. Patrick led 16-15 at halftime and 27-21 after three periods. Terry Haack scored nine points and Jim Becker added eight for the Shamrocks. Rankin's 11 paced St. Therese. St. Therese won the "B" game 22-21.

Marinette Cagers Defeat Peshtigo

MARINETTE — Marinette Catholic Central, which last Friday lost by 21 points to St. Mary, rebounded from an 18-9 first period deficit to defeat Peshtigo 69-58 Tuesday night.

Bill Early scored 29 points and Paul [illegible] had 23 to account for 52 of the Cavaliers' 69 points.

Zephyr Graders Bow to Appleton

MENASHA — St. Mary of Appleton bested St. Mary's Junior Zephyrs 31-26 in a Catholic Boy League game here Tuesday night. The Menashans trailed 18-14 at the half but had a 20-all tie after three periods.

They led 22-20 briefly but were outscored 11-4 the rest of the way. Vandenberg's 13 points paced Appleton. Tom Mortell hit 11 for St. Mary. The visitors also took the "B" game 32-14.

MENASHA — St. John picked up its fourth straight Menasha Muni Basketball League win but was forced to go into overtime before overcoming Marathon 63-59 Tuesday night at the Butte des Morts Gym.

In another overtime battle, the Menasha Macs downed the Menasha Merchants 52-51.

St. John led Marathon 15-16 at the quarter and 32-29 at halftime but fell behind 47-45 at the close of three segments. The score was tied 56-all at the end of regulation time.

Jerry Kozlowski scored 17 points and Bob Franz added 14 for the winners while for Marathon Carl Kostorek hit 22 on 22 baskets.

The Merchants were in front of the Macs 13-10 at the quarter but the latter gained a 28-25 halftime advantage. The Merchants were back on top 33-32 at the close of three sessions. The score was knotted at 42-apiece at the end of four frames.

Pete Bruchardt scored 15 points and John Wilz had 10 for the Macs while Gary Bailey's 29 points led the Merchant output.

MADISON — Manitowoc continues to set a fast pace in the University of Wisconsin Extension Division Basketball Conference with six straight wins.

The Shipbuilders crushed Green Bay 89-52 in their last outing. Fox Valley Center was idle last weekend. Sheboygan downed Racine 66-53 in the only other game.

Manitowoc owns a 1½ game advantage over Sheboygan with Fox Valley and Wausau tied for third, a half game out of second, with 3-1.

Racine and Kenosha, both of which [illegible] are in the thick of the pennant race, are winless as is Marinette.

Duwayne P[illegible] of Sheboygan paces the individual scorers with 1[illegible] points in five games for an average of 2[illegible] per start. Ron Schum and Roger Thielen of Manitowoc rank second and third with 1[illegible]4 and 10[illegible] respectively but both have played six games.

Fox Valley's leading scorer is Jay Drzewiecki, who has scored [illegible] points in four games.

Electricity's Role In Harvesting Topic At Final Farm Meeting

OSHKOSH — The concluding session in the farm machinery short course sponsored by the county agricultural extension office will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Wisconsin Public Service meeting room at Ceape and Court Streets in Oshkosh, Donald Tripp, assistant agricultural agent announced today.

Don Brunton of the Wisconsin Public Service will discuss the role of electricity in grain harvesting and storage. [illegible] agricultural engineer from the University of Wisconsin will discuss the area of corn harvesting and methods of storage.

Donald Tripp, who has acted as chairman of the short course sessions, will summarize previous meetings.

Karisny Slaps 683 In Menasha Wheel

Jars 268 Solo; Sheldon Fires 266 in Catholic Men's Loop

MENASHA — Big series and big games were the order of the night Monday in the St. John Holy Name Bowling league at the Mid-Town alleys and the Catholic Men's League at the Brin Bowl.

John Karisny thundered a 268 game and 683 threesome to dominate scoring in the St. John circuit while Dick Sheldon belted a 266 game and John Wilz had a 644 trio in the Catholic circuit.

Karisny's 268 game was good for a tie for the high game of the season rolled on Menasha lanes. "Heinie" [illegible] clubbed a similar score earlier in the year at Mid-Town.

Sheldon's 266 was for the second best Menasha score. Tom Walsh [illegible] St. John League at Mid-Town a couple of weeks ago. Sheldon had a string of seven strikes from the fourth to the 10th frame.

Walsh registered a 248 game and 5[illegible] series for Monday's only other honor scores in the St. John League.

Nicholas Verding holds a 6-game lead with a 34-8 record.

Cemetery Rate Increase Asked By Commission

New Lot Charge Would Range From $55 to $475

NEENAH — A general increase in the schedule of cemetery charges will be submitted to the common council next Wednesday by the cemetery commission, Mayor Chester S. Bell, commission chairman, announced.

Mayor Bell said the new schedule would bring the cemetery charges in line with other cemeteries in the area and make the cemetery more self-supporting.

Each year the cemetery is subsidized by all of the taxpayers for the benefit of those who own lots, the mayor said.

The proposed price schedule calls for a charge of $55 for a single grave lot and up to $475 for a large lot. The price in each case includes perpetual care. The old price range was from $40 to $319.

Annual care of graves, for those not having perpetual care, will range from $1.50 for a single grave, to $10 for an eight grave lot. The old charge was a flat $3.

Vault use charges will range from $3 to $8 and grave marker foundations will cost from $5 to $1?.

The charges for grave openings will be increased to $55 with an additional $20 charge for an opening between Dec. 15 and Mar. 15. There also will be an additional charge for late funerals.

Aluminum Firm Declares Special 80 Cent Dividend

MANITOWOC (AP) —The Aluminum Specialty Co., manufacturers of aluminum Christmas trees and other specialties, declared a special 60 cent dividend Tuesday in addition to a regular 20 cent quarterly dividend.

President John W. Torrison told directors the firm was completing a "very successful year" with prospects of sales topping the $[illegible] million mark, some 25 per cent more than in 1959.

Directors voted the special dividend, with 30 cents to be payable Dec. 30 to stockholders of record Dec. 23 along with the regular quarterly, and 10 cents to be payable in each of the first three quarters of 1961.

They also voted to contribute $125,000 to the employes profit sharing fund.

Former Convict Pleads Guilty of Drowning Florida Judge, Wife

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) —Floyd A. Holzapfel, [illegible]-year-old ex-convict, has pleaded guilty to the drowning of Circuit Judge Curtis E. Chillingworth and his wife, Marjorie, five years ago.

Judge Russell O. Morrow took the unusual action of hearing Holzapfel's case without a jury Tuesday and said he will hear additional testimony in circuit court on Feb. 20.

The judge warned the former college debater that he could be sentenced to death in the electric chair, to which Holzapfel replied:

"I'm willing to stand up here and plead guilty and take my medicine."

Holzapfel confessed last month that he and a Negro, George Lincoln, kidnapped the veteran Judge Chillingworth, 58, and his wife from their oceanside home and drowned them on the night of June 14, 1955.

The former Oklahoma City man, who has a record of arrests for bookmaking, armed robbery and attempted rape, said he and Lincoln were paid $2,000 for the killings by Joseph A. Peel Jr., [illegible], who feared Chillingworth would have him disbarred.

Peel, a former city judge, was charged as an accessory before the killings and pleaded innocent. Peel will have a hearing Thursday.

Woody Wood Duck Hits South on Jet Flight

CHELSEA, Mich. —P— All ducks fly south but how many of them ride in jet-propelled [illegible]?

That's the fortune of a certain wood duck named Woody, who failed to use his head—or his wings—at the right time.

For some reason Woody stayed behind when the rest of the flock departed for the sunny south. He woke up one morning to find himself frozen in the ice of a small lake near here.

The son of Albert Kleis, a Michigan conservation employe, happened along, chopped Woody loose and took him home.

Kleis contacted Eastern Air Lines, which today inaugurated regular jet flights to Miami, Fla. Woody got a reservation on the first flight.

Tot Returned From Hospital To Spend Holidays at Home

FREMONT—Little Sandra Krenke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Krenke, route 2, Fremont, will be able to spend the holiday season with her parents and her sister Cindy.

She returned home Sunday from the University Hospital, Madison, where she was being treated for a rare type of blood disease.

The illness, that prevents manufacture of blood, is so rare that only six such cases have ever been treated at the Madison hospital. She will return to Madison [illegible] for further tests and treatment.

The little [illegible] girl took sick Nov. 7 after having been treated for a cold. She was taken to the New London Hospital and then moved to St. Elizabeth Hospital, Appleton, from which she returned home for Thanksgiving. Treatments at the orthopedic hospital, Madison were begun Nov. 23.

Sandra, in the third grade of St. John Parochial School of East Bloomfield, will have an especially [illegible] Christmas this year. Because of the nature of her illness and the required prolonged treatment, funds are being raised at the Appleton State Bank, Fremont. A jar in which residents may place contributions will be delivered to the Krenke residence Dec. 2? by Mrs. Beverly Borchardt and Mrs. Virginia Niemuth, bank employees.

Contributions are also being received by James Boyson and Elmer Krebe's barbershop, Tustin; Mrs. Norman Risse, Waupaca and Mrs. Fred Lang and Mrs. Ray Ritschke, Orihula.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Republican John G. Tower, declaring [illegible] without a [illegible] yesterday announced his candidacy for the U.S. Senate.

Tower, 35, a former teacher at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, was defeated by Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson for the senate seat in the Nov. 8 general election. Johnson polled 1,3[illegible],[illegible]25 votes, Tower 92[illegible].

Tower said at a news conference that he is "the only genuine conservative candidate now in the race." Already announced are three Democratic candidates—former Sen. William H. Blakely of Dallas, State Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio and U.S. Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth.

Call Ballot Recount in 34 Honolulu Precincts

HONOLULU (AP)—A ballot recount in 34 of this island state's 2[illegible] precincts will be made in response to Democratic charges of irregularities in the close presidential election.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon was certified the winner over President Elect John F. Kennedy by a margin of only 141 votes. Hawaii has three electoral votes.

Circuit Court Judge Ronald B. Jamieson, in ordering the recount Tuesday, said he would order a complete recount if enough irregularities are disclosed.

ministrator of Theda Clark Hospital, hospital services; William Dunwiddie, Neenah High School teacher, housing, feeding and clothing; Ed Bloch, Kimberly-Clark Corp., communications, and H. R. Luebke, city engineer, engineering services.

Each of these men, in turn, has alternates in the various departments.

The duties of each section have been spelled out as to the responsibility of all the men in time of disaster.

Tom McGuire, Menasha electric and water utility superintendent, and Menasha Civil Defense director, has been faced with the problem of apathy more than Neenah has.

He also admitted he probably has been a bit lax in attempting to develop the organization.

Auxiliary Police

McGuire and Mayor John Klein feel much of the Civil Defense program should revolve around an auxiliary police force. The mayor cited the city's role as an overflow center for evacuees from Milwaukee.

McGuire said they hope to set up a 25-man auxiliary police force but have been having trouble rounding up the necessary personnel. "We have three city policemen who are qualified instructors and we also could bring in outside instructors, if necessary," McGuire said.

Mayor Klein said shift work at the mills seems to interfere with men who would be willing to participate.

Klein and McGuire plan to get together in the near future to set up division leaders. McGuire, in his role as head of the city's utilities, could mobilize those services in time of emergency.

The success of the Civil Defense organizations in both cities will hinge a great deal on the cooperation between the two. A major disaster affecting one will, necessarily, affect the other.

Driver Wrecks Car; Given Fine, 10 Days in Jail

OSHKOSH — Darrell G. Kimpel, 29, Fond du Lac, who last Wednesday night deliberately smashed his car on Highway 45 near the S. Greenville Grange, this morning received a 10-day jail sentence plus a $100 fine, imposed by Municipal Judge Arnold J. Cane.

Kimple pleaded guilty last Friday of operating while his license was revoked and of reckless driving. He received the jail term on the license charge and the fine on the reckless driving count.

Charles Gyrion, 23, 818½ Second St., Menasha, was fined $5 and costs this morning for an arterial violation in Oshkosh to which he pleaded guilty.

Donald Vesperman, 19, route 1, Oshkosh, was fined $75 and costs by Judge Cane this morning. He pleaded guilty Monday of reckless driving in a chase by Oshkosh police through the south side of the city at speeds up to 70 miles per hour.

Yule Concert At Winneconne

Band, Glee Club, Mixed Chorus To Participate

WINNECONNE — The annual Christmas concert at Winneconne High School will be presented at 2:30 p.m. Sunday under the direction of Robert F. Reed. The band, girls glee club and mixed chorus will participate.

Featured in the band portion will be the "Military Symphony in F" by Gossec, "Carol of the Drums" and a trombone - cornet duet, "Panis Angelicus" played by Dick Wentzel and John Briggs.

The girls glee club will present familiar carols and will feature Bach's "Jesu So Sweet," with a soprano solo in German by Ute Welsch.

The 6?-member mixed chorus will sing several numbers, including "Gesu Bambino" with a tenor solo sung by Gary Petrik.

"Christmas Fantasy," a selection of carols by the mixed chorus, accompanied by the band, will be the program finale.

Rusk to Take Salary Cut in Cabinet Post

NEW YORK (AP)—Dean Rusk apparently will take a cut in salary when he takes over as secretary of state in the Kennedy administration.

"It's tough on him but good for the country," one of Rusk's fellow officers at the Rockefeller Foundation said Monday night.

Rusk, as president of the foundation, received a reported salary of $50,000 or $75,000 a year. Foundation officials said the salary is confidential.

His salary as secretary of state pays only $25,000 a year. The State Department, however, pays for the secretary's official entertaining.

'Holiday on Ice' Show Exciting, Beautiful

Every Bit as Colorful, Entertaining As Last 2 Years at Green Bay Arena

BY DAVID BROOKER
Post-Crescent City Editor

GREEN BAY — The house was only about half full, but the performers didn't seem to mind much as the 1961 Holiday on Ice troupe put on its opening performance at the Brown County arena Tuesday night.

The show deserves better patronage and undoubtedly will get it before its final Green Bay showing on Dec. 18 as the word gets around that this year's Holiday is every bit as colorful and entertaining as those well-received shows of the last two seasons.

A couple of new stars have joined the galaxy of favorites and those who have seen the performances in the last two years will note with satisfaction the progress of Debbie, 7, and Bobbie, 4, Williams. They aren't the best skaters in the crew but, judging from their "curtain call" reception, they more than hold their own in pleasing the crowd. Their folks do all right, too.

Excellent Staging

Costuming, sound effects and lights are almost as important as skates in an ice show and this is no exception. They are a show in themselves. And the 1961 Holiday choreography is outstanding.

Werner Muller is new in the troupe and he won the audience immediately with his skating on stilts in his first appearance. In "Jack Be Nimble," his second solo number, he vaulted a good deal more than the proverbial candlestick Jack in an exhibition of skill and daring.

Ann Clark is her usual picture of grace in her duet with Tommy Collins and has the key role in the outstanding number on the program, "Teepees and Totem Poles." Collins, a truly polished craftsman, has his traditional solo to show off his smooth technique and again is a hit in his humorous bit with Paul Andre. Their "Concerto for Two" gets off to a slow start but the tempo picks up quickly and they have a couple of gasp-getters in their bag of tricks.

Lots of Humor

Andre's crowd pleasing "drunken sailor" routine is just as much as home in "Sunday in the Park." And he gets the first-row audience all mixed up in the show, much to the delight of the non-participating watchers.

There's plenty of humor in this show. Buddy and Buddy have a clown routine that's a winner and Ives and French, the "Sophisticates" of 1960 Holiday, go to the "Cotillion Ball" this year and run into the same kind of troubles. The dog act of Alfredo Mendoza and John LaDue is a special treat for the small fry.

The men and women of the choruses, called the Glamour-Icers and the Ice Squires, have several chances to shine. "Slavic Rhapsody" and "Revue des Ballets" give a cultural touch to the proceedings and provide Ray Balmer, Tony and Donna Jeanne LeMac, Tommy Allen and a couple of other stars with an opportunity to display their wares. Dorothy Goos, another newcomer with the cast, stars as "Scheherazade" in one section of the ballet number which features such outstanding staging it was punctuated by applause.

Spectacular and humorous costuming are featured in the "Golden Aurora" and in the "Mother Goose Land" numbers which open the first and second sections of the program. There's little display of skating skill in the closing tribute to the armed forces, but there's an exhibition of close order drill on skates that would make a U.S. Marine drill sergeant envious.

Jack Benny Plans Musical Variety Show

Director of Hospital Association Sees Increasing Prices

GEARHART, Ore. —(AP)— You can look for the cost of hospitalization to go up in the years ahead, says the director of the National Hospital Association.

Dr. Edwin L. Crosby told an Oregon hospital group convention that for the past five years hospital costs have gone up 5 per cent a year. This just reflects general trends and is likely to continue, he said.

Dr. Crosby said that in the past decade the cost of educating a child in school has gone up [illegible] per cent while cost of caring for a patient in a hospital has gone up 100 per cent.

Sponsors' Do-It-Yourself Methods Bypass Networks

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) —When, last season, a toiletries manufacturer yearned to sponsor a special documentary called "The Race for Space," he found that no network would accept the independently produced program because of a general networks broadcasting policy that each news department exercise supervision and control over preparation of this type of program.

Dashed but undaunted, the packager and the sponsor went out and arranged with individual stations across the nation to show the program. In effect, they created their own temporary network.

Anthology Series

It worked out so well that this season, the sponsor is doing the same thing again, only this time the manufacturer is selling his product through a series of entertainment programs—one of those anthology series.

Similar do-it-yourself enterprise has also been shown by the gasoline company which for years picked up the tab for the live Saturday afternoon radio broadcasts of the Metropolitan Opera. Last season CBS found it was having difficulty clearing time on its affiliated radio stations for the live broadcasts, and the best it could do was schedule taped broadcasts to be used at the convenience of local stations.

This, the sponsor and the Metropolitan Opera people felt, was not what opera-lovers wanted. So they went out and cleared time on 110 stations all over the nation which will broadcast the live music on Saturday afternoons as usual.

This proves once more there is more than one way to skin a cat or to buck a broadcasting network.

Develop Radiation Protection Instrument

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP) — Development of a new type radiation protection instrument called the Personal Radiation Monitor has been announced.

The device, about the size of a fountain pen and weighing only 3½ ounces, emits a warning tone and flashes a small light in the presence of a gamma radiation field.

Scientists here yesterday said its greatest value would be the immediate warning it would give in a radiation accident.

The device was developed by R. H. Dilworth and C. J. Borkowski of the Oak Ridge National Laboratory's Instrumentation and Controls Division.

Army Comes Through Though 10 Years Late

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—On March 26, 1950, Charles M. Saunders, then a sergeant first class in an Army medical company, suffered frostbitten hands and feet as he descended a steep mountain slope in Colorado to rescue a person injured in an auto crash.

Now an Air Force captain, Saunders was presented the Army commendation ribbon Monday in ceremonies at Brooks Air Force Base here in recognition for the Colorado rescue.

The Army apparently planned the decoration in 1950 but misplaced its papers for 10 years.

Charlie Writes of Suntanning Doll, Statistical Data, Shrdlu

POTPOURRI — A laboratory in New Jersey has developed a doll that will sunburn. It'll acquire a fine, dusky tan when exposed to the sun even as you and me. Also like you and me the doll will revert to its original skin tones after it remains indoors for a time. . . . And a New York [illegible] has given its executives three-minute [illegible] which are to be used as desk decorations — and a reminder that the sands of time [illegible]. The [illegible] are expected to [illegible] a phone call [illegible] minutes — and [illegible] last grain of sand [illegible].

In England's church, the citizens say things which Americans would protest as being contrary to democratic equality. For example, children speak this piece before confirmation: "My duty toward my neighbor is to love him as myself and to do to all men as I would they should do unto me: to love, honor and obey the queen and all that are put in authority under her; to submit myself to all my governors, teachers, spiritual pastors, and masters; to order myself lowly and reverently to all my betters [illegible]

Women [illegible] said they like red best of all. [illegible] people prefer their colors in this order: blue, green and [illegible] . . . but I have a feeling that these preferences would not hold up in the United States. Don't you?

Collectors of the pleasant "shrdlu" or backward stories are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weber of Neenah. Their contributions to my collection:

The old tale about Ichabod Crane and the Headless Horseman has given birth to another. Now, the body is gone and just the head is seen riding about [illegible], wildly, with no apparent thought to the safety of other users of the highways. The name of the new story is, of course, Little Rude Riding Head. . . .

The joys of travel! This summer we flew to Copenhagen in about seven hours. But when Nelson Dewey, Wisconsin's first governor, left his home in New York for his first visit here in 1836, here's how he did it: by stage coach to Buffalo; by steamer to Detroit; by stage coach to Round Prairie, Mich.; by lumber wagon to the mouth of the St. Joseph river; by sailing vessel to Chicago; by stage coach to the mouth of Panther Creek (now Buena Vista); on foot around the bluff to the mouth of the Turkey River; and by flat boat ferry across the Mississippi river to Cassville.

Ask More Study Of Assessments On Local Level

Wisconsin Compares Favorably With Rest of Nation

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON—There are probably many imperfections in the Wisconsin system of local assessment of property for taxation purposes, but it is going to take more study to find the remedies.

That was the conclusion of a legislative interim committee assigned by the 1959 legislature to examine into complaints that the Wisconsin property tax valuation system has deteriorated.

The committee will ask the next legislature to continue the study, and to carry on the researches started into the comparative efficiency of local assessors in municipalities of various size brackets, and the practices of the assessors in evaluating property by classifications.

Assessment Ratios

Preliminary studies show that there are broad differences in assessment ratios among communities, and among property classifications, although the constitutional rule calls for uniformity of taxation.

While finding faults in the system, the legislators and tax specialists also acknowledged that there are inherent difficulties in the field and that Wisconsin probably compares favorably with the country as a whole, and is far superior to the practices of many states.

Thomas A. Byrne, Milwaukee assessor, who is regarded as one of the experts in the field, said that such national comparative studies as have been made have shown that Wisconsin cities, especially, rank well with cities in the rest of the country.

John A. Gronouski, state commissioner of taxation, said that research in the field has been laggard but he said his impression is that Wisconsin ranks comparatively well in the country in property taxation practices. He was a professional researcher in tax administration before he took his administrative job a year ago.

Bids Taken on Last 41 Section

MADISON (AP) — Apparent low bids amounting to $5,140,837 for more than 20 road improvement projects in 18 Wisconsin counties were received by the State Highway Commission Tuesday.

Bids are subject to commission review before contracts can be signed.

Included in the list was a more than $1 million grading job, the last work of its kind in Outagamie County on four-lane U.S. 41. Bids will be sought later for the surfacing project. Some work still remains to be done in Brown, Fond du Lac and Winnebago counties before completion of the four-lane stretch between Milwaukee and Green Bay.

The Outagamie County job is roughly from the Vandenbroek-Grand Chute Town line to where the 12-mile relocation of U.S. 41 ends north of Kaukauna. It includes several structures in addition to the grading.

Hoffa, Bridges Rap Attempts to Plague Organized Labor

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)— Two powerful independent labor leaders — James Hoffa of the Teamsters and Harry Bridges of the west coast Longshoremen — declared war Monday night on what they called government attempts to plague organized labor.

They trained their verbal guns on the Landrum-Griffin labor law and the U.S. Senate rackets committee at a joint meeting of their unions' membership in civic auditorium.

"Hoffa and I are committed to unity and action," Bridges declared. "We can't worry about the McClellans, Kennedys, politicians and employers. We've got to fight."

Hoffa, who addressed the crowd of about 4,000 by telephone from Washington, D.C., declared:

"We're in for the fight of our lives. If we don't progress at the bargaining table, if our demands for an increased share in the standard of living are not met, we'll strike."

Boy Waits 2 Hours Before Snake Departs

LITTLE RUN ESTATES, Va. (AP) — Know what to do if you find a poisonous snake in bed with you?

Barry Bratter, 15, can tell you.

Barry, sleeping on the lawn of his parents home, woke at 6 a.m. to find a 2½-foot copperhead curled up on his stomach. The boy knew that a move would bring a deadly strike. He waited 2 hours until the snake slithered away then shot it with a rifle lying beside him.

Cool Air Dissipates

Huge Snowfall Proves New Yorkers are Kind

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It takes a blizzard to melt the cold, cold heart of the world's greatest city.

So, if you want to see America's leading metropolis at its friendliest, be sure to come here during a blinding snowstorm.

Civic Madhouse

On ordinary days a stranger seeing Manhattan for the first time gets the eerie impression he has been set down in a vast civic madhouse.

Everybody seems to be in a tremendous rush to get from where he is to where he isn't. Each person acts as if he were carrying an important message to Garcia. Each person appears to believe the other eight million citizens is trying to block his path.

It is a city where folks don't really seem to have time for each other. It is a city where you start mumbling "G'bye" before you finish saying "H'lo."

To many visitors, awed by the pace here, New York appears less a city than a huge traffic problem—an intricate maze endlessly threaded by two-legged ants hopped up by pep pills, ants endlessly bumping into each other, ricocheting, and then bumbling on, growling.

But let five or more inches of snow fall, and all this magically changes.

The daily scramble to gain an edge on the other fellow is forgotten. The subway stare—that self-protective look of indifference—disappears.

Gallantry Emerges

Gallantry emerges. Men cheerfully break paths through the deepening snow, and old ladies follow in their footsteps. The bus driver no longer shuts his door in the face of a passenger. He even stops his bus in the middle of the block to pick up a red-faced, panting pilgrim of the drifts.

Ill-temper vanishes. Good nature returns. An almost frolic atmosphere takes over. People share cabs who never shared cabs before. Strangers grin and speak to each other. Everybody suddenly has time to be helpful.

It might make the big city a better place to live in if it were hit with a real blizzard at least once a month throughout the year—just so it could show its real human heart more often.

Youngsters Steal Show When Jolly Old St. Nick Pays Visit to Bakery, Institute

Some Do and Some Don't Get frightened by the furry whiskers and formidable eye brows of Santa Claus. The little girl putting up the fuss is Pia Kaustinen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ola Kaustinen. Kathleen Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith, Menasha, apparently is enjoying the pleasant task of listing items she would like to find under the Christmas tree come Christmas morn. The girls' fathers are employed at the Institute.

Children Were Kings at the Party for Elm Tree Bakery employes' children Saturday afternoon in the bakery's Ambrosia Room. The young men anxious to open their presents are Terry Wolfgram, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wolfgram, Todd Snow, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Snow, and Daniel Deeg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Deeg, all of Appleton.

Mrs. John Strange Entertained youngsters of Institute of Paper Chemistry students and faculty members at her annual Christmas party Saturday afternoon in the institute auditorium. Children's games and tricks by a magician were overshadowed by a visit from that jolly old man, Santa Claus, with his bag of toys. Mrs. Strange was assisted by Mrs. Harry Lewis and Mrs. Roy Whitney. Mary Rae, Margie Van Horn, Patricia Whitney and Karen Thode helped the children with their wraps and games.

While the Youngsters Were busy talking to Santa Claus and opening their gifts, mothers were entertained at a tea in the Ambrosia Room of Elm Tree Bakery. Mrs. B. A. Pfefferle pours for Mrs. Loren Grimm, holding daughter Debbie, and Mrs. Edward Teschke, New London, with son, Mark, in her arms.

Mrs. Hubert Wetak Installed in Office

Mrs. Hubert Wetak, 612 E. Circle St., was installed as fourth vice president of the Green Bay Diocesan Council of Catholic Women at the quarterly board meeting at the Northland Hotel, Green Bay, Saturday.

Among board members elected to serve on the nominating committee were Miss Sophie Vander Linden, Green Bay, and Mrs. Elmer Halaycik, Menasha.

Mrs. Herb Bomniaski, Sacred Heart TV chairman, announced the subjects for the one-minute telecasts on the Sacred Heart program. Dec. 17 will be "Madonna Plan." Dec. 25 will be "A Message from the Diocesan Moderator, Monsignor Westenberger." Mrs. Ray Gantenbein, Diocesan president, will give a message Jan. 1.

The next quarterly board meeting will be March 4 at St. Peter and Paul Church, Green Bay.

Attending the board meeting from Appleton was Miss Marie Haag, Outagamie County Deanery president.

Parents Tell Engagement Of Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wismer, Tucson, Ariz., former Appleton residents, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Carol, to Howard Clobes. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clobes, Fairfax, Minn.

Miss Wismer, who is the granddaughter of Mrs. Anna Laudon, route 1, Appleton, is a graduate of Pueblo High School and attended the University of Arizona. She is employed by Associated Grocers. Her fiance was graduated from Fairfax High School and is currently serving in the air force at Travis Air Force Base, Calif.

April Rites Planned by Engaged Pair

Mr. and Mrs. Max Laib, route 1, Hortonville, have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Clara Evelyn, to J. Stephen Caruso. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Caruso, Tampa, Fla.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Ind. She affiliated with Kappa Tau Zeta sorority and Alpha Psi Omega dramatics fraternity. She presently is associated with Schusters in Milwaukee. Her fiance received his bachelor's degree in industrial engineering from Georgia Institute of Technology, Atlanta, Ga. He is an engineer at Allis Chalmers Corp., Milwaukee.

The wedding will take place at 4 p.m. April 8 at St. Paul Lutheran Church, Stephensville.

Scouts Visit County Hospital

Girl Scout Troop 158 of St. Pius X Catholic School recently visited Outagamie County Hospital and presented a Christmas program for the residents.

The girls also toured Earl Lithographing Co. to fulfill requirements for the printer's badge. A weekend camp-out at Winnecomac Lodge was also on the agenda.

The girls were accompanied by Mrs. Norbert Tilly, leader, and Mrs. Jerome Eastman, co-leader.

Keep Children Busy 'Painting'

To keep children busy before Christmas, turn them loose on household decorations. Designs painted on glass with scouring powder paste are easy, fun, and — above all — wash-off-able.

The recipe is simple: first, sketch any seasonal design on a door, window, or mirror with a sliver of soap or a wax crayon. Next, mix scouring powder and a little water into a thick paste, and "paint" your masterpiece with a water color brush. Then give the design a second and perhaps a third coat for richness and depth.

When dry, the paste has a firm, dense texture that lasts through the holiday season. It can be washed off, of course, with a damp cloth or sponge.

Hear Yule Program

William Meisle of Attic Theater gave a presentation of Christmas stories at Elks Ladies 337 Club meeting Monday evening. Elks Ladies chorus led the group in community singing.

Mrs. Roy Schumacher reported on the mother-daughter luncheon scheduled for Feb. 11. All Elks wives and their daughters have been invited.

The women brought gifts for welfare children. Hostesses for the Christmas meeting were Mrs. Willard Ferron, Mrs. Norman Golz, Mrs. LeRoy Breitenbach, Mrs. Homer Earl and Mrs. Clarence Horn.

Some Risks Involved in Safe Play

Sometimes you must take risks to play safe. A good bridge player knows what risks to take and which to avoid.

West leads the five of spades and East puts up the king. Naturally you refuse the first trick.

East continues with the jack of spades and you refuse this trick also. West overtakes with the queen of spades and returns the suit, forcing out the ace.

Normal Plays Fail

The normal way to play for the diamonds is to lead the jack and force out the ace. This will fail because West takes the lead with the ace of diamonds and runs his spades.

The normal play for the clubs is to lead the jack of clubs from dummy and let it run for a finesse. This will fail because West will win with the queen of clubs and take the spades and the ace of diamonds.

The compromise play is safest. You lead out the ace and king of clubs in the hope of dropping the queen. Since the queen of clubs does happen to drop, you run the rest of the clubs, making five clubs, three hearts and one spade.

What if the queen of hearts didn't drop? Time enough then to lead diamonds. You will still make the contract if East, rather than West, has the ace of diamonds.

This line of play will give the defenders an extra trick if West has the ace of diamonds and three or more clubs to the queen, but you should be willing to take this risk to give yourself the best chance for the game contract.

Daily Question

Partner opens with 1 NT (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes. You hold: S 10 9, H Q 3 2, D K Q 10 9 8, C J 8 2. What do you say?

Answer: Bid 2 NT. The raise with only 8 high-card points is usually doubtful procedure, but in this case you have a fine 5-card suit to buttress up your points. The good suit is worth at least one additional point.

Mrs. N. M. H. [illegible] remodeling our [illegible] country house, we have new picture windows in the living room and dining room. Around the walls in both rooms are old picture moldings [illegible]

Moldings are usually placed in the position you describe to separate colors for the purpose of making ceilings seem lower. But unless you especially like low ceilings, avoid the lowered look. High ceilings give dignity to a room and are certainly envied by new home owners who complain that their ceilings pull down on their heads. Continue the lower wall color to the ceiling line whether or not you remove the moldings. It is not amiss to keep difficult-to-detach moldings and paint them the wall color although other woodwork in the room is finished differently.

Mrs. D. J. R. "For our daughter, aged 2 [illegible], we plan a pink and creamy white room with walls in camellia pink, draw curtains in a pink and green on white print and white [illegible] rugs with pink roses and black borders. How should we refinish her drawer chest and what color should the beds be [illegible]"

Nothing could be prettier than the freshest pink in the scheme for paint for the chest, a medium to bright shade, and the bedspread will be best kept in the creamy white.

Candle Safety

For safety reasons, enclose your Christmas candles in hurricane lamps—perhaps a ceramic snowman, angel, or Santa to hold the candle inside the clear glass chimney.

Soot and candle drippings can be washed off with soap or detergent suds right in your dishpan—along with ash trays and other household accessories that need daily washing.

Our Children

Children Go Home For Duty, Welcome

BY ANGELO PATRI

"My daughter, a good child in most ways, just won't learn to come home from school promptly. She gets off the bus and goes home with a neighbor's child — or a school chum. Last night broke the camel's back. She went home with a girl in the neighborhood of the school, seven miles from home and I had to stop in the middle of getting supper to go for her. I was so mad I spanked her and sent her to her room for the night. What can I do? She's old enough to do right about this at 10-years, isn't she?"

Ask Why

Yes, she is. I wonder why she does this? Is she an only child and lonely? What is there at home to draw her there? What is in the homes of the other children that draws her to them? There must be a reason. When a child knows that there is something and somebody waiting for them at home they are more than likely to get there as soon as may be. The boy or girl who has a pet to feed, a chore that nobody else will do, a child-friend, brother or sister or neighbor, waiting to go on with a scheme they hold secret and dear, will come home. It is the lonely child, the one who feels without being able to express it, that there is no good reason for him to go home and every reason why he should not.

Something good to eat after getting home from school is a great inducement. And if a friend or two can come along to share the cookies or the doughnuts, or the jelly diamonds, all the more need to get there fast.

Duty Waiting

A duty waiting can be of great help to some children in this situation. The boy who has a paper route, the one who has the dog to feed and take out for his afternoon playtime, the girl who expects to help her mother with shopping, preparing the vegetables, assisting at an afternoon tea, some set obligation, will be drawn home either by happy expectations or a weighted conscience. Either way he will get home fairly on time.

In short, children go home when there is something for them to go home for, a welcome, a chore, a hoped for pleasure.

Belgium's King Baudouin Escorts his bride-to-be, Dona Fabiola de Mora y Aragon of Spain, into the royal palace banquet hall in Brussels for the ball celebrating their forthcoming marriage. Royalty from all over Europe attended Tuesday evening's ball. The couple will be married tomorrow in the Belgian capital.

Royal Wedding Guests Attend Bachelor Ball

BY EDDY GILMORE

BRUSSELS (AP) — Europe's royalty, flashing jewelry worth millions and attended by a small army of servants, turned back history last night at bachelor King Baudouin's gala pre-wedding ball.

Seldom since bygone days when royalty was supreme have so many titles and so much jewelry been gathered in one place.

Five kings, four queens, 46 princes and princesses, 25 counts and countesses and dozens of lesser titled bluebloods watched as the happy Belgian King danced across the palace ballroom with his fiancee, Dona Fabiola De Mora Y Aragon, whom he marries tomorrow.

Beautifully gowned women among the 1,200 guests seemed to vie with one another as to who could put on the most diamonds, emeralds and pearls.

One royal security officer, wearing evening dress and mingling with the guests, said he never had seen so many costly gems in years of guarding royal heirlooms.

A state banquet for 200 special guests also featured reminders of the past. One course was young wild boar smothered in chestnut sauce, the ancient dish of kings.

It was in this room that King Leopold III, Baudouin's father, abdicated in favor of his son in July 1951. Baudouin, 30, will wed his Spanish bride, 32, in the civil ceremony in the same room tomorrow.

King Leopold III gave his parental blessing in a toast:

"By her tender presence at your side," he told his son, "Fabiola will be your most precious support."

Other Awards

Herter, wearing Belgium's highest decoration, the Grand Cordon of the Order of Leopold, which he had received only hours before, told the king he was sorry that preparations for the NATO ministers meeting in Paris would force him to miss the wedding.

King Baudouin has also awarded Belgian decorations to Princess Margaret and her commoner husband, Antony Armstrong-Jones.

Princess Margaret, here to represent her sister, Queen Elizabeth II, at the king's wedding, received the high-ranking Grand Cross of the Order of the Crown.

Armstrong-Jones was made a Grand Officer of the Order of Leopold II, not so high ranking. It was the first foreign award picked up by the ex-professional photographer since he wed into Britain's royal family.

Mountains of wedding gifts are piling up in large rooms of the royal palace and elsewhere.

The gifts range from a $10,000 diamond necklace and a fishing trawler to a bar of chocolate and two jars of jam.

Following the civil ceremony in the palace, King Baudouin and his bride will go to the seven-centuries-old collegiat Church of Saints Michel and Gudule. It will be the first time the wedding of a reigning Belgian king has been celebrated in the church.

WIDOW'S WORRIES

I am a widow who is planning to marry again. When I receive my engagement ring, I assume that I should wear the first one on the other hand. But do I remove the first wedding ring also or do I leave that on until I receive the new one?

Davis

Louise Davis Answers:

When you receive your new engagement ring, I suggest that you put away the wedding band. Otherwise, some people might assume that you have already remarried. In deference to your fiance, I think it would be better for you to dispose of your first engagement ring by giving it away or putting it in a safe deposit box, or you might prefer to have the stone or stones reset into a dinner ring for the [illegible] finger of your right hand.

* * *

BRIDE IS ADOPTED

Our daughter is making plans for her wedding in the spring. We haven't yet met her fiance's parents who are at present in Europe. Inasmuch as our daughter is adopted, should we tell the parents about it when we meet? It is general knowledge in our own family, but not among our friends. Our daughter told her fiance about it shortly before they became engaged and we also told him "officially" as we didn't want the young man to know about it "second hand".

Louise Davis Answers:

Undoubtedly, your daughter's fiance has already told his parents about the adoption. When you four parents eventually meet, I suggest that you casually mention the adoption rather than make an obvious point of it. It would be one of those subjects that would naturally come up without any previous planning.

Mr. and Mrs. James Grist, 24 Winona Court, entertained members of Genevieve Paulson Circle of The King's Daughters and their husbands at a cocktail party Saturday evening. Also included in the group's holiday schedule was a Christmas auction held in November. From left are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Moriarty, Mr. and Mrs. Robert White and Mr. and Mrs. Grist.

Club Readies Holiday Ball

"Stardusters' Holiday Ball" is the theme of Stardusters' Club informal dance Saturday evening at Conway Hotel. Cocktail parties at members' homes will precede dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heykes are chairmen and are being assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Seyfert, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rader, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stoeger, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Al Lemeux.

Keep Jewelry Sparkling Clean

Glittering jewelry is the perfect complement to holiday attire—provided its luster is not dull or tarnished. To be sure that your jewelry is at its shining best, polish the metal and "launder" the stones.

Diamonds should be washed—even brush-scrubbed—in hot soap or detergent suds, perhaps with a dash of ammonia added. Rinse in hot water, and drain dry.

To avoid loosening cemented settings, don't immerse costume jewelry in water. Instead, rub it gently with a soft brush dipped in warm soap or detergent suds. Wash and rinse quickly and dry with a soft towel.

Follow Simple Rules For a Safe Christmas

At Christmastime the whole family likes to forget ordinary cares and duties for at least a few days, and seek relaxation and happiness. In one area, however, the family should tighten its vigilance instead of relaxing. Every Christmas brings a tragic toll of injuries and deaths in the home that could easily be avoided.

Tips for a safe Christmas for every family have been suggested by P. J. Fynn, director, testing and research laboratory of a large department store.

"Many of the tragedies occur on Christmas Day — and many of them involve children," says Mr. Fynn. "It's time that we all took a sober look at the simple rules for a safe Christmas. A little thought and a few minutes are all that is needed to end Christmas tragedies."

Fire Danger

Christmas trees have traditionally posed the danger of fire and they still need to be handled with care. When buying a cut tree, be sure to select a fresh one. A tree that show signs of dryness when purchased is just that much more of a potential risk.

It is possible to reduce the flammability of a cut tree by the use of chemical fire retardants. Certain chemicals — solutions of calcium chloride or ammonium sulphate — can be added to the water in which the tree stands, and when absorbed by the tree will reduce its flammability.

Other chemicals can be applied externally by spraying or dipping. Fire departments can supply advice on this subject and certain fire departments offer to spray or dip Christmas trees as a public service.

These days many families use artificial trees. Such trees, if purchased at reputable stores, are made of fire retardant or fireproof materials. One popular type is made of metal — even the "needles." These, while fireproof, require special care and vigilance to avoid danger of electrical shock. Be sure electric lights and decorations are in perfect condition, and keep the tree away from direct contact with electrical sockets.

Don't Use Candles

With regard to decorations, Mr. Fynn advises against the use of untreated cotton or paper for decoration on or near the tree. This is a safety precaution that many families ignore. When decorating the tree with metal tinsel, be sure that no strand of the tinsel touches a light socket. And, of course, never decorate a tree with lighted candles, no matter how much you may be tempted to emulate this custom of yesterday.

When you use Christmas tree lights, even for the first time, run the whole string through your hands to check for possible damage or breaks — naturally before plugging it in! Observe this precaution with each annual re-using.

When setting the lights, keep the bulbs clear of tree needles. If adjacent needles start to turn yellow or brown, move the nearby light. Never leave Christmas tree lights burning at night after retiring or when no one is at home.

Never obstruct an exit with a Christmas tree. This is especially important in the case of trees placed in schoolrooms or churches. A flaming tree blocking an exit could easily result in incredible tragedy.

Electric trains, toy steam engines and other power toys should not be operated under the tree. This is another precaution that families often ignore.

Exercise Care

Generally speaking, parents should exercise care and prudence in buying various types of power toys for very young children. At proper age levels, of course, youngsters can be entrusted with many marvelous and educational toys requiring some type of power. Parental supervision is often wise.

All electrical power toys operated with house current should bear Underwriters' Laboratories labels. And all film for movie projectors and slide projectors should be "safety film"—made of cellulose acetate. Such film is always clearly marked.

Fireplaces are almost certain to be used during the holiday season. Always use a screen providing full coverage. And do not succumb to the temptation to unwrap the presents on Christmas morning and throw the large quantities of paper or cardboard wrappings into a flaming fireplace. Be careful of decorations and Christmas cards on the mantle. Don't let anything hang over, and remove stockings before starting a fire.

Smokers should be doubly alert during Christmas. Even when all precautions are taken, there is no escaping the fact that home is simply full of combustible materials and flammable items at Christmastime. Keep ashtrays at all chairs and tables.

Problem With Costumes

Christmas costumes are another potential problem. Check to see if fancy or frilly costumes, such as trimmed cowboy suits or "angel" costumes, have been chemically treated to make them fire resistant. If you make a frilly costume from cotton materials at home, you can make it fire-resistant by dipping it into a solution of nine ounces of borax and four ounces of boric acid in one gallon of water. But remember, as soon as you wash it, you wash out the protection.

After Christmas, don't be sentimental about a drying-out Christmas tree. Throw it away and sweep up the needles.

Your Problems

Those Who Hit Early Energy Peak Happier With Same Type

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A word of advice from "Beat" whose fiancee has insomnia.

Landers

If you think you're "Beat" now, just wait till you're married to the girl. She's not an insomniac, she's a nocturnal. Webster defines nocturnal as "one whose energy peak is reached at night — the opposite of diurnal."

I'm a diurnal who tried living with a nocturnal. It won't work. He came home at all hours, wanted to eat when they do in Madrid (11 p.m.). He insisted on seeing the late shows, and encouraged people to drop in after the theater, after meetings, and after parties. He was fresh as a daisy at 3 a.m. I was propping my eyes open with toothpicks.

At 7:30 in the morning he might just as well have been on the moon. The alarm clock didn't phase him. I had the job of pulling him out of bed and getting him off to work.

After fifteen years of it I called it quits. Now I'm married to a diurnal like myself. He starts the arguments early and winds them up at a reasonable hour so we both get plenty of rest. — Happy Now

Dear Happy: Mother Nature agrees. She does not mate a hoot-owl with a lark. During courtship it's wise to learn whether or not the beloved is a morning-whistler or a night-crawler. Later is too late.

* * *

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My mother-in-law is causing me great embarrassment. She hates TV and will not have a set in her home. When her husband was living he enjoyed TV so she put up with it for his sake. He died last year and the first thing she did was give away the set.

My husband and his brothers would do anything for their mother but she's very independent and won't let them do much. They want to buy her a new TV set just for appearances sake — even if she never turns it on — just so the neighbors can see the antenna. They feel it's a reflection on the whole family if their mother is the only one on the block who doesn't have TV. What do you think?—Daughter-in-law

Dear D.I.L.: I say your husband and his brothers should save their money and quit being foolish. If their mother doesn't want a TV set that should settle it.

The absence of an antenna does not always indicate that the family can't afford an idiot box. Sometimes it means she family doesn't care to paralyze its eyeballs watching 55 hours of nonsense in order to catch one worthwhile program.

* * *

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm 15 and having a big argument with my mother. She said to write to you and whatever you say will be it.

When a boy I don't want to go with calls for a date I say, "I'm sorry but I already have a date for that night." My reasoning is that if someone else calls, and I do want to go, I'm protected. The boys feelings are not hurt and I can go with fellows I like.

Mom says this is lying and I should come right out and say "I don't have a date but don't care to go with you." In my opinion this is cruel. Mom says it's better than lying. What do you say?—Mary M

Dear Mary: There is no need to lie, nor is it necessary to cut a kid to ribbons. Just say "I'm terribly sorry but I can't go with you." No further explanation is called for. If he presses for information ask him if he's with the F.B.I. and keep it light and painless.

* * *

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for Ann Landers' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request twenty cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Beauty Gift

For a lovely on your gift list, fill a toy sleigh with new and unusual beauty aids. She'll believe there really is a Santa Claus!

As suggestions for fillers:

Eye-shadow, eye-liner and rouge dispensed directly to the face from a small cylinder and controlled with a puff. The color simply [illegible] on, solving the problem of smeary application.

Five shades of lipstick, stacked one on [illegible] the other, in a pencil-shape wand. Shades can be worn singly, mixed to create a highly personalized nuance or to complement a dress.

Lipstick base — a moisturized liquid that flows from a self-applicator bottle. It keeps the lips smooth and moist, prevents lipstick from changing color and [illegible].

Achromatic face powder — pine mauve, pale green, camellia white. By veiling out florid or sallow tones, these powders perfect the skin's coloring.

For the sheer delight of it, a tiny compact of gold dust — tiny grains of gold-spangled powder to use on gala evenings. 24-carat brilliance is the effect!

Couples Club Entertains at Parish Party

A Christmas devotional and social event was held Sunday afternoon by Trinity Couples Club at Trinity Lutheran Church. The Rev. I. B. Kindem opened the program with devotions. A film, "The Parables," was shown to the young children and Mrs. Donald Herrling presented oral readings to the older children and the parents. A choral group also was on the program. A potluck supper was served at 5 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knox, copresidents of the club, were chairmen and were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Steinberg, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Otteson, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Snell, Mr. and Mrs Lawrence Steudel, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Knapp and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bytof.

Most Women's Watches Given by Husbands

NEW YORK — Husbands may grumble that their wives are never on time, but you can't say they don't try to do something about the little lady's lateness. A study reveals that 74 per cent of wives who own watches received them as gifts from their husbands.

Peter Gregory, Lawrence College freshman, says Soviet students work as an integral part of their society, in contrast to the American student who often seems to lack any particular sense of doing his part. Gregory visited Russia for three weeks last summer.

Lawrence Student Tells Of Russia's Progress

Soviets Will Overtake U. S. if We Don't Wake Up, Peter Gregory Says After Tour

BY GLENDING OLSON

"If we don't wake up to the realization of what the Russians are doing, they'll overtake us sooner than we think. I've never seen such determination in people to get their country ahead."

This is how Peter Gregory, a freshman at Lawrence College, summed up his feeling after spending three weeks in Russia last summer. He was there as one of seven members of a touring group from Choate School, a private school in Connecticut.

"I was really shocked," continued Gregory, "to see the way the Soviet student worked as an integral part of his society, feeling that he had a position he must live up to." He contrasted this attitude with that of the United States student who often seems to work without any particular sense of doing his part.

Bad But Improving

Gregory visited Moscow, Stalingrad, Leningrad, and other Russian cities. He noted that the Russians let him see as little as possible but nevertheless he still got a glimpse of life. "The housing is still very bad," he commented, "but I think that's due to the effects of the war. With the progress they're making, I believe in 10 years they will have complete housing."

"Consumer goods are fantastically expen&sive; the workers get $50 a month, and a pair of sandals costs $20; shirts are up to $40 and a suit over $1[illegible]0. They still don't eat very well, and the meat is inferior. There seems to be a lot of alcoholism, too, in spite of the great expense involved."

People Friendly

The people, Gregory said, "were generally quite friendly, especially the students." Their fear of the police, which Gregory feels is a holdover from Stalinism, still plays an important role, however. He mentioned that a cousin of his mother was afraid to come to see him at his hotel, and they had to meet somewhere else.

But even in face of these problems, the Russians are pushing ahead. "They are on a seven-year plan now to overtake the United States," Gregory stressed, "and they will if we don't realize what's happening and do something about it."

Industrial Park Buyers Invited To Meeting

Will Set Price Per Acre in January; Accept Final Plat

Prospective buyers of land in the city's industrial park will be invited to a February meeting of the council's industrial development committee.

The committee wants to know how much land each firm wants, and where in the park.

Several firms have expressed a desire for park land but the deals were held back pending annexation and zoning of the entire park. The council passed the annexation ordinance last week and ordered an ordinance zoning the area for heavy industry.

Firms which indicated interest in park land are Tuttle Press Co., Appleton Coated Paper Co., Appleton Wire Works Corp., Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. and J. Gelper and Co.

The committee met Tuesday and accepted the tentative plat of the newly annexed area, prepared by the city engineering department.

Price To Be Set

On Jan. 24 the committee plans to accept the final plat and hopes to set a price per acre for the land.

Director of Public Works Edwin Dusynski was asked to figure out the price, based on the original cost of the land plus improvements.

Cost of the land is nearly $26,-[illegible]. Dusynski said a sewage lift station and force main will cost about $25,000 and sanitary sewers about $40,000.

The committee also ordered specifications for sewer, water and street work so they could be put in the 1961 construction program. The matter will be referred to the street and sanitation committee for approval, then go to the council.

Neat Gentleman Spends Millions for the Cause

BY SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) —The human male is preening himself as never before. He's pouring literally millions of dollars into what he prefers to call good grooming—shaving lotions, colognes, powders, hair tonic, hair pieces and hair dyes.

This goes on the year around as the male, openly or surreptitiously, buys these things at the stores or frequents the barber shops and other establishments dedicated to even more glamorous grooming.

Women Enter

But at Christmas the women march into the picture. They buy the major share of men's gift toiletries. Merchants say they are about equally attracted by what the products promise to do for the men in their lives and by the ornate packaging that sprouts luxuriantly at this season.

Companies bent on making the men look better or smell sweeter —or be odor free altogether— mushroom on all sides. Often they are divisions of larger chemical, soap or drug companies. Sometimes they are names better known in the field of women's cosmetics.

Manufacturers of after-shave lotions say this year's sales should top the 1959 record of $50.1 million. This total was a 126.3 per cent jump since 1949. In that period women's perfumes and toilet waters increased in sales volume by 104.6 per cent.

This fragrance buying is over and above the estimated $271 million spent on men's shaving preparations—after-shave lotions and creams, electric preshave and ordinary talc in 1959.

Men's deathless fight against baldness and dandruff swells sales totals year by year. Men's hair tonic sales are estimated at $40.85 million annually for hair tonic. This climbs at a rate of at least 5 per cent a year.

The nationwide industry that caters to men who have lost or are losing the battle of baldness also runs into the millions a year category, with exact figures lacking. But there's a smart sale of hair pieces of all sizes—"Men never buy wigs," say the dressers of men's craniums.

All Aliens Must Report Addresses During January

The Immigration and Naturalization Service has announced that aliens in the United States will be required to report their addresses to the attorney general soon.

All aliens, with a few exceptions, who are in the United States on Jan. 1 each year must report their addresses by the end of that month. Classes excused include accredited diplomats, persons accredited to certain international organizations and those admitted temporarily as agricultural laborers.

Forms with which to make the report can be obtained at any post office or the immigration office during January. The law provides severe penalties for failure to comply with the reporting requirement.

Credit Exchange

The Appleton Credit Exchange will meet at 6 p.m. today at the Conway Hotel. Lt. George Behrendt, of the Appleton Police department, will be the speaker. Mrs. Elvine Kiel is president of the organization.

Meeting Cancelled

Police Chief Requests Cage For Equipment

Says Department Gear Disappears From Garage

Police Chief Walter Hendricks has told the public safety committee he wants to build a wire cage in the police department garage because some of his department's equipment is being stolen.

The committee approved the request Tuesday, as well as requests for a floor scrubber-polisher, two water coolers, having the walls in the old part of the police station washed and painted and $800 for new lights in the station lobby.

Chief Hendricks said pieces of equipment are missing from time to time, such as a six-foot ladder and two chairs. He said the wire cage would be 15 feet wide and run the width of the garage, 30 feet.

Four men would have keys to it, one on each shift. They would have total responsibility for the equipment.

Asks Check By Chief

One committeeman commented, "This idea won't do any good and you can't enforce it. If there is stuff missing the chief better look into it and see what's going on."

Chief Hendricks also wants to store in the cage stolen bicycles recovered by police and those taken away from children for violation of bicycle riding rules. He says bicycles are missing sometimes.

The committee will ask for some help from the welfare department for washing and painting the walls.

Pillsbury's New Date Bread Mix!

Fragrant, moist and rich with dates. Real date bread to welcome them warmly!

Never before from a mix have you made such a quality quick bread. Because never before (as far as we know, and we investigated!) has a quick bread mix package contained ingredients to match these.

So quick to the oven, you know it's a mix. But you'll think you made it from a favorite old recipe.

To make the little "rounds," fill soup cans two-thirds full, bake at 375° for 35-40 minutes. Makes four. Package tells how to make regular loaf size. (Nothing says lovin' like something from the oven and Pillsbury says it best!)

These Days

Current History is Taking Shape In Revolt of World Against West

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Sokolsky

NEW YORK — Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review, says: "In the course of history [illegible]

[illegible]

"The fourth has been for safety against war."

The record shows altogether a different course in man's development. In his most primitive stage, man sought for food and found it. But immediately thereafter, man sought an explanation for himself and for those about him. He sought a cause, a first cause for [illegible]. He came upon the [illegible] [illegible] one prayed either for favors or for the perfection of life.

Order Through Law

Whatever we have of primitive art or literature establishes that after food and shelter even the most primitive man related himself to God.

His next development was an effort to discover right from wrong and if possible to institutionalize the right by making it tradition, custom or law. We have a very long record of man's effort in this direction.

Tradition, custom and finally law are older in history than any other habits or institutions. It has been the revolt against custom and law which has changed civilizations, but these are not always for greater freedom; sometimes they have been for a more orderly way of life.

In fact, such movements as the various types of socialism, communism, fascism—all the efforts of man that sprouted from Hegel, were not directed to freedom but to order.

Thunderous Events

Marx, for instance, has nothing to do with individual liberty but with social order. It is necessary to get these movements in straight focus to understand why among nationalistic peoples, seeking their place in the sun, Soviet Russia is not as abhorrent as it should be.

There is no substantial basis for Cousins' fourth effort. Man has made a meager search for safety against war and that so recently that it hardly has more than a footnote in history. In fact, up to 1960, it can be said that man's greatest effort has been for victory in war.

Efforts to summarize human history into simple aphorisms rarely lead to the truth, for man is a very complex character and history is by no means a simple tale to recite. We are at this moment, for instance, living at a time which can hardly be stated with great understanding. Journalistically it can be reported that these enormous, thunderous events are occurring:

Revolt Against West

1. A revolt against western civilization is taking place throughout the world;

2. This revolution rejects Christianity, capitalism and democracy, the principal characteristics of western civilization;

3. It brings to the free Afro-Asian peoples hunger not only for food but for status and power;

4. The West, which ruled as much of the world as it knew, seems to be emotionally and intellectually paralyzed by this revolt;

5. The United Nations, created to maintain a western concept of peace, is becoming an Afro-Asian instrument of power;

6. Instruments of war of frightful magnitude have been developed in the United States and Soviet Russia which are so simple in construction that the smallest nations can manufacture them or counterparts of them, thus making them useless as instruments for the avoidance of war.

This is a journalistic report. But what will the historian eventually say of it? The historian is still interpreting the fall of the Roman Empire.

Subtle Sculptor

The sculptor of the recumbent marble statues of King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella in the Cathedral of Granada in Spain had a subtle way of showing that the queen was the more intelligent. There is a deeper depression in the pillow on which her head rests, indicating a greater brain.

Attorney Finds Case in Tavern

LASALLE, Ill. —(AP)—Asst. State's Atty. Thomas Anderson went into Al Murdock's tavern for a sandwich and came out with a court case.

Anderson said he saw a customer with lottery tickets sold by the bartender. He went to the police station, obtained a warrant and returned to the tavern with five policemen.

Justice of the Peace Eugene Galassi held Murdock over for county court when he entered a guilty plea and posted $200 bond.

Town Has Unique Pupil Safety Program

STATESVILLE, N. C. (AP) — Statesville really watches over the safety of its children. A policeman calls on each prospective first grader at his home before school starts. He and the youngster work out the best route for the child to follow to school and the policeman counsels the youngster on traffic safety.

Citizens View Small Schools As Inadequate

State Department Slowly Winning Adherents to View

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The state department of public instruction is slowly winning citizen adherents to its view that the small high school, whatever the quality of its staff and administration, sometimes cannot offer the quality and variety of schooling young people of today should have.

The very small high schools of the state are gradually but steadily disappearing.

The point was emphasized in the recent state budget presentation of George Watson, state superintendent of public instruction, who has repeatedly expressed his concern about the service limitations of the small school and on occasion has asked the legislature to consider laws that would get rid of many of them.

Reduced to 42

Watson reported that the 105 schools that were operating ten years ago with fewer than 100 pupils have been reduced to 42 today.

Only seven schools in the state remain with fewer than 50 pupils, eight with fewer than 75 and 27, with fewer than 100 but more than 75, he said. Eight of the small schools closed their doors during the last year.

The state school officer has held that even strenuous taxation for the small school cannot up-grade the curriculum to large school levels, and that often the costs in the small school are inefficient because of its size.

The consolidation trend has for the most part been undertaken at the initiative of local citizens and local officials.

Watson hailed a new high school district in Iowa and Grant counties, which operates a regional high school near Livingston, as a recent model of its kind. It embraces the districts formerly served by four independent high schools, five elementary schools and 17 rural schools.

Reelect Appleton Man as Director

Richard M. Baker, vice president, Creative Group, Inc., Appleton, has been reelected to a director's post with the Wisconsin Chapter of the Public Relations Society of America.

John J. Dierbeck, International Harvester Company, Milwaukee, was elected president.

In Area, Number of Students

Physical Education Is Largest Department at Senior High School

BY BONNIE BARSTOW
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Appleton High School's biggest department, in terms of the amount of space it occupies and the number of students it involves, is the physical education department.

Physical education is the only course which seniors must take. State law prescribes 150 minutes of it a week for every public school student.

Appleton High School's south wing is devoted to physical education and athletics. In the large gymnasium, bleachers on which interscholastic basketball spectators sit are folded back during the day and a wall is moved across the room to form two small gyms, one for boys and one for girls.

At the east end of the big gym are locker and shower rooms on the ground floor, and a small gym, two handball courts, a visual aids room, team locker room and equipment storage rooms on second and third floors.

Four Classes at Once

Outside are eight tennis courts; horse-shoe courts; an intramural field for soccer, softball and touch football; and a football practice field surrounded by a track.

Thus four physical education classes can be going on at a time. Sophomore boys meet daily, junior boys and sophomore girls three times a week, and senior boys and junior and senior girls twice a week. In years when enrollment was at its peak, senior girls were exempt from the requirement. Physical education teachers still wish more space was available for their activities.

Objective of physical education, the teachers say, "is to develop and educate the individual through physical activities so that he may reach his maximum capacity and will learn to use his ability intelligently as a good citizen even in times of emotional stress."

Develop Skills

Activities are aimed at developing skills for immediate use, leisure time activities and safe performance of normal living tasks; knowledge of rules of a variety of games; acceptable social standards and attitudes; powers of observation, judgment and decision; physical and emotional self expression and confidence; leadership ability; good health habits; reduction of physical defects, and opportunity of co-educational activity.

Increasing emphasis in the AHS program is being placed on physical fitness, and all boys are required to pass tests of strength, stamina, speed, muscular coordination, flexibility and balance. These are designed as an incentive and challenge. Girls, though not required to meet as rigid standards as boys, also are given physical fitness tests.

Boys are expected to improve through their three years at AHS, so that by graduation they can do 50 sit-ups, nine pull-ups, 24 push-ups, 60 squat-jumps, 18 vertical jumps and 12 squat thrusts; hang by their hands and hold their legs up to the front for four minutes and raise the trunk for eight seconds.

Meet Outdoors

In spring and fall, classes meet outdoors as much as possible. Boys play tennis, touch football, soccer, speedball, a combination of basketball, soccer and football, softball, track and horseshoes. Girls' activities include track, archery, softball and tennis.

Winter activities for boys include basketball, tumbling and apparatus, handball, trampolin, weight lifting, wrestling, volleyball, indoor games and first aid. Girls engage in gymnastics, volleyball, social dance, basketball and body conditioning.

All sophomores take driver education as part of their physical education course. Upon successful completion of driver education, a student receives a certificate that exempts him from the written test in getting a driver's temporary permit.

Coeducational Activity

In the last few years, there has been some coeducational square dancing, tumbling, bowling, archery and tennis. "One of the main reasons in favor of coeducational activities in physical education is that they help to overcome the normal self-consciousness existing between boys and girls and make for more joyous participation between the sexes during school days and in adult life," explain the teachers.

Students are encouraged to patricipate in interscholastic and intramural sports and outside recreation activities. This year, 50 boys took part in interscholastic basketball, 30 in cross country, 90 in football, 25 in golf, 40 in tennis and 65 in track.

Boys' intramural activities, 17 activities ranging from weight lifting to chess, involving 731 boys. Appleton YMCA reports 987 AHS students participate in sports there, and about 570 take part in Appleton Recreation Department activities.

Girls' Activities

Girls' intramural activities enroll a total of 364 students.

The physical education faculty includes David Black, who has bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Wisconsin; Miss Theodosia Brzezinski, who earned her B.S. at the UW; Miss Pauline Gaertner, a graduate of LaCrosse State College; junior varsity football coach Eugene Vanden Heuvel, an Oshkosh State College alumnus who also teaches biology; and Lawrence Witzke, who received his bachelor's degrees at Indiana State University.

Fraternities Nearly Erase Discrimination

Two More Comply With Requirements Set Forth by UW

MADISON — Discriminatory clauses against membership because of race or color have now practically been erased from the fraternity system at the University of Wisconsin.

Prof. Gladys L. Borchers, of the UW speech department, chairman of the university faculty's Committee on Human Rights, announced Tuesday that two more fraternities, Sigma Nu and Alpha Tau Omega, have complied with requirements set forth by the university's 1960 clause against discrimination.

University legislation, adopted originally in 1952, would deny approval to any fraternity which, after 1960, has clauses which discriminate against membership in the groups because of race or color. A number of national fraternities had such clauses in their national constitutions by which local chapters must abide.

Only Chapter

Only Wisconsin chapter of a national fraternity which has not yet been able to comply with the UW's 1960 clause is Sigma Chi, which last spring was given a special 11-month non-renewable extension of the 1960 deadline for removal of a discriminatory clause in its charter. The extension was granted in order to give the fraternity a final opportunity to gain removal of such clause at its next national convention in the summer of 1961.

The fraternity was given the 1960 deadline extension by special faculty action but was also placed on virtual social probation from the 1960 deadline time until the clause is removed.

The national councils of Sigma Nu and Alpha Tau Omega have now sent affidavits to the UW faculty Human Rights committee attesting that their local chapters on the Wisconsin campus have been exempted from discriminatory clauses in their national constitutions, Prof. Borchers said. She said she will present the affidavits to her committee at its Dec. 15 meeting.

Prof. Borchers said that the Human Rights Committee has not finished looking for and trying to get rid of any discrimination in the campus area.

"We plan to talk to individual members of fraternities and sororities, as well as to student housing owners, to let them know that we are still trying to help them with any discrimination problems," she said.

Commander's Post Goes Head to Foot

PITTSBURG, Kan. (AP) — The Ben Fuller post of the American Legion has gone from head to foot in commanders.

Dr. Frank E. Hourrier, a chiropodist, has been elected commander succeeding Dr. L. L. Sumrill, an eye doctor.

Social Security Benefits Show Big Increase in County

Expansion of social security benefits in Outagamie County has resulted in 68 per cent more people getting benefits now than four years ago, according to a report of the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance.

The number of recipients rose from 4,377 in 1956 to 7,341 at the start of this year. This group presently collects $5,447,000 a year, compared to the $2,765,000 collected in 1955.

For the individual recipient the average payment has risen also, going from $681 a year to $742 locally.

How much greater these figures will be next year, when the additional benefit recently voted go into effect is not yet known.

Commenting on the growth of social security since its inauguration 25 years ago, William L. Mitchell, its administrator, notes that nine out of ten workers in the United States now are covered. Payments to beneficiaries come to $10.8 billion a year.

Another Hazelbaker Republican Victorious

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Montana's Beaverhead County campaign trail has been stumped and won by another Hazelbaker.

Says State Patrol Needs More Men

Karns Cites Need for Patrol Plane, Additions to License, Truck Staff

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The head of the state motor vehicle department Tuesday told Gov. Nelson that the state badly needs more state highway patrolmen, but that he doesn't want to propose enabling legislation because it's past proposals have [illegible] degenerated into squabbling."

James Karns of the department was referring to the stubborn opposition of local sheriffs and traffic officers to the expansion of the state patrol. [illegible] the governor on the legislature [illegible] a standard [illegible] police force. Karns now has a total of 25 [illegible]

Accident Statistics

[illegible] passed up or suspension of [illegible] cation or summary forms of their driving problems. Karns said some states are showing success with the latter law. The governor was told that perhaps a third of all highway accidents are attributable to drinking, and that the very young driver group is the most dangerous of all, but the officials admitted also that they do not believe their statistics are entirely reliable.

Although Karns said he was not asking for more state patrolmen.

[illegible] arguments to support [illegible] including the report [illegible] number of accidents on [illegible] roads are being reduced while they are increasing on all other public highways.

He also [illegible] that he has [illegible] legislators and [illegible] Warren P. [illegible] urging them to sponsor [illegible] bill.

The commissioner's comments [illegible] "squabbles" provoked [illegible] referred also to the [illegible] more coordination. The problem of rivalry between the two services has frustrated other governors, including Vernon W. Thomson who once set up an elaborate investigating commission that achieved nothing.

Wants Airplane

In other highlights of a budget plea that involved a requested $18.4 millions in money for the next two years, or an increase of about $3.5 millions, Karns told Nelson that:

He wants an airplane for his patrol to permit spotting violators from the air.

The truck law inspection unit needs 36 more men to supplement the present staff of 74 to assure better truck tax collection and weight law compliance.

The driver licensing examination corps of 115 men should be enlarged by 32 to carry the additional workload resulting from the army of new young drivers reaching licensing age, and to provide counseling service for problem drivers.

That motor vehicle mileage in Wisconsin thus far this year is up 4 per cent over last year, and that total auto registrations are rising at the rate of 50,000 yearly.

Plucky Boy Ends Fight With Cancer

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — The plucky boy with cancer whose wish for fresh watermelons touched thousands of hearts, is dead.

Little Danny McDougald, 6, of Bluffton, S. C., took a turn for the worse at home Tuesday and was taken to Savannah's Memorial Hospital where he died about an hour after arrival.

Danny had been in and out of hospitals since September when doctors discovered he had cancer of the lymph glands.

Early this month the youngster told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McDougald, that he would like to have some watermelon.

His request reached as far as Miami, Fla., where Mayor Robert King ordered a watermelon flown from Honduras.

Shortwave Radio Network Links 30 Veterans' Hospitals

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—Dr. William S. Middleton, chief medical director of the Veterans' Administration and former dean of the University of Wisconsin Medical School this week opened an amateur shortwave radio network for the first time linking 30 VA hospitals from Maine to California.

Dr. Middleton's message was broadcast from the Brooklyn N.Y., VA hospital to the manager of the facility in Roanoke, Va.

Principle Uses

The VA radio network, officially sponsored by Dr. Middleton, will have three principle uses: for manual art therapy, physical medicine, rehabilitation and treatment of hospitalized veterans.

It also will provide an emergency means of communications during hurricanes and other disaster periods, and it will permit hospitalized patients to converse with their families living at a great distance from the hospitals.

Typical of the therapy the radio equipment will provide is found in the story of two polio victims who operated their amateur radios while flat on their backs in a VA hospital.

One polio victim, who could only use the equipment during the short time he was out of his iron lung, maintained contacts with other amateur operators throughout the United States, Europe, Africa and Asia.

The other polio victim, who operated his set by holding his stick in his mouth, also maintained an interest in the outside world by contacting other "ham" operators around the globe.

Clever Teenager Foils Burglars

DENVER (AP)—A quick-thinking teenager was standing in a drug store when two gunmen entered and demanded money. Wahneta Bullock, 25, handed them $103 from the cash register.

Clifford Dale, 15, fled from the store. Moments later, Patrolman E. J. Kampmueller and Robert L. McKie burst into the store and arrested both bandits.

The patrolmen, driving by the store at the time, got word of the robbery on the police radio. Clifford had stopped just long enough after his exit last night to telephone police headquarters — with a dime he borrowed from a passerby.

Eastern U. S. Digs Slowly From Snow

New Storm Hits New Mexico, Spreads Across Southwest

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Slowly, painfully, the Eastern United States, still gripped by an unrelenting arctic cold, dug itself out Wednesday from the worst autumn storm in its history. As it did so, a new storm hit New Mexico and spread across the Southwest.

The toll of storm-related deaths passed 220, and the cost in lost business and in the expense of snow removal ran into millions of dollars.

The cold, which ranged into the below-zero regions in some areas, had a cruel companion: the wind. It stung the faces of motorists trying to dig out from streets still littered with abandoned vehicles; it blew the snow's fine powder into electric-train engines and stalled motors, and it covered ordinary objects with drifting snow and turned them into strange, white shapes.

Other Side of Coin

As millions chopped at ice and shoveled snow, it was no comfort to read that in Moscow, normally one of the icebox cities of the world, the citizens were complaining because unseasonable warmth had ruined the usual skating and skiing.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York ordered out the State National Guard to help clear abandoned vehicles from New York City's snow-clogged streets.

In the Southwest up to 12 inches of snow fell in the high mountains of New Mexico, and snow was general in a belt across West Texas from the Panhandle to the Big Bend country. In the Flatlands the fall was generally six inches or less and in some places was mixed with sleet and rain. The big Eastern storm had started in the Southwest.

No Relief Seen

On the Eastern seaboard no relief from the subnormal cold was in sight, although some moderation was predicted during today and Thursday.

New York City and the other great Christmas shopping centers of the East suffered grievously from a lack of customers. New York counted the loss in several millions, and department store managements said they doubted they could recoup the lost sales before Christmas Day.

Home deliveries of milk, fuel oil and diapers were scarce, but deliveries of foodstuffs to stores picked up, and the situation was not considered serious.

Schools Half Empty

Transportation improved, although delays on railroads and buses were still expectable. Airports resumed full flight schedules, but delays were probable because some runways had yet to be cleared of snow.

Schools which opened Tuesday but were generally more than half empty, expected better attendance today. Some suburban schools remained closed.

The storm caused frenzied mob scenes Tuesday in New York City as homeward-bound commuters fought and pushed to get on the trains. The crush was so great at Pennsylvania Station that extra police closed off the terminal for a time.

Sam M. Lambert, director of the NEA's [illegible] said total expenditures will increase by at least $1 billion per year during the [illegible]

"The American [illegible] will [illegible] in the past 125 years," Lambert said.

Lambert [illegible] while the [illegible] passed [illegible] for the first time, it is still far below what a professional should be paid.

"The average teacher," he said, "is 41 years old, has had 14 years of teaching experience and has had 4.5 years of college preparation. In no other professional field will you find people of this age with this experience and preparation making such a low salary."

The [illegible] expenditure for pupils in average daily attendance is a national average representing an [illegible] of almost 5 per cent over the 1958-59 figure of $372 and 74 per cent over the $224.20 of 10 years ago.

The figures for the various states show a wide spread, from [illegible] in New York and Alaska and [illegible] in New Jersey to $217 in Alabama, $221 in South Carolina and [illegible] in Mississippi. In all, seven states are below the $250 [illegible] all of them in the South.

Requirements Raised

Since the 1950-51 school year, the number of emergency teachers has increased from [illegible] to [illegible], the NEA report said. However, during the same period the total number of classroom teachers [illegible] from 927,417 to [illegible]. Thus the proportion of emergency teachers has dropped from 1 in 12 to 1 in 17.

The report also points out that [illegible] many states [illegible] requirements [illegible]. Many of [illegible] who would have been fully [illegible] years ago now [illegible] only for provisional certificates.

California Has Most

[illegible] pupils, has the largest public school enrollment in the country, well ahead of New York's [illegible]. The NEA said 97.4 per cent of the [illegible] age group in California is enrolled in the public schools.

California also has the highest average salary for classroom teachers—[illegible]. The lowest average salary in the country is [illegible] in Mississippi. Arkansas pays [illegible], South Dakota [illegible] and South Carolina [illegible]

Last year 12.8 per cent of the nation's [illegible] earned below [illegible] a year. This year it is 9.6 per cent. Last year [illegible] per cent earned [illegible] or more. This year it is [illegible] per cent.

New Teale Journey Includes Our State

BY CLARA HUSSONG

GREEN BAY — Edwin Way Teale has been writing nature books for many years, and some of us have read and loved every one of them. His series of seasonal travel-nature volumes are perhaps the most popular, [illegible] they open our eyes to the [illegible] find the sights we see in various parts of the country.

Hussong

[illegible] from east to west [illegible] across mid-America [illegible]

"Journey into Summer" (Dodd, Mead) is the newest volume, and this will be especially interesting to area residents. From beautiful Franconia Notch in the White Mountains of New Hampshire, he sets out on the first day of summer with his wife, Nellie, on his journey [illegible]

[illegible] Sanctuary of Baileys Harbor.

Area People

[illegible] Emma Toft of Baileys Harbor, "a remarkable woman. . . .who had lived all her life among the wildflowers, the birds and animals" of this area. A whole chapter is devoted to The Ridges and the beautiful wildflowers which grow there.

Other nearby spots visited by the Teales were Two Rivers and Two Creeks, Peshtigo, Crandon, and Sugarbush Hill in Forest County, once designated as the highest spot in Wisconsin. More than a week's time was spent in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, and five chapters of the book are devoted to this area.

Across Plains

The summer journey continues across the northern Great Plains states, south to the corn and [illegible] states, and ends on the [illegible] last day of summer in a [illegible] among the pines and mountains of Colorado. Seen through Teale's eyes, every mile of the way is fascinating, even the acres of green corn [illegible] leaves all [illegible]

The book is illustrated with [illegible] photographs by the author, some of which were taken in Wisconsin. In my opinion this is Teale's finest [illegible] — most of all because you [illegible] too as you read it thrill with pride over the beauty of America.

Other new books of interest to adults and teenagers include two published by Golden Press: "Picture Atlas of the World," (a three volume set), and "The Story of Geology," and a paperback, "The World of Night," by Lorus and Margery Milne, a Viking Explorer Book.

The Atlas contains hundreds of maps, and many hundreds of pictures which tell the complete story of our globe. The illustrations are colored photographs which depict the various countries of the world, their geography and resources, the people and how they live.

Philip Bacon, professor of geography at Teachers College, Columbia University, is editor-in-chief of the entire set, and author of some of the text. You'll find [illegible] an up-to-date [illegible] of our far and near neighbors.

For Rock Hounds

"The Story of Geology" is for "rock hounds" as well as for those interested in the science of the earth as the geologist sees it. No rock collector ever found [illegible] con, quartzite, emerald, gold, malachite and dozens more, as well as fossil formations. Jerome Wyckoff is author of this deluxe Golden Book.

"The World at Night" tells what goes on in the natural world during the hours of darkness. Bats fly about, birds migrate, insects seek their mates and earthworms and moles emerge under cover of darkness on your home grounds.

In the forest at night mammals are on the prowl for food, in the jungles strange birds cry out and giant lizards feed on tree leaves, ghost crabs stroll along beaches at dusk, and the desert comes alive at night.

Good Roads Unit To Spearhead Education Plan

The Wisconsin Good Roads Association will spearhead a statewide public education program to dramatize Wisconsin highway needs and benefits of good roads to the state, according to Lester Palmer, Mauston, president of the Good Roads Association.

"We feel that 1961 is a year of decision, the year our state and national highway programs either are put on a sound financial basis or are allowed to falter due to inadequate financing," Palmer said.

State Highway Commission Chairman Harvey Grasse noted that the state is spending less than half of what should be spent to catch up with traffic on the 12,000 miles of state trunk systems.

The Good Roads Association is a non-profit, public service organization with statewide directors and membership. Anton Jansen, Little Chute, serves as a director.

Wiley Urges Special Attention to State Economic Problems

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Alexander Wiley, R-Wis., Tuesday called for special efforts by a congressional committee to solve unemployment and economic problems in northern Wisconsin.

In a letter to the Congressional Economic Study Committee, Wiley said that is is time for action, not study and contemplation.

He told the committee chairman that in recent years northern Wisconsin counties "have faced especially difficult economic problems that resulted in not only loss of jobs and economic 'drop-backs' but also a decline in population."

Wiley said he is hopeful that the committee will succeed in finding workable ways to halt the rise in unemployment in the area and reverse the economic down trends.

12 Filipinos In 4-Month Study at UW

Personnel From Government Office Sponsored by ICA

Madison— Twelve Filipinos, all experienced personnel from the Office of the Presidential Assistant, Manila, are in Wisconsin studying community development during the next four months.

They arrived in Madison Sept. 7 to participate in the program sponsored jointly by the Philippine government and the International Cooperation Administration (ICA).

The participants serve the Philippine government as Provincial Community Development Officers. They supervise the work of 30-40 field workers assigned to cities and villages of the provinces. They plan, direct, and evaluate the community development programs.

Formal Study

Representing all areas of formal study from journalism to [illegible] engineering, the twelve participants are Pedro A. Ga[illegible], [illegible] instructor; Benjamin J. Gre[illegible], Jose B. Delto, Leon B. [illegible], Fernando A. Nazareno, [illegible]esto T. Tejada, Clemente R. [illegible], Jr., Crispin M. [illegible], Vicente C. Mendoza, Mar[illegible] L. Llava, Jesus I. Ingeniero and Gardioso C. Sosmena, Jr.

The U.S. academic and field experience will total six months. Then the participants will go to Pakistan and India for further observation. The total training program focuses upon community development with the aim of increasing production and raising living standards in the Philippines through planning and working together at the village level.

While in the U.S. the Filipinos are attending classes and laboratories in public administration and problems of the [illegible] developed areas of the world.

[illegible] the F[illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] servation and [illegible] ly with Wisconsin communities.

Each government takes field trips with a representative from one of the state agencies such as agriculture, health, industrial development, or social welfare.

Group observations include visits to communities in Wisconsin which are in the transition stage or have completed the transition from a strictly rural economy to a rural-industrial economy. The Filipinos discuss with University Extension [illegible] the methods used in the [illegible] and the problems [illegible].

Field trips include the [illegible] Reference Library and [illegible] Services, Madison Vocational and Adult School, League of Wisconsin Municipalities, [illegible] Small Business Administration.

[illegible] community [illegible]. [illegible] Indian Reservation [illegible] Eagle River

Rules Adopted On Awards by School Board

Increase Noted in Scholarships, Thus Program Is Set Up

KAUKAUNA — The Board of Education [illegible]

Other Rules

The [illegible] of any award of $500 or more shall be determined by a committee chosen by the donor. If school members are included on the committee, they shall be in the minority. A student winning a grant valued in excess of $500 shall not be eligible for an additional award of money under the school scholarship and award program.

Established awards, such as the Elk Constitution, Kowalke and University of Wisconsin's valedictorian scholarship are not under the control of the school scholarship program and are given automatically by virtue of prior contests or class ranking. No scholarship award shall be paid before the student is actually registered in a college, acceptable under the terms of the grant.

The award, if $500 or more, may be paid in installments, payment contingent upon proof of satisfactory grades. Donors of scholarships may withhold initial payment until evidence is presented that a student is registered and in attendance at college. Scholarships granted by colleges will be given public recognition on class night when written notification of the award is presented the school to confirm the grant.

More Regulations

The donor of an award of $500 or more shall specify what share of the award is to be paid, should the student also receive a scholarship from a college he plans to attend. Since, at times, college scholarships are not announced at the time local winners are determined, college granted scholarships cannot be taken into consideration in making local awards.

Individuals making an award shall indicate clearly, during the presentation, whether or not need is a stipulation in the grant. Determination of need lies in the hands of the donor.

Since the number of awards has increased, terminology such as "the most outstanding" should not be used unless it applies to a specific field and the meaning and basis for determining "the most outstanding" is clearly identified. The Lang trophy, since it symbolizes the qualities inherent in the other awards, may be expected to be awarded in many cases to a winner of one of these awards.

The scholarship committee and or the donor may determine in a given year no award be granted due to lack of qualified candidates. A donor whose funds are [illegible]

Castro Regime Hinges Upon Cuban Economy

Senator Proxmire Tells KHS Students Need for Blockade

KAUKAUNA — Sen. William Proxmire told Kaukauna High School students Tuesday an effective economic blockade of Cuba by the United States and all other nations friendly to this country would eventually lead to the overthrow of communism and the Castro regime on that island.

In answer to other questions posed by students Proxmire felt the United Nations was doing a good job in handling some world problems. Although it had its drawbacks, the U.N. still was a vast improvement over nothing and had the potential to be an even greater force for peace in the future, he said.

Sen. Proxmire felt President Eisenhower was making the right move in attempting to replenish the nation's gold supply, but indicated the best possible solution would be to have prosperous other nations provide overseas troops and foreign aid such as this nation is doing. He also advocated encouragement of foreign investing in the American market.

The senator spoke on "Education in This Nuclear Age," and attempted to stress to students the importance of getting the most from every facet of their education. He told of the educational competition we are now in with Russia and said the future of America is in the hands of students of today.

Grade Pupils in Kimberly Set Yule Program

KIMBERLY—A Christmas program of vocal selections will be presented at 1:30 p.m. Thursday in the Kimberly High School auditorium by students of the public grade school.

The entire program is under the direction of Allan Leicht, vocal director. First grade students will offer "Away In The Manger," "O Christmas Tree," and "Jolly Old Saint Nicholas." Students from the second grade will sing "All The Pretty Little Horses" and "Christmas Is Coming."

Third graders will sing "We Three Kings of the Orient Are" and "Winter Has Come." Students in the fourth grade will offer "He Is Born The Holy Child" and "Merry Christmas." Fifth and sixth graders will [illegible] to render "Deck The Halls" and "Joy To The World." Concluding the program will be [illegible] "The Coventry Carol" and "Silent Night."

Removal of Blemish Depends On Degree of Unsightliness

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dr. Molner

"Dear Dr. Molner: My daughter [illegible] has a birthmark between her eye and eyebrow. It is tan and has hair growing from it. She didn't have this at birth but it appeared about four months later. Can this be removed, and if so, without scarring? Can electrolysis be used? —Mrs. C. P."

Birthmark isn't a very good term. Skin blemish is much better because few, if any, such blemishes have anything at all to do with the process of being born. Personally, I question whether there is any connection.

What you describe sounds like a hairy mole.

From the health standpoint, it is of little importance. Whether it was present, or was recognizable at birth isn't of any consequence either. It may have been there when your daughter was born, but not yet have acquired either color or visible hair growth.

Billions of such skin blemishes have existed and have never done the least harm to the possessors of them.

Depends on Appearance

In this case, the basic question is whether the blemish is substantially unsightly. With a girl this is more important than it is to a boy, although depending on the darkness of color, and the amount of hair I dare say there are cases in which removal might be warranted for both.

In the opposite direction of thought, there are parents who become too concerned over trifles, and worry about blemishes that nobody else even notices.

If I were you, I'd have my regular physician take a look at this spot, as much to get his disinterested opinion on whether it is unsightly as for a medical aspect that may conceivably be involved.

If then you find real reason for having the blemish removed, ask your doctor to refer you to someone [illegible] this work [illegible] plastic surgeon or dermatologist who specializes in this sort of thing.

The specialist will be best equipped to advise how to remove it, and whether in this particular case, electrolysis can be used.

Very Little Danger

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is it harmful to drink coffee or tea? Would we truly be better off without them? — Mrs. E. K."

No, I don't think we'd be better off without them. In moderate amounts they do no harm and in my opinion they do some good. In excessive amounts, coffee and tea can be harmful by causing nervousness, fast heart beat, palpitation, and sometimes digestive upsets. Some people are more susceptible to these side effects than others. The sensitive people are better off without them. For the rest of us, the mild pickup of a cup is useful and good.

Mongoloid Child

"Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain what a mongoloid baby is, and what causes the condition.—S. J."

The mongoloid is one form of mentally retarded child, having as physical characteristics sloping eyes, stub nose, high cheek bones and others which give the condition its name.

There are varying degrees of this. Some mongoloid children look almost normal unless you search for the signs. At the other extreme, some are hardly intelligible in their speech and are clumsy and awkward all their lives.

Cause Unknown

The reason mongoloids are born is not known. It may be a defect in the germ plasm or a glandular abnormality. It has been observed that mongoloids are somewhat more common among older rather than young parents, but young parents may have such a child, too. Furthermore, such a child can be born to parents who either before or afterward, or both, may have perfectly normal children. The cause simply is not known.

Bed-wetting is a distressing problem. If your child has the habit, write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper for a copy of my leaflet, "Enuresis — Ten Ways To Stop Bed-Wetting." Please enclose a long self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner is delighted to receive letters from his readers but regrets that because of the great number received daily he is unable to answer them individually. Whenever possible, Dr. Molner uses readers' questions in his column.

Young Mother Solves Baby Sitter Problem, Takes Child Skating

VINELAND, N.J. (AP) — An attractive young mother with a yen to go roller skating has solved her baby-sitting problem. She doesn't hire one.

Instead, Mrs. George Phifer takes her year-old baby, Mark, along to the rink when she and her husband go.

What's more, she lets the child skate. She's equipped him with special roller skates which enable him to glide around the floor with a gentle assist from mother.

Mrs. Phifer says Mark is the youngest boy ever to roll around the local rink.

Legion Told to Fight Apathy in America

Marvin Roth, State Commander, Warns Of Danger in Breeding Communism

LITTLE CHUTE — Terming the American Legion, next to the churches of the world, as the greatest foe of communism, Marvin Roth, state commander, urged Little Chute Legionnaires to help in fighting apathies in this country today which could lead this nation into communism.

Special guests for the affair were members of the village Kiwanis Club and Kimberly Legion. Lacking a sincere program of Americanism, Roth warned, a sick and apathetic nation breeds communism.

Citing examples he told of Castro in 1958 fighting the dictatorship in Cuba with a following of only 20 men. This was an apathetic nation and this hard core of Communists ultimately gained control and set up a ruthless dictatorship, said the speaker. Hungary and Czechoslovakia were other nations, mentioned by Roth, where a minority of Communists took over.

"Communism is approximately 40 years old [illegible] the communists already [illegible] per cent of the world [illegible] Communist [illegible] per cent of the earth's [illegible] is under communism. A [illegible] report set up 42 years ago by Communists, shows how this [illegible] will spread [illegible]"

Signs of Apathy

Roth cited examples of apathy in this nation including loss of respect for the flag, not knowing the "Pledge of Allegiance," [illegible] voter participation and not knowing our national anthem.

He told of a county community hall in Wisconsin which did not know and could not play the "Star Spangled Banner" during a [illegible] program and a similar situation where a high school [illegible] know the song. In both cases the Legion purchased music to enable the [illegible] to learn our national anthem, continued Roth.

The commander cited the lack of displaying the flag on national holidays, the way in which so many adults overlook church or Sunday thus setting a poor example for children, and racial prejudice as other signs of apathy. He urged Legion members to help eliminate racial prejudice, back religious education for the young and carry out other programs of Americanism.

Public Relations

Roth spoke of the dwindling of the public relations program of the Legion, explaining how people do not realize what the Legion is doing due to lack of cooperation by many newspapers in the country. He deplored adverse publicity given the organization on front pages while good programs were relegated to back pages or dropped entirely.

He told of the youngsters benefitted by the Badger Boy camps, oratorical contests, American Legion baseball, school award medals and other programs which get little publicity for the organization. Roth explained of the thousands of Boy Scout, Cub Scout and Senior Scout troops sponsored by the Legion, of the $8,000,000 spent on child welfare and yet, some lack respect for the American Legion.

Roth indicated most of his talk did not apply to Little Chute as that post had an excellent record of Americanism in its promotion to display flags, Memorial Day services and other functions and praised the unit for the fine spirit of cooperation received from the Post-Crescent on publicity.

Other Business

Post members voted to purchase leggings for the firing squad, agreed to investigate the possibility of purchasing rifles for the squad, completed plans for the children's Christmas party at 2 p.m. Saturday in the school gym and discussed the state and district bowling tourney.

Members went on record endorsing Willard Van Handel for the office of department vice commander, Erv Van Dyke, Ninth District commander, and Lloyd Belson, national committeeman.

3 Ice Rinks To be Flooded

KAUKAUNA — Flooding of three ice rinks will get underway tonight and weather permitting will be ready for use Saturday, according to James Gertz, recreation director.

City crews will flood throughout the night to insure a smooth surface on the ice. Rinks scheduled for flooding include those on Tenth Street, Green Bay Road and Lincoln Avenue.

There is the possibility of a fourth rink being located near the [illegible] in the near future. [illegible] will be [illegible] and warming shacks will be located at the Tenth Street and Green Bay Road areas.

Changes in Trial Courts' Operations, Manpower Distribution in Prospect

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Changes in the operations of the trial courts of the state and in the distribution of their manpower are in prospect.

The new County Court Reorganization Law will become effective in 1962, and elections for the new system of county tribunals will be held in April. The new legislature is required, under the terms of the reorganization act, to provide about $1,000,000 in state aid for their operations. It will be the first direct state contribution for the financing of the local judiciary.

Meanwhile a legislative interim committee is preparing to report some proposals for a redistricting of the circuit courts, the bar and the Judicial Council are ready to propose the creation of a state court administrator who would work as an agent of the supreme court and the Council is outlining a new program of collecting local court statistics to enable that administrator to perform his duties of judicial manpower assignment according to the load of litigation in the various districts.

* * *

Assemblyman Fred Risser of Madison and Sen. Lynn Stalbaum of Racine have been sitting in as legislative Democratic caucus obseves at Gov. Nelson's budget hearings—but they are not yet assured of seats on the legislative appropriations committee. The assignment of seats will be under the control of the new Republican legislative majority.

Both men are experienced in state financial matters. If the GOP allows only one Democratic senator on the committee, the Democratic caucus may ask for the appointment of Sen. Horace Wilkie, a close friend of the governor, to replace Stalbaum, who would then become assistant minority leader in the senate.

* * *

Republican state headquarters staffers have laid out detailed plans for technical assistance to members of the legislative Republican majority — including collaboration in speech-writing, publicity materials, research and the other essentials of the expected political competition with the Nelson administration.

The governor has an extensive and resourceful staff, and the Republicans acknowledge it and intend to prepare for it to the limit of their own resources. Key men of the GOP legislative liaison unit will be Philip Sellinger and Keith Hinsman.

* * *

The more the Democratic headquarters staff men pore over the November election statistics to extract crumbs of comfort, the more they are convinced that their reverses were not as serious as originally thought.

Democrats have long regarded as one of their major problems the invasion of some of the county courthouses. It has been a major goal of Chairman Patrick J. Lucey. This year, in spite of Republican gains in the state as a whole, the Democrats actually increased the number of their county courthouse elected officials from 114 to 125, a small portion of the total of about 500, but a better ratio than they have ever had.

* * *

State government insiders say that the University of Wisconsin internal dispute about the appointment of a new head of the University Department of Surgery is the most bitter and disruptive since the struggle involving the deposing of the late Glenn Frank, university president, in 1937.

* * *

Speaker-elect David Blanchard of the assembly is in a position to make his assembly committee appointments with a free hand.

Normally there is a contest over the election of the speaker in the majority party caucus and the winner is under obligation to those who backed him and shows his gratitude by offering key committee gavels as rewards. Blanchard is under no such obligation. It is already plain that some men who have expected leading chairmanships are going to be disappointed.

* * *

The committee chairman is an important fellow in the legislative process. He has considerable power, as well as prestige among the pressure groups that are dealing with his committee. He is able to schedule and reschedule bills at his wish, which means that he has the power to push or hinder pending legislation at his option. An important committee chairman who is politically ambitious has the opportunity to establish useful relationships with potent organizations and interests.

The nomination of Robert Marotz as chief clerk of the assembly is a manifestation of the report here recently about the desire of the Republican legislative majorities to surround themselves in the legislative staffs with men of political experience and usefulness as well as mechanical competence. In a state which has virtually no political patronage in the usual sense, control of the legislative payroll can be used to further the welfare of the party, the Republicans are recognizing belatedly.

* * *

Charles Manson of Wausau, the state insurance commissioner who was one of Gov. Nelson's first major appointments to high state office two years ago, is developing a statehouse reputation as a wit.

Manson was regaling the audience in Gov. Nelson's budget hearing room the other day with a series of quips when he suddenly realized that there was a press table behind him and declared:

"What I said was off the record!"

* * *

One of the leading legislative Democrats whose enthusiasm for the idea of legislative reapportionment may become more restrained is Howard Cameron, a state senator for a big northwestern district who lives at Rice Lake.

The pending reapportionment plan would knock him out of office and deny him a chance to run for reelection until 1964. The proposal would join his county with that of Sen. Robert Knowles of New Richmond, who has just won a new four year term.

* * *

The legislative reapportionment plan of the Wisconsin Towns Association, which would introduce a moderate area factor into the redistricting formula, is getting the serious study by some of the rural legislative leaders as they prepare for the 1961 legislative session.

* * *

Even accomplished speakers sometimes find it difficult to change their habits to suit changing environment.

Thus Francis Wilcox, the widely known Eau Claire laawyer and chairman of the State Judicial Council, who has been addressing courts all of his adult life, repeatedly called Gov. Nelson "judge" and "your honor" during the Council's executive budget hearing.

* * *

Questions have been asked about the chance that President-Elect John F. Kennedy may offer a federal office appointment to Atty. Gen. John W. Reynolds, who was one of the first of the ranking politicians of the state to back Kennedy.

The answer, according to reliable sources, is that Reynolds would leave his office only for a major appointment, which he doesn't expect to be offered. The attorney general likes his work and hopes to be able to remain in it for a considerable period.

The highway commission's new evaluation of the possibility of toll roads in Wisconsin recalls that the toll road commission established immediately after World War II technically still exists and could be reactivated — although it has not functioned for a dozen years.

Jack Lamers, Former Kimberly High School basketball star, has won a berth on the Michigan State varsity as a sophomore. He is shown with Spartan Assistant Coach Bruce Fossum, onetime Green Bay West mentor. Lamers has seen a good deal of action in unbeaten MSU's wins over Butler and Bowling Green. He has scored 11 points—sinking five of the only six floor shots he took and connecting on his only free throw attempt.

NOTES and NOTIONS

John L. Paustian

The devastating abruptness and finality of Marquette's decision to drop football (and track) was poor public relations—especially for a school that depends so much on the public for financial and moral support. In the face of steady artistic and financial gridiron decline, abandonment of the sport seemed the only solution to the powers-that-be. I submit that though it was the most obvious solution, it was not the only one. What the administration could have done is designate 1961 as a "trial" season. It should have laid its cards on the table—i. e., inform the public fully of the current dilemma and what could happen if the situation weren't eased. This would give students, alumni and friends of the university a chance to demonstrate tangibly their enthusiasm (or indifference) for football and give the administration a thorough chance to explore various possibilities for athletic reorientation. After the "weather vane" season, there'd be three alternatives for MU: (1) continue the grid program as before; (2) de-emphasize the sport drastically; or (3) drop football.

Fr. O'Donnell

Acting as hastily as the MU officials did is unfair to the players (especially seniors-to-be) the coaching staff, the prospective '61 opponents and MU's athletic-minded alumni. Influential alumni have already indicated their willingness to raise money that would cover this year's deficit. The Very Rev. Edward J. O'Donnell, MU president, made a big point of the $50,000 deficit accruing from the losing '60 season. That's a good chunk of money, to be sure, but since when can the value of any phase of a collegiate program be gauged strictly in dollars and cents?

Admittedly, as a person in close contact with athletics, I may be a bit prejudiced about the values of football. Yet, the sport is widely regarded as an integral, wholesome part of a well-rounded program. The thousands of high schools and colleges who sanction the game must feel it is important or they wouldn't continue it. MU, too, must have believed in football's values when it launched the sport in 1892 and retained it through fat days and lean to the present day. The game's attributes — for players and spectators — can't be measured solely in terms of the number of victories produced. The current over-stress on winning is reflected in one of Father O'Donnell's remarks. He said that with the recall of Lisle Blackbourn, there was "some likelihood of rejuvenation, but I regret to say that it has not materialized."

Blackbourn

Ivy League, COP Set De-Emphasis Examples

Blackbourn did a pretty fair job in only two years — and the record would have been better if MU officials hadn't burdened him with playing teams out of the Warriors' class. Many observers (including this writer) have urged from time to time that MU should drop its Big 10 foes and play a more realistic schedule. The decision to go "big time" with "Moon" Mullins and John Druze about five years ago was a mistake and no doubt contributed to the present difficulty. The annual crop of topnotch high school talent is not overly bountiful, and the competition is feverish. As an independent, MU had neither the resources nor the prestige to compete on an equal footing in the recruiting race. Big-time football is big business. Among the major schools, at least, the original concept of intercollegiate sports is long gone. But, that doesn't mean MU can't get out of the "rat race" and return to playing football primarily "for fun." The bill for playing a toned-down schedule would come to considerably less — there'd be no intersectional games, no big, "full ride" scholarships, fewer coaches, etc. College of Pacific has just announced its plan for de-emphasis (but not elimination) of football. And, the Ivy league has proven that a lot of interesting football can be played among similarly-disposed schools even though they're out of the big time.

Maybe, eventually, MU would have found it unfeasible to play intercollegiate football. But, after its long, colorful history on the "Hilltop," the sport was entitled to more of a chance to prove itself than it has now been given. Much of what we've said about football applies to track, too. As a fundamental sport that offers a chance

Senate Probers Call Carbo For Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate boxing probers called mobster Frankie Carbo from his prison cell for questioning today about his role as an underworld czar of professional boxing.

Carbo, a survivor of old gang wars, is serving a two-year sentence in New York on state charges of illegal undercover manipulations in bigtime prizefights.

The Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee reversed itself and decided to call him, after hearing testimony that Carbo for years seemingly held vast power to make or break a boxer or manager through his influence.

He was named as close to the top officials of International Boxing Clubs, which were broken up by the courts as a monopolistic group controlling the staging of championship bouts.

Gang Wars

Carbo, known to the underworld as "Mr. Gray" and as "The Southern Salesman," was involved in gang wars in which onetime beer baron Waxey Gordon and West

Detroit Ordering Tickets for a Possible Playoff

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions have ordered tickets for a National Football League playoff game at Briggs Stadium Dec. 25, just in case they're needed. The tickets are priced at the regular season scale.

The tickets were ordered at the request of Commissioner Pete Rozelle. If they aren't used Rozelle will pay the $1,000 printing costs.

If there is a playoff game in Detroit at Christmastime, the opponent will be the Green Bay Packers. Under options establish last week by Rozelle, the Lions and Packers will meet in Detroit if they are deadlocked at 7-5.

Plum Still Leads Passers

Taylor Only 88 Yards Behind Jimmy Brown

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Taylor, Green Bay's crunching fullback, now rates a chance to win the National Football League ground gaining title—something that has belonged to Cleveland's Jimmy Brown since he entered the league four seasons ago.

Taylor has rolled up 1,053 yards in helping bring the Packers to the brink of their first Western Division title since 1944. This is only 88 behind Brown, and each has a game to play.

Faces Giants

Cleveland's Milt Plum still leads the league's passers with a 62.9 percentage, is first in average gain with 9.53 and in percentage of interceptions with .05, having had only one pilfered all year.

The Packers' Paul Hornung continues to make a runaway of the scoring race with a record total of 165 points on 14 touchdowns, 36 extra points and 15 field goals. And Hornung is sixth among the ground gaining leaders with 644 yards on 150 carries for a 4.3 average.

Taylor has rolled up his total on 213 carries and has averaged exactly 5 yards on each attempt.

Packer quarterback Bart Starr ranks eighth among the passers with 90 completions in 163 attempts for 1,157 yards and two touchdowns. His average gain per pass has been 7.10 yards.

NEENAH — The Mid-Eastern Conference swings into its final set of games before the holidays Friday night with a card highlighted by the Kimberly-at-Menasha match.

Amazing New London, co-leader with a 3-0 mark, bids for its fourth straight conference win and sixth overall when it visits Shawano. Completing the bill will be Neenah at Clintonville and Two Rivers at Kaukauna in a battle to see who will vacate the cellar.

Although Menasha was upset by Neenah last weekend, it still ranks as a serious challenger. Friday's test will be one of the key contests of the year, especially for the Jays, who hardly can afford another loss this early in the season.

Battle of Centers

The struggle will match two of the conference's finest centers in Tom Rooyakkers of Kimberly and the Jays' Dave Ristau, who rank first and third in league scoring. The Jays lost three straight times to the Papermakers last year, including a squeaker in the consolation finals of the regional tourney. From their 1959-60 teams both clubs have three returning starters.

New London, as it bids for its sixth straight win, will attempt to shove Shawano deeper into the second division. Shawano has an overall 1-4 slate.

Just a year ago, the Papermakers won the championship and New London finished last. Now the two are deadlocked for the lead. For the Bulldogs the three conference wins are two more than they registered last year, equalled the 1957-58 to-

Marquette Rallies To Beat Wichita

MILWAUKEE (AP) —Marquette staged a great rally in the final half Tuesday night to come from behind and hand Wichita its first basketball defeat of the season, 83-79. Wichita had won four straight before coming here.

The Warriors were trailing at one stage in the first half by 17 points. They began to click, however, midway in the closing period, and overcame the Shockers' superior height by a fast break offense.

Marquette put the game away in the last two minutes on four straight free throws. The score was tied five times in the last eight minutes and the lead changed hands four times after Marquette got the lead 49-48.

Only Six Packers Have Played in a Title-Winning Tilt

Thurston Says Bays Possess The Needed Ability, Poise

BY ART DALEY
Post Crescent News Service

This is a pressure-packed battle—that tangle between the Rams and our Packers in Los Angeles Saturday afternoon. As Jim Ringo put it: "that's 22 weeks of work all wrapped up into 60 minutes."

Thirty-two of the 38 players have never been through this sort of wringer. Six of them have fought in a championship-clinching game— "Fuzzy" Thurston, Lew Carpenter, Em Tunnell, Hank Jordan, Bill Quinlan and Willie Davis.

Ability and Poise

Thurston, for one, doesn't think it makes any difference "to our gang" that they're playing for all the Western marbles.

"We've got the ability, and we want to win it. They can't stop us now," Fuzzy said in defense of those who never picked up a championship game check. He added:

"All you need is poise and we've all got that. It's like old times for Em, Hank and the others who made a playoff. We didn't have much poise last year. Well, we lost five games in a row. We showed we had poise in Chicago and out here.

The other five were all involved in the Eastern Division playoff that year between the Browns and Giants. Tunnell, not to mention Coach Vince Lombardi, was with New York; and Jordan, Quinlan and Carpenter were with the Browns.

Quinlan actually missed the playoff because he had broken a leg. "I got my money, anyway," Bill said.

Carpenter has been through title shots with two different teams

Xavier Rambles To Sixth Cage Victory in Row

Whitlinger Nets 16 in 74-47 Win Over Maryheart

The triumph over a 4-year school was the sixth win in six games for Xavier, a 3-year school. Xavier's smallest margin of victory thus far has been 13 points.

Xavier rolled to an 18-6 lead at the end of the first quarter and was ahead, 35-18, at the half. It was 56-25 after three stanzas.

Joe Ebben led the Hawks with 10 rebounds.

Xavier shot 40 per cent for the game from the floor to Maryheart's 26 per cent. The Hawks made 14 of 23 free throws, for 61 per cent. Pittsville wired 11 of 23, 48 per cent.

Braves May Be Seeking Boyer, Kubek

MILWAUKEE (AP) —The Milwaukee Braves were believed today to be seeking either shortstop Tony Kubek or third baseman Cletis Boyer from the New York Yankees.

Kubek, a native of Milwaukee, can play the infield or outfield. Boyer has played both shortstop and third base for the Yankees.

McHale added that he still was trying to get Al Smith, White Sox outfielder. He said, however, that the Chicago team wants one of the top Milwaukee hurlers for Smith and "that's going to high in our book."

[illegible] the squad during a rainy drill Tuesday that "this is a money game, let's go." He runs it out all over the field in his Virginia drawl every day.

Packer practices have always been high - schoolish in spirit. These this week are more so. If anybody drops an easy pass, the rest of the squad will let him know about it on the spot. The same goes for a good play.

Passing is Key

The Packer defense is making the offense work for every completion. The emphasis is on passing since the Packers' major hope is based on scoring a hatful of points. It is expected that the Ram defense will react to its greatest performance Saturday. The more-complicated offensive machinery is being oiled and fed.

Passing is the key and this is based on the assumption that the "two horsemen," Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung, will be averaging close to four yards per attempt or more.

Green Bay's aerial game had to be set aside in last Saturday's mud bath against the 49ers in San Francisco. Only 17 passes were tried in the first half. Bart Starr is expected to increase pass production considerably against LA.

The Packers, incidentally, received a late compliment on their performance vs. the 49ers. It came from 49er coach Red Hickey who spoke freely after watching films of the game: "Mud or no mud, we were outknocked both ways and there was no excuse for it. Unless we change, we won't have a chance against the Colts."

Ram Coaches Hope for Hard Charging, Tackling Saturday

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Green Bay Packers have one of the soundest ground games in the National Football League, but the Los Angeles Rams hope to upset them here Saturday and scramble the Western Conference race.

If the Packers win, they are divisional champions and face the Philadelphia Eagles in the NFL playoff. If they lose, there will have to be a playoff, with the Baltimore Colts, San Francisco 49ers, Detroit Lions and Green Bay in the picture.

Green Bay leads the parade now with a 7-4 record, but Baltimore, San Francisco and Detroit all are 6-5. Baltimore faces San Francisco Sunday, and Chicago is at Detroit.

On Defense

David, defensive backfield coach, said Ollie Matson, veteran ball carrier, will be called upon again for defensive duty. Matson's play against Baltimore was instrumental in crimping Johnny Unitas' passing.

Head Coach Bob Waterfield is convinced that the Rams are going to be winners in another year or so, but he is pessimistic about the Green Bay game. He says that quarterback Frank Ryan, ends Del Shofner and Gene Brito and tackle Lou Michaels are sidelined and that the physical condition of the team is the "worst it has been all year."

Middle guard Les Richter says Green Bay's strong running game, spearheaded by Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor, is working because of the great work of blocking guards Fred Thurston and Jerry Kramer.

"They're the best guards we've seen all season," says Richter. "Their performance last Sunday against San Francisco was the big equalizer in that mud. I don't want to take anything away from Hornung and Taylor, but they get going behind some really fine blocking. We want to spoil things for the Packers, though, because we owe them nothing."

Cecil Shorts Tips Martinez On Decision

CLEVELAND (AP) — At 22, Cecil Shorts is a young man in a hurry to reach two objectives he sets for himself: the world welterweight boxing crown and the big money purses available only at the top.

The Cleveland youth took a long stride toward those objectives Tuesday night by stopping Vince Martinez, Miami Beach, Fla., at 2:46 of the fourth round in their scheduled 10. He knocked the 31-year-old Martinez, a 6-5 favorite, down four times in that fourth round before the referee ended it.

"Shorts is ready for any of them," exulted the Cleveland scrapper's manager, Frank Ruskay, in the dressing room. "Don't forget he's already beaten Benny Paret, the champion." That was two bouts before Paret won the title.

Martinez weighed 149, a pound more than Shorts.

Don Dooley Again Named Team Captain

MADISON (AP) —Don Dooley, Waukesha junior, will again captain the University of Wisconsin cross country team.

Coach Tom Bennett announced at the team's annual banquet Tuesday night that Dooley, captain this year, had been voted the same honor for the next campaign.

Dooley also was awarded the Walter Mehl Trophy which annually goes to the best senior runner—even though he's a junior—and the Bill Goldie Trophy which is awarded the best runner.

Don Loker of Appleton received the team traveling trophy as the best sophomore runner and Rolf Nielson, exchange student from Norway, the trophy as the best freshman runner.

Cross country major "WS" went to Dooley, Loker; Jerry Smith, Hartford; Dick Miller, Oregon, Ill., and Brian Arcks, Black Creek. John Cotton of Appleton received a junior varsity award and freshmen numerals went to Nielson, Eidsvoll, Norway; Mike Manley, Milwaukee and Dick Peterson and Joe Pruski of Chicago.

Titans' Wismer Challenges 'Skins To Charity Tilt

NEW YORK (AP) —Harry Wismer, president of the New York Titans of the American Football League, said Tuesday night he has challenged the Washington Redskins of the National League to a charity game.

The Titans, holding second place in the AFL's Eastern Division, are coached by Sammy Baugh, former Redskins' star passer and quarterback.

Wismer, former stockholder in the Redskins, said he had sent the challenge to George Preston Marshall, president of the Washington Club, and suggested the game be played either Dec. 24 or 26 at Griffith Stadium, Washington, or the University of Maryland at College Park. Wismer recently sold his 25 per cent interest in the Redskins.

Spartans Regret MU's Dropping of Football

Warriors Had Moments of Glory In Long Series

EAST LANSING (AP) —There is genuine regret at Michigan State over the news that Marquette is giving up football.

Too expensive, is the explanation. Also, the Warriors have been in a losing slump in recent years.

Marquette has been a long-time and honorable football foe of the Spartans.

Marquette was the season-ender opponent for MSU from 1952 through 1955.

The last two games were sad ones for the Warriors. Michigan State won 40-10 in 1954 and 33-0 in 1955.

After the last game was played in 1955, it was pretty well understood Marquette would not appear on the schedule again.

Michigan State, a Big Ten power and Rose Bowl winner that season, had grown out of the class of the Warriors. But relationship between the two schools continued at their cordial best and they still meet in other sports.

Marquette had its moments of glory in the series. The Warriors won [illegible] in bitterly-contested games [illegible] in 1913 and 1928. The best margin of victory was a [illegible] win in 1942.

Lowly Knicks Deal Celtics Another Loss

Philadelphia Now Leads Division By 1½ Games

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics, who have been a power in the National Basketball Association since 1956-57, may not be coming apart at the seams.

But the world champions lost their second straight game to the lowly New York Knickerbockers Tuesday night 117-115, their fifth defeat in the last seven games.

Boston now is in second place in the NBA's Eastern Division 1½ games behind Philadelphia.

It was the second game of a Madison Square Garden doubleheader, with the Syracuse Nationals hanging on to whip the Cincinnati Royals 107-105 in the opener.

Syracuse now has won eight of its last 10 games, and remains in third place 5½ games behind the Philadelphia Warriors, who also put on a fast finish at College Park, Md., to beat the Detroit Pistons 116-108.

Plan Year-Round Village for Developing Olympic Athletes

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (AP)—A plan was unfolded last week to make development of Olympic track and field material a year-round, every-year proposition.

"Regardless of what Mr. (Avery) Brundage would like . . . the Olympics have become an international struggle for national prestige," Hugh Gardner of the Santa Clara Youth Village, said in outlining the plan.

"It's about time the United States acted accordingly."

Gardner, athletic director of the Youth Village, which has become a Western track and field power in regular spring competition, said the plan will operate "not only in an Olympic year, but every year. Our objective now is Tokyo and the 1964 summer games."

The mechanics to make the SCYV plan a reality involve the following:

1. A committee of track and field coaches to study U.S. needs and what to do to resolve them.

2. The cream of American thinclad athletes already out of school will be offered an opportunity to train under expert coaching for free and compete in leading meets.

3. A jobs committee composed of local area businessmen will give athletes who move here a means of livelihood.

Recount Results In New Sheriff for Vernon County

VIROQUA [illegible] Jetson will serve another term as Vernon county sheriff.

Jetson, a Democrat, was certified Monday that the official canvassing board recount result gave him 3,887 votes to 3,872 for Morris Moon, his Republican opponent.

Kenneth Curtis, chairman of the three-man board, said the board [illegible] to end the hassle over naming a sheriff was established after Moon conceded that a recount should invalidate 68 improperly delivered absentee ballots.

Curtis said 43 of these ballots were marked for Moon and 25 for Jetson but the end result of the recount was a victory for Jetson.

The first count left both men in a dead heat for the position with 3,882 votes each. The two men tossed a coin to declare a theoretical winner so a recount could be demanded.

Curtis said no question of fraud was involved in disqualification of the absentee ballots. He said they apparently were mistakenly distributed to voters by third parties but that state law requires such ballots to be picked up by persons concerned or mailed by request.

Parseghian Meets in Secret With Minnesota Viking Chief

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Disclosure of a secret meeting between Coach Ara Parseghian of Northwestern and the Minnesota Vikings' top executive left the Vikings embarrassed today and still hunting for a coach.

"I regret that Mr. Parseghian is put on the spot because he is under contract to Northwestern University," said Vikings' General Manager Bert Rose.

"It surely is no reflection on that school or Mr. Parseghian that we have conducted talks. We are seeking the best man available and will leave no stone unturned."

Parseghian could not be reached for comment.

Marquette hit 33 of 69 shots for a 47 per cent average and Wichita 31 of 74 for 41 per cent. Marquette out-rebounded the losers 46-45. The Warriors now are 3-1 for the season.

tal and unless they suffer a total collapse they appear well on their way to their best record since 1956-57 when they had 5-9.

Neenah vs. Truckers

The Rockets have the league's second best scorer in Paul Felton, who trails Rooyakkers by eight points. Neenah not only is tied with Menasha for third and fourth place but has scored and allowed the same number of points as the Jays.

Kaukauna will match its good defense against Two Rivers' superior offense. The Ghosts, although winless, have the second best defensive mark in the league but is last in offense while Two Rivers is fifth in offense but has the second poorest defense.

Bill Noffke Tops Major League With 655 Triple

She authored a 224 for Jacobson's Insurance. Guest House (26-11) leads by four games.

Honor threesome in the Appleton Coated Paper League at Hahn's was a 665 by Ted Jens for the Gophers. One of his games was a 237, another was a 231. The Wolverines (28-14) lead the circuit by three games.

Heading the pack in Hahn's Major league was Bill Noffke's 655 for Bassetts. One of his games was a 237. Jerry Eastman shot a 240 for Dick's Bar.

Also over the 600 mark were: Ken Falk, 225, 630; Bob Jensen, 223, 627; Jack Ahrens, 625; "Kat" Kassube, 616; Jack Burton, 605.

Ten Pin Toilers laurels went to Myrna Schoenhaar and her 519 for Neumans. One of her singletons was a 203.

Durocher Believes Conspiracy Keeps Him Out of Baseball

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Leo Durocher says he never was offered a job as manager of Los Angeles' new American League club and that he believes there may be a conspiracy among owners to keep him out of baseball.

"I'm not too much concerned with losing the Los Angeles job as with the general pattern," Durocher told Melvin Durslag of the Examiner Tuesday. "Somebody has put in a knock for me and I don't seem to be wanted.

"They may think I'm too controversial. I have never weighed my words. A guy like me makes a lot of enemies. When things were going good with me, I probably stepped on a lot of toes without even knowing it. These birds may be the ones now giving me the knock.

Durocher, 55, said that reports he and the Angels negotiated for the managerial job are untrue.

"They were just saying that to spare me the embarrassment, in part, of turning me down cold," said Leo. "They knew I wanted to come back to baseball. The Los Angeles team could have offered me any decent deal and I would have taken it."

Floyd Becomes 2-Time Winner Of Neil Award

Named Top Fighter of 1960; Brown Honored

NEW YORK (AP) — World heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson and veteran sports writer Nat Brown are the winners of two of boxing's most important awards.

Patterson, first man to regain the heavyweight title when he knocked out Ingemar Johansson last June 20, was awarded the Edward J. Neil Memorial Plaque as Fighter of the Year by the Boxing Writers Association.

Patterson became the second two-time winner of the Neil award, named in memory of the former Associated Press sports writer who was killed in 1938 while covering the Spanish Civil War. He won it first in 1956, the year he won the title the first time at the age of 21. Carmen Basilio, former welter and middleweight champ, was the winner in 1955 and 1957.

Handled Publicity

Brown, about 70, is employed by the North American News Alliance. He was boxing writer for the New York World from [illegible] to [illegible]. A former president of the Writers' Association, he handled publicity for some recent important title fights and did public relations work for Jack Dempsey. Brown won the James J. Walker award for "long and meritorious service to boxing."

The writers also voted special awards to Humbert (Jack) Fugazy, veteran promoter; Gen. Melvin Krulewitch, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, and Dan Florio, who trained both the oldest man ever to win the heavyweight title, Jersey Joe Walcott in 1951, and the youngest, Patterson in 1956.

Officers reelected were Barney Nagler of The Morning Telegraph, president; Al Buck of the New York Post, first vice president; Jesse Abramson of The New York Herald Tribune, second vice president; Nat Fleischer of Ring magazine, secretary-treasurer, and Sam Taub, veteran boxing writer, recording secretary.

Patterson lost his championship to Johansson in 1959 but made ring history by knocking out the Swede in the fifth round in June. Negotiations for a third Patterson-Johansson match have been proceeding slowly. No date or site has been announced.

Roosevelt '5' Visits Wilson

Unbeaten Clubs Meet Thursday In Frosh Loop

FOX VALLEY FRESHMAN LEAGUE

Thursday's Games:
Kaukauna at Kimberly.
Roosevelt at Wilson.
Neenah at Menasha.

The clash of unbeaten Wilson and Roosevelt Thursday at Wilson is the limelight attraction on a card of games matching traditional rivals in the Fox Valley Freshman Basketball League.

Big and talented Wilson has rolled up 110 points in two games—55 twice—in downing Neenah and Kaukauna. Roosevelt's lone start was a 70-39 win over Madison last Thursday. Wilson has allowed an average of 30 points.

Jurors Clear Patrolman In Fatal Holiday Crash

District Attorney Tells Coroner's Panel Police Need Not Use Siren During Pursuit

CHILTON — A six-man Calumet County coroner's jury last night exonerated State Highway Patrolman Mike Caraminidas, 23, route 1, Menasha, in the fatal Thanksgiving Day crash at Forest Junction.

The jury ruled that Caraminidas was driving in a manner "not criminally unlawful" when his patrol car collided with a cattle truck at the Highway 10-57 intersection. The truck tipped, killing the driver, Eugene Stebane, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Stebane, Forest Junction.

Caraminidas said he was using neither warning device and was driving faster than the posted 45 miles an hour in the area at the time of the crash.

Explained Statutes

Dist. Atty. Franklin Schmieder informed the jury that state statutes allow a patrolman the right to exceed speed limits while in pursuit as long as he operates his car with due caution governed by the existing circumstances. He said the statutes do not require patrolmen to use either warning devices until they have obtained an accurate clocking of the speed of the pursued.

The patrolman testified he had not obtained a clocking of the driver he was pursuing when he reached the Forest Junction community. Both he and the other driver, he said, reduced speed when they approached the populated area and the patrolman said he planned to take up the pursuit again on the open highway.

Caraminidas said he was following a fenderless, hoodless lavender colored car. James Wallace, 17, [illegible] S. Washington St., Kimberly, testified he owns such a car and was driving in the Forest Junction area Thanksgiving morning.

However, he said he did not notice any patrol car following and that he was sure he was not exceeding the speed limit. When he approached the Forest Junction community he slowed to the 45 mph limit and slowed even more when he noticed what he recalled as a milk truck stopped at the 57-10 intersection. He did not know of the accident after he passed the corner, he testified.

Schmieder instructed the jurors to take into consideration a statute governing the right-of-way at an arterial intersection. He said cars stopping at a stop sign before entering an intersection must yield right-of-way to cars entering it on the arterial.

Gary Stebane, 13, a passenger in his brother's truck, testified they had stopped on Highway 57 and watched the lavender car go through the intersection on Highway 10, the arterial, at "a pretty fast speed."

Neither Saw Patrol

He said neither he nor his brother saw the patrol car until the vehicles collided.

Caraminidas said as he came over the overpass west of the intersection he saw the truck stopped and felt, because it made no move to continue, the driver had seen him. When the patrol was about [illegible] feet from the intersection, however, the truck pulled out, the patrolman said.

Caraminidas testified he swerved to his right in an attempt to swing around the slow moving truck and started applying his brakes about 175 feet from the center of the intersection. He said he started sounding his horn at this point, also.

Sideswipe Angle

The vehicles collided in the patrol car's lane. Caraminidas and Calumet County Patrolman Victor Juno testified the patrol car and the truck met at a sideswipe angle with the truck's left fender colliding with the left side of the patrol car.

They said Stebane apparently swung the truck to the left at the last moment and the momentum caused the empty truck to tip and both the car and the truck then skidded against the guard rail.

State Traffic Patrol Sgt. C. F. Holmquist presented mathematical evidence purporting to show Caraminidas was traveling about 15 mph at the point of impact.

Lee H. Parker Elected Director Of Paving Group

Lee H. Parker, president of Parker Construction Co., 2015 N. Richmond St., was elected to the board of directors. Parker and the four new officers make up the board.

Other new officers are Al Koch, Milwaukee, president; J. L. Sullivan, Wisconsin Rapids, secretary; and Joseph Bonness, Wauwatosa, treasurer.

St. Bernadette Church Building to be Blessed, Masses Begin Sunday

St. Bernadette Catholic Church will dedicate its quonset house of worship Saturday and begin holding masses there Sunday morning.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Emil J. Schmit, of the mother parish, Sacred Heart, will bless the building at 1513 E. Cass St. at 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

Sunday masses will be at 5:30, 7, 8:30, 10 and 11:30 a.m. The Rev. Kenneth Barnes, O.F.M. Cap., of St. Joseph Catholic Church, and the Rev. Alfred Lison, of Xavier High School, will assist the Rev. Willard McKinnon at masses.

Around Home..

Traffic Lt. John Gosch has a cute little three-wheel black and white motorcycle. But Tuesday after traffic court, the lieutenant's little bike didn't work.

So, the lieutenant called for help. The police have a big white squad car. It came to help the lieutenant. But the big white car didn't have any towing equipment. There was clothesline in the car. It didn't work very well.

The clothesline kept breaking. At last sight, the lieutenant was walking along Morrison Street, pushing his bike.

Works Board Asks Meeting On Schools

Wants Explanation Of Requests From Board of Education

Representatives of the board of education will be asked to attend the next board of public works meeting to explain the [illegible] of the five-year capital improvements plan.

Works board members feel dates should be changed on some of the requests for new schools and additions so the city does not have too much construction going on at one time. The board was reluctant to make any changes without advice from the school men.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell told the board the proposed new elementary school on the southeast side and the proposed southside high school possibly could be postponed because of anticipated Catholic school construction.

Mayor Mitchell said the proposed new St. Bernadette parish school would help relieve the elementary pupil load in that area. Mitchell said he has heard rumors that a Catholic high school would be built in that area.

The Rev. Willard McKinnon, pastor of the new parish, said today he has not set a target date for completion of the parish school. "I wouldn't want to even guess," he said, "because so much remains to be done. It could be a couple of years."

The new church site is at the extreme southeast corner of the city, on the south side of Clara Street extended and at the end of Buchanan Street. The area needs water, sewer and streets.

High School Rumor

Father McKinnon said he heard a rumor about another Catholic high school, but "so far it is pure rumor."

In other business, the board referred to its next meeting a request from Ald. Ervin [illegible], chairman of the recreation commission, to hire consultant engineers and an architect for the proposed grandstand roof at Goodland Field.

Former Oshkosh Man to Conduct Own Composition

City Share of Utility Taxes Over $125,200

Other Fox Cities Units Get Part Of State Levy

Appleton's share of 1960 utility taxes paid by Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co. is $125,222. The tax is levied by the state on utility companies in lieu of property taxes.

Winnebago Share

Payments to other communities in this area are Neenah, $51,021; Menasha, $16,464; Seymour, $7,460; Hortonville, $2,089; Kimberly, $12,873; Combined Locks, $629; Hilbert, $1,462; Wrightstown, $382; Town of Grand Chute, $10,467, and Town of Greenville, $2,774.

Total payment to communities in Winnebago County is $92,775.

The power company also is one of the highest contributors of property taxes in Outagamie County. This year the county's share of the tax is $58,630, an increase of more than $6,000 over 1959.

Unlike other industries, which are assessed locally, utility property taxes are paid to the state, which assesses poles, wire, substation and gas mains.

The state's share is 15 per cent, and it distributes 20 per cent to counties and 65 per cent to communities.

This year Wisconsin-Michigan paid the state a total of $702,242, or 11 per cent more than last year, due mostly to new investments.

Not Listed on Bills

The state retained $105,036 and distributed the rest to local units of government where the utility owns property or does business.

In all, 12 counties, 101 towns, 12 villages and 11 cities got a share of the payment.

R. F. Williams, the firm's commercial division manager, commented, "Because there is no tax item listed on customers' bills few recognize that the tax is included in the cost of gas and electric service.

"About 20 cents of each dollar customers pay goes for taxes. We pay more in all types of taxes than we pay for salaries and wages."

Nursing Home Fire Forces 14 to Flee

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Fire in the attic of a convalescent home in the Town of Preble early this morning forced 14 residents to flee. Another 13 were able to remain inside.

The blaze in Bornehamm's Nursing Home, directly in back of the Preble fire station, set off an automatic alarm system at about 2 a.m. Firemen confined the blaze to the south end of the attic.

The single attendant on duty summoned Mr. and Mrs. Bornehamm, who live next door, to assist 14 persons out of the home. Some moved directly to the Bornehamm living quarters. Others sat in four Brown County squad cars that were sent to the scene.

Fire Chief Richard Panure said damage in the building would be slight. He said the blaze probably was caused by faulty wiring.

Divorced Pair Told to Behave Or Pay Fines

A divorced pair was fined and ordered to behave Tuesday before Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiege. They were charged with disorderly conduct.

Edwin Hoetler, 26, route 4, Appleton, was fined $100, but Judge Schmiege held $77 of the fine on the condition Hoetler behave himself. Elaine Hoetler, 2122 S. Madison St., also was fined $100, but the court held the entire fine on the condition she behaves, stays out of taverns and takes care of her son.

The couple was charged the afternoon of Dec. 4 after Hoetler called police and said he had been stabbed. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment of a small cut on his chest.

Police were told conflicting stories by the pair. Edwin said his former wife stabbed him with a paring knife. Elaine said she accidentally grazed his chest with the knife when he hit her. The incident occurred in her home.

Washington '9' Picks Woodling, Shantz From Pool

BOSTON (AP) —The new Washington Senators selected Bobby Shantz, Gene Woodling, Dick Donovan, Willie Tasby and Dale Long among the 28 men picked today from other American League teams. The new Los Angeles team picked Ted Kluszewski, Bob Cerv, Ned Garver, Eddie Yost and Ken Aspromonte.

Each of the two new clubs in the American League picked the required 28 players at $75,000 each for a total of $2,100,000. Each of the "old" teams lost seven players for $525,000.

Supervisor Takes Nomination Papers For Spring Election

He was first elected in 1958 when Supv. John Miller resigned because he moved from the ward and was reelected in 1960.

Man, 23, Denies Disorderly Conduct

Roger L. Magnen, 23, 709 E. Brewster St., denied in Municipal Court that he was disorderly shortly after 1 a.m. in Eddie ... [illegible] N. Richmond St. Magnen posted $28 ... until trial Friday.

Magnen became abusive when he was booked at the Outagamie County jail and had to be placed in solitary confinement, arresting officers reported.

Post-Crescent Photo

St. Elizabeth Hospital Staff elected officers at its Christmas dinner Tuesday. Seated are Sister M. Estelle, new administrator, and Dr. James E. Gmeiner, staff president. Standing are Dr. Francis M. Hauch, vice president, and Dr. Ernest N. Krueger, retiring president.

Tipsy Driver Fined $100

Osnkosh Man Drove Onto 41, Nearly Caused Accident

Lester L. Barton, 62, 1924 Mt. Vernon St., Oshkosh, was fined $100 and his driver's license was revoked for a year after he pleaded no contest in Municipal Court to a charge of drunken driving.

Barton was charged Nov. 9 after an Outagamie County patrolman followed his car north on Oneida Street to U. S. 41, watched Barton nearly cause an accident as he pulled onto the highway and saw Barton cross the center line and drive on the highway.

Barton registered .24 on the drunkometer. A reading of .15 is considered evidence of intoxication.

Weather Is Brisk, So Is Shopping

Christmas shopping volumes thus far range generally from slightly less than the record 1959 volume to 10 per cent higher, store managers said.

Brisk business is general through all parts of variety and department stores, with especially great activity in Christmas departments. Women's sportswear is selling faster than expected, an apparel shop manager commented. A furniture businessman found that people are buying fewer big things this year than last.

Merchants continue to hope for cold weather, and especially snow to help people get into the Christmas buying spirit. In other years, the week comparable to this has brought the most intense holiday buying. Monday traffic indicated this will be true in 1960, and a total Christmas season equal to or better than last year is expected.

Former Congress Member to be Buried in Neenah

Funeral services for Cliff Clevenger, 75, U.S. Congressman from Ohio's 5th District for 20 years, will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at Westgor Funeral Home, Neenah, with burial in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Clevenger, of Tiffin Ohio, was married to the former Georgeanna Tyler, formerly of Neenah. He died unexpectedly Tuesday afternoon.

Clevenger was born Aug. 20, 1885, in Long Pine, Neb. He retired from Congress in January, 1959. He was a Shriner and 32nd degree Mason.

Survivors include the widow, one son, four brothers and two sisters.

Assemble Wooden Soldier, Win Magic Pocket Trick

BY CAPPY DICK

Put the wooden soldier together and try for a prize!

Five boys and girls will each win a tantalizing, mysterious pocket trick called "The Skull Puzzle." This is a clever piece of magical apparatus that can be used to baffle almost anyone who doesn't know the secret, and most people don't!

The equipment consists of a tiny white plastic skull dangling from an orange-colored string which has a plastic button at each end. The string is looped into two holes in a piece of cardboard. It would seem to be impossible to remove the skull from the string and the cardboard without cutting the string or tearing the cardboard.

That's where your magic knowledge will come in handy. You will be able to free the skull without doing either of these drastic things. You can make the skull fall right into your hand, free of both string and cardboard, [illegible] will remain intact.

THERE'S NOT ROOM ENOUGH IN THE SPACE FOR THE OTHER KITTEN

Q. For months our two kittens have remained the same size with only their stomachs growing. They are now four months old. I would like to know what can be done. Catherine Brocklin, Pittsford, N.Y.

A. The symptoms you describe suggest that your kittens have worms. When a kitten is heavily parasitized, the worms take all the nourishment out of the food which prevents its body from growing. The worms will also cause an inflammation of the stomach and intestines which makes the abdomen swell and protrude. From your description, this condition seems to be pretty far advanced and leads me to believe that other factors, such as anemia or bone disease, may have set in. It is essential that your kittens receive immediate veterinary attention.

(Address your questions to Dr. Moller at [illegible] Manchester Road, St. Louis [illegible], Mo. He will answer selected inquiries in his column but cannot reply to them.)

Menominees Choose Seven Voting Trustees

Philleo Nash, William Trinke, John Beale Named Non-Tribal Leaders of Corporation

KESHENA—The Menominee Indians Tuesday night named the seven voting trustees who will take over assets of the tribe's 233,000-acre reservation when U.S. government supervision is scheduled to end next April [illegible]

Three non-Menominees and four members of the tribe were selected as members of the Menominee common stock and voting trust. They will hold and vote shares of the 3,270 individual Indians in the new tribal corporation, Menominee Enterprises, Inc.

The slate of three non-tribal trustees selected by an 83 to four vote at the general council are:

Seven Trustees

William F. Trinke, 61, Lake Geneva, retiring Republican state senator, a real estate man, and one of the leaders in the state legislature who helped secure the Menominee County bill in the 1959 legislature.

John A. Beale, 42, Madison, chief state forester for the last [illegible] and one-half years with the Wisconsin Conservation Department and a member of the National Committee on Forest and Land Use Problems of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Opposition Move

The four Menominees named as trustees are George W. Kenote, [illegible], Keshena, and Patrick Gruneau, George Peters and Hilary Waukau, all of Neopit. They were selected from among 20 nominees in a secret ballot.

Opposition to the move to select trustees centered on a delaying proposal by Mrs. Ella Bush. She quoted President-elect John F. Kennedy as saying that the Eisenhower administration in 1953 embarked on an Indian termination program "a plan [illegible] with [illegible]"

She claimed that the incoming administration, including the new secretary of the interior, Rep. Stewart Udall of Arizona, would be more sympathetic to Indian problems. Mrs. Bush asked that any tribal moves on termination be delayed until January.

'Go Away'

He also warned against a move by some Indians to liquidate the reservation assets. The forest which is valued at $75 million by the state dept. of taxation would give each Indian only about $6,500 in cash, he said.

Ernest Neconish, who spoke in the Menominee language, was [illegible] [illegible] "Almighty God [illegible] [illegible] I don't want the white man to take it away. I'm [illegible] The outsiders should go away."

Our Saviour's Church Has New Pastor

The Rev. Ralph C. Sandgren arrived in Appleton yesterday from Billings, Mont., to take over the pastorate of Our Saviour's Lutheran Church.

The [illegible]-year-old pastor attended the University of Wisconsin and Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill., before entering Northwestern Lutheran Seminary, Minneapolis. After graduation in 1950 he became pastor of St. James Lutheran Church, Columbus, Mont.

In 1956 and 1957, Pastor Sandgren organized Messiah Lutheran congregation in Billings, where he remained until coming to Appleton. He was president of Lutheran Welfare Society of Montana for two years, secretary of the board of directors of Lutheran Retirement Home, [illegible] of Billings, and a member of the Northwest Synod stewardship committee.

The Rev. and Mrs. Sandgren and their three sons, Paul, 8, David, 6, and Daniel, 8 months, live at 1117 N. Viola St.

Contractor Won't Pay Overweight Fine, He's Jailed

Floyd Acheson, 36, 217 N. Richmond St., an Appleton contractor, Tuesday told Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiege that he would not pay a $40 fine for a 3,445-pound overload on one of his trucks. Sixty days, said the judge.

Want Ad Information

Closing Time

Want ads accepted to 4:00 p.m. the day before day of publication. For Mondays—Before noon Saturdays.

Corrections or Cancellations

Want ad corrections or cancellations accepted to 8:30 a.m. for the same day publication.

IMPORTANT

After an ad is ordered, it cannot be changed before one publication.

When cancelling an ad, demand a "kill number." No claims recognized on ads cancelled without it. The number of days ad is published determines the rate of such ads.

Adjustments

All claims for adjustments or refunds must be made within 7 days after expiration of ad.

Errors, not the fault of the advertiser, which make the advertisement less valuable, should be corrected the first day, when one extra corrected insertion will be made without charge. The Post-Crescent assumes no responsibility for error after the first insertion.

NOTICE

The Appleton Post-Crescent is exercising all precautions to avoid publishing any fraudulent or misleading advertising. However, if any ad appearing in the classified columns of the Post-Crescent can be proven fraudulent or misleading, we would appreciate your informing us immediately.

Reporters Dislike Kennedy Kindness

Requires Neighbor to Feel Sorry For Plight of Men in Frigid Air

BY ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) —If reporters were horses the Humane Society would be filing protests against the next president of the United States.

For the hottest news beat in the country today is one that feels like one of the coldest spots on earth.

Makes News

From time to time Kennedy comes out, smiles cheerfully at the frozen reporters and maybe tosses some news—like who's going to be the next secretary of defense.

To get the feel of the thing shiver by shiver, let's bundle into all heavy clothing available. Thus fortified, let's try to decipher notes jotted down as visitors scurried in and out Tuesday through the now famous door.

10 45 a.m.—Arrived full of vim but nothing but icy stares from other reporters, some of whom had been on the job since shortly after dawn.

More Visits

11 41 — Feel really cold now. Rep. Harold D. Cooley of North Carolina, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, hurried up. Seemed sure the next secretary of agriculture should be from the South.

11 52—Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's news secretary, came up. "You tell your boss," one reporter said, "that anyone who leaves Palm Beach for this isn't fit to be president." "I'll tell him," Salinger said, grinning, hurrying into the warmth.

11 58—Paid first visit across street to home of Helen Louise Montgomery, who [illegible] a life-sized statue in the National Press Club. She's thrown open her [illegible] old fashioned front room and made it a press room.

Keeps Goodies

[illegible] to be so close to news [illegible], she even keeps goodies ready for reporters. "Have some candy," said Miss Montgomery. "It's called Mamie Eisenhower fudge." Had some of Eisenhower fudge. Tasty.

12 12—Back to the old stamping grounds. Salinger stuck his head out to announce there wouldn't be any big news until 3 o'clock.

12 2[illegible]—Both Bradley and Cooley are on steps, holding what appears to be simultaneous interviews. It's strictly South vs. Midwest, peanuts vs. corn, and it's fairly evident Kennedy is going to make one of them unhappy.

12 4[illegible]—Feet now so numb they don't feel cold any longer. Enviously watch Secret Service men, lolling in their car with motor running and heater turned up.

Emergency Visit

1 20—Pay another emergency visit to Miss Montgomery. "I'll have some coffee ready in just a moment," she said. "I feel down on my job."

2 17—Bobby Kennedy, the senator's brother, arrived. Usually a man of many words, Bobby said only, "Excuse me," and bustled by us [illegible] icicles.

2 22—Robert S. McNamara, the man whom everybody, including Kennedy, apparently had decided will be secretary of Defense, checked in.

3 00—Nothing happens. If Mrs. Kennedy is worried about what to give Mr. Kennedy for Christmas how about a nice watch?

3 18—Kennedy, McNamara both coatless, step out. It's official. McNamara's the man.

There was another visit to Miss Helen's where, alas, the supply of Mamie Eisenhower fudge had given out.

Fire Destroys Racine Building

August Christensen, owner of the building and the A. C. Christensen Welding Service, made the damage estimate. The building used as a factory during the Civil War to make [illegible] for union soldiers, also housed the [illegible] Gear-Machine Co. which Christensen also leased.

Christensen said machinery losses were about $25,000.

Fire Chief Rudolph Anderson said he did not know what caused the fire. He said firemen poured nearly 4,000 gallons of water a minute on the frame 40 by 200-foot wide structure. The roof and the interior of the building were destroyed.

Man Fails to Report Accident, Fined $25

WAUPACA — Harold Vanwork, 37, route 2, Oshkosh, was fined $25 by Police Justice George Whalen Tuesday for failing to report an accident Nov. 27.

County Police said Vanwork had removed his truck from the scene of the accident on County Trunk EE, south of Walla Walla Creek before an investigation could be made.

Charge Wisconsin GOP With Illegal Vote Distribution

MADISON (AP) — State Democratic Chairman Pat Lucey said Tuesday there were indications that Wisconsin Republicans have engaged in illegal distribution of absentee ballots "for a long time and in many areas."

He said Republican state chairman Claude Jasper's statements tended to bear this out and "cast doubt upon the outcome of many close elections in Wisconsin."

Lucey sharply criticized Jasper's statement that the practice of delivering ballots to absentee voters was "historic."

Lucey said many Democratic candidates this year lost by only a few votes by margins that according to the Democratic state chairman "could have been determined by the illegal ballots distributed by Republican workers."

Lucey declared that "Jasper's statement that this practice was 'historic' indicated that Republicans had been violating the law for a long time and in many areas.

"What Mr. Jasper and his Republicans are attempting to do is transparent," said Lucey. "They are trying to obscure the serious irregularities which have been uncovered in Vernon County. We have proof that several well known Republican party officials and the Republican candidate for sheriff, Morris Moon, took ballots to an 'almost pure' list of Republicans in clear violation of the law."

The official Vernon County canvassing board decided at Viroqua Monday night that Democrat Otto Jefson had been reelected sheriff by a 15 - vote margin over Moon. The Republican candidate conceded that a recount should invalidate 66 improperly delivered absentee ballots — 43 marked for Moon and 23 for Jefson.

The recount board chairman, Kenneth Curtis, said no fraud was involved in disqualification of the ballots apparently mistakenly distributed to absentee voters by third parties. The state law requires such ballots to be picked up by the persons concerned or mailed by request.

Lucey said the Wisconsin law covering absentee ballots is not complicated as Republicans claimed. He said the shut-in voter simply applies to the clerk in writing three days before the election and the clerk mails him his ballot.

Driver Gets Summons Following Accident

NEW LONDON — Damages exceeded $100 and one of the drivers was given a summons to face a charge of failure to stop for an arterial in a two-car accident about 7:45 p.m. Monday at Wyman and Washington Streets according to the city police.

[illegible] O. Lewin, route 1, Larsen, was driving south on Wyman Street, and Elmer R. Rohde, [illegible] Division St., New London, was going east on Washington Street. Rohde was given a summons to appear at 7:30 p.m. Friday before Police Justice of the Peace Paul Plowman.
